By authority of the Board of Directors of the New York Railway Company, and in conformity with the terms of the act of incorporation in that respect, the undersigned Commissioners on Stock Subscriptions give public notice for and on behalf of the directors, and of such company, that books of subscription for the capital stock thereof will be opened on Wednesday, the 28th day of June, inst., at the following places in this city, viz.:—
At the banking house of Duncan, Sherman & Co., No. 11 Nassau street.
At the banking house of the Bank of the Metropolis No. 31 Union square.
The Company is authorized to construct two Viaduct Railways or branches through the city of New York, on the east and west sides thereof, from a common starting point at or near Chambers street, between Broadway and Chatham street; also across the Harlem river and through Westchester county; with power to build additional lines of railway or branches, from time to time, in any part of the city or Westchester county. The property acquired by the Company is exempted from taxes and assessments during the period allowed for the final completion of the railway in the city. The Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of New York are authorized and directed, with the approval of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund to subscribe for five millions of dollars of the stock of the company whenever one million of dollars thereof has been subscribed for by private parties. This conditional amount of stock has been wholly subscribed for and taken by the directors of the company. On the completion of either of the lines of railway to the line of Westchester county the supervisors of that county are authorized to issue the bonds of the county to such amount as the supervisors shall deem expedient, to aid in the construction and extension of the railway in and through that county. For the proper equalization of the interest of shareholders who may subscribe and pay in moneys at different times the directors are authorized to issue scrip for interest on such payments, payable out of the earnings.
The terms of subscription will be as follows:—
Ten per cent of the amount of stock subscribed for to be paid in cash at the time of subscription. The residue to be paid as called for by the Board of Directors on a notice of thirty days, but no call at any one time to exceed ten per cent.
Scrip for interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum will be issued by the company payable out of the first earnings of the railway on all instalments paid on stock subscribed for within thirty days after the subscription books shall be opened.
The company reserves the right to close the subscription books at any time after the 29th day of July, 1871.
By order of the Board of Directors.
ALEXANDER T. STEWART,
JOHN JACOB ASTOR,
LEVI P. MORTON,
Commissioners on Behalf of the Company.

BEN BUTLER'S LATEST DEPARTURE—His desertion of his friend Dr. George B. Loring as the republican candidate for Governor of Massachusetts.

THE FEATURE OF THE NINETY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY—A three days' holiday for the school children, the Stock Board, the downtown merchants. But how the poor preachers all have to suffer over the Sabbath!

A FAILURE—Secretary Boutwell's new five per cent loan. The subscriptions to the Secretary's loan thus far amount to but $66,934,650, less than seven thousand dollars having been subscribed during the past week.

THE BOSTON Advertiser says the name of General Butler in connection with the Governorship of Massachusetts is "mentioned with apprehension." That was what has occasionally been mentioned in connection with the man himself.

THE RUSSIAN PRINCE ALEXIS, at the head of a splendid squadron, will leave Cronstadt about the last of September for the United States. His suite will be composed of the most illustrious youths of the Russian nobility—a very interesting item of information to American ladies ambitious of Russian aristocratic alliances and imperial distinctions.

DEPARTURE OF THE NEW YORK YACHT SQUADRON FOR CAPE MAY.—The fleet of New York yachts de tined to take part in the regatta at Cape May on the Fourth of July will assemble at the Horseshoe this afternoon, and take their departure soon after the arrival of the Long Branch boat at that place. Should the wind prove fair and there is enough of it the fleet will arrive at its destination the next day, and it will doubtless be welcomed in the most enthusiastic manner.

SO MUCH FOR THE COMMUNE.—There are sixty thousand workmen engaged in removing the débris and in rebuilding the places laid waste in Paris by the incendiaries of the Commune. To repair all the damages resulting to the city and its immediate surroundings from its two sieges since September last one hundred thousand men will probably be required for five years, and this will be something to the unfortunate Parisians.

A MOVE IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.—Commissioner Pleasonton has expressed his determination, in view of the decreased duties devolving upon collectors of internal revenue, to reduce their salaries accordingly. This is a commendable resolution; but the Commissioner can, without danger to the public service, go further, and discharge a host of useless tax gatherers, whose main employment has been to fatten upon the people's money.

WALL STREET AT LOW TIDE.—The Wall street markets have drifted into summer dulness, and on the eve of the double holiday of July 4 there is very little doing. The idea of making Monday a holiday, which originated with the stock and gold brokers, has been taken up by the downtown dry goods merchants, the Cotton Exchange and other departments of business. The Board of Education have also ordered a recess in the public schools from last evening to Wednesday morning.

KING VICTOR EMMANUEL, by a sort of flank movement, is moving upon Rome. En route he has been welcomed with a very enthusiastic reception in Naples, and will doubtless be received with a similar demonstration in the new Italian capital. As a son of the Church, however, he has a hard task before him in the matter of a reconciliation with the Holy Father, and we suspect that he is little afraid of it; but we shall see.

France—Her Difficulties and Her Prospects.

France to-day, in spite of all her misfortunes, still commands the attention of the world. The Longchamps review, so long deferred, has at last come off, and, most strange to say, the demonstration, so much dreaded, revealed nothing. Over one hundred thousand men marched past the President of the French republic and the members of the National Assembly who chose to be present; but we have no record that the troops demonstrated in favor of the republic, in favor of the empire, or in favor of the monarchy. All we know is that, under the personal command of Marshal MacMahon, they behaved well. Of all similar military demonstrations on French soil of which we have any remembrance the demonstration of Thursday last on the Longchamps race course must be pronounced the least satisfactory. The most that we can say is that President Thiers was not insulted and that MacMahon was obeyed. The result of the military review, so far as we know the facts, is a surprise to the world. The soldiers did not speak. The sentiments of the army are, therefore, unexpressed. The loan, however, has proved a still grander surprise. Many were of opinion that France was crushed and crushed almost to death; but, contrary to general expectation, the French people revea untouched resources of unexpected bulk and patriotism of disappointing power. We know of no loan in the whole history of the past which, from a national point of view, has been so grand a success. The review and the loan, taken together, seem to imply that France, though somehow badly managed, is yet radically strong.

The truth, in our judgment, is spoken when it is said France is a puzzle to herself. Dumas speaks out after a manner and in a style which show that in the son the father yet lives; but Dumas' letter, which we gave in the HERALD of yesterday, is the wildest wail of sorrow of which we have any recollection. He thinks of all the past, from 1789 downward, and seeing only fictions and failures he cries for a man. "Where is the man," he asks, "who will save us?—we want a man. Don't look so far for this man; you have him at hand; this man, it is you, it is I, it is each one of us. Be each one a man, and the providential man, the great man whom we always end by overturning and cursing, will become completely useless. How to constitute one's self a man. Nothing harder, if one knows not how to will it; nothing easier if one wills it. * * * It is not a question of the mass; let us see how to constitute the individual, for it is necessary that the individual that is the ruler of himself should rise out of this great tempest. The being self-contained and self-knowing, knowing whence he comes and whither he goes, what he wills and ought to do with his life and with the group of lives dependent on him, having his ideal and his absolute; the individual, in fact, does not exist in France, or at most is very rare. * * *" In spite of the much bunkum, the everlasting yeas and the everlasting nays of which his letter is full, we must admit that the author of "La Dame aux Camelias" has told his countrymen some plain and simple truths, and that President Thiers has done well in thanking him for his letter. It is not clear, however, that M. Dumas is himself at all clear as to how his country can be again set upon its feet. Then, again, Gambetta has been lecturing at Bordeaux. We have not Gambetta's lecture before us, but, from the rude telegraphic outlines, we must conclude that the ex-Dictator has his eyes open, and that his thoughts and purposes are even more patriotic than selfish. At Bordeaux the burden of his song seems to have been "education." In the interests of his country no man in a great public speech ever struck a nobler key. France is noble, spirited, gallant, brave; but Frenchmen are ignorant and priest-ridden in the mass; and therefore France is sold just as often as she gives promise of taking her place among the nations who are great and free. Let Gambetta cling to his new idea; let him accept any government which the masses of France demand; but let him hammer at this radical evil after the fashion of General Grant, and he may yet prove the savior of his country. M. Rouher also speaks out. M. Rouher is one of the ablest representatives of the defunct empire. But he does not despise the present government. Accepting things as they are, he only goes in for free trade. If M. Rouher finds a place in the Assembly he will make President Thiers somewhat uncomfortable; for Thiers, supple as he is, is a protectionist at heart. As we have said on more than one occasion in these columns already, France and the world anxiously await the result of the elections which are to come off to-morrow. The review at Longchamps has revealed and explained nothing. Expectation on tiptoe looks forward to the Sunday elections. The success, the unparalleled success, of the national loan bids us hope for the republic.

France has so often swung around the fruitless circle from the republic to the empire that it is difficult to decide how France is to come forth from this fresh struggle. The imperialists, as we all know, are full of activity. The Orleans princes are on French soil, and if report speaks truth they have good reason to count upon success. The republic for the present, so far as President Thiers represents it, is master of the situation. If President Thiers will only stand by the republic, and honestly accept the lessons read him by the success of the national loan, the French republic is secured, and the handwriting on the wall has been exhibited for the benefit of the monarchies of Europe. The republic can alone give France pride and that confidence which means power. If she goes back to monarchy, to divine right and priestcraft, or to imperialism, she will only stultify herself. Once more she will fling away all she has won and all she cares to call her own. If she clings to the republic she will do for herself what her ideas have done for Italy and for Germany; she will make herself strong. It was the strength of France that begot the idea of Italian unity; it was the strength of France that begot the idea of German unity. These two facts accomplished, France finds herself weak. She has made her neighbors stronger than herself. On the old monarchical or imperial tack she can no longer win. What she wants is a new point of departure. Let her go in now, on the confidence of this loan, if for no other reason, for the republic. A French republic fairly established will be the death-knell of every monarchy in Europe. Talk of the restoration of Alsace and Lorraine! Absurd. A republic in France, commanding, as there is now every reason to believe that it would do, the sympathy and support of the entire French population, the entire South of Europe would rally around it; the republicans of Germany would take courage; the Von Bismarcks and the Von Beusts, the Austrian Hapsburgs and the Prussian Hohenzollerns would tremble in their boots, and Paris might become the capital of the United States of Europe.

How France may act we know not. It is yet very doubtful. But France has the benefit of a glorious example. In her first struggle we, as a separate people, had only begun to exist. We cannot, we will not, forget Lafayette. We hoped for her and prayed for her when she first essayed in Europe what we had done in America. She essayed nobly, but failed. She has since, on more than one occasion, repeated the attempt; but success has not yet attended her. Let her try once more. The chances are all in her favor, and she has now, mainly through our success, the knowledge that republican institutions must at no distant day cover the earth. Of all the European nations she alone is in a position to lead. In spite of all her failures and many and grievous sorrows the oppressed of Europe look to her, and hope through her yet to win. If this time France fails France and the Latin nations are lost. If France succeeds in becoming a republic Europe will be revolutionized, and the dynasties will be nowhere. We wait; but we wait with hope and fear.

For and Against New Departures.

It is evident that both of the great political parties are in a similar fix as to making any new departure, except that a very large majority of the democrats have entered upon it with a rush, and only a small faction show any opposition, while the republicans are only just beginning to wake up and divide on the question. Some of the Massachusetts republicans are anxious to make a new movement, with General Butler for the leader, for all sorts of reforms. The Young Men's Republican State Convention, held at Binghamton, New York, on Thursday, declare in their resolutions that they propose "to form no new party, to take no new departure," but to hold on to the old organization and republican platform. The republicans will have to take a new departure, notwithstanding these young fogies at Binghamton, if they expect to maintain their power. General Grant and his administration will not be a platform broad enough much longer. The democrats have the advantage of being the attacking party, and will take any departure to win. Butler and his Massachusetts friends are more sagacious than the Binghamton youths. Looking at the political field all round—at the departures and no departures of parties and factions—we are likely to have a lively time all along till the Presidential election of 1872.

THE LATEST FROM THE COREA.—The despatch stating that Mr. Low, our Minister to China, is with Admiral Rodgers in Corean waters is no news. We have been aware of it for some time, and the purpose of his going we are also informed about. It is more than probable that Admiral Rodgers found out very quickly after his arrival that shot and shell were the only arguments that could be used at first with the Coreans, leaving the soft words of diplomacy to follow. The force of his argument we have heard of, and we have but little doubt that its effect will be telling in the future. He has opened the road in a proper manner for negotiations, and now there may be a chance for Mr. Low to accomplish the purpose of his mission, and carry on negotiations that will lead to a treaty whereby American seamen will be protected and cared for should they be unfortunate enough to be wrecked upon the inhospitable shores of the Corea.

HARD CONUNDRUMS—Those propounded to the republican party of New York at the Young Men's Republican Peace Convention, at Binghamton, the other day, by General Van Wyck, viz.:—"Why are we divided? Who will answer to the nation? Why are we not united? Who can make reply? Is there any question of principle at issue? Is there any division in matters of legislation? Are we not a unit? and if not, why not? Why is brother arrayed against brother? Why are time-honored republicans ostracized? Why are our batteries turned against our own ranks? Why has there grown up a party for Paul and a party for Apollos? Why is it that new shibboleths are to be introduced?" And so on, and so on. We can't tell. These are too many hard questions for one sitting. If the inquiring reader, however, cannot obtain the desired information from "Boss Tweed" or Mr. Greeley, let him apply at Long Branch, to Collector Murphy, for Murphy knows all about it.

GOVERNOR WALKER, of Virginia, is no respecter of persons, but evinces a determination to mete out justice to all classes alike, whether black or white. Yesterday he gave mortal offence to a large portion of the citizens of Prince George county, who had assembled to witness the execution of two negroes, convicted of the murder of Charles Friend, of that county. The testimony implicating the condemned in the crime was very slight, and there being a reasonable doubt of their guilt, Governor Walker granted them a respite for thirty days. This exhibition of clemency on the part of the Governor was not relished by a majority of the crowd present, who firmly credited the guilt of the accused and were clamorous for their execution.

NATIONAL ISSUES.—John Quincy Adams has written another letter to a Southern gentleman, in which a comprehensive review of national questions is given and a little further advice offered to the Southern democracy. We are inclined to think, however, that the letter is calculated to furnish heavier ammunition to the republicans than to the democrats. The distemper of letter writing does not seem to have been confined to the early fathers of the republic.

BALANCES IN THE TREASURY.—Currency, $6,250,000; coin, $94,500,000; coin certificates, $18,752,000. A good reserve fund; but still the question may be asked, what does the Secretary want with so much idle gold?

Dumas on the Needs of France.

The letter of Alexandre Dumas, printed in yesterday's HERALD, is a remarkable document. Unlike the epistles of Victor Hugo, it breathes a life which is its own—it emits a heat which is not all flame. Throughout it is a faithful exposition of its opening words:—"I have been to Versailles to see; to see is to know; to know is to foresee." Pungent as it is in its review of the past, strikingly as it deals with the fictions of the last eighty years, wonderfully as it portrays the "sudden hatchings of unforeseen, incomprehensible phenomena, gigantic ephemera, colossal phantasmagoria, which come in a moment to gesticulate, to utter a cry and die on a background reddened by fire and blood," it is not less pungent, striking and wonderful in its grasp of the present, in its suggestions of the needs of the future.

That is a terrible sentence in which he says:—"When M. Thiers asks for twenty-four hours of reflection before declaring war against Prussia we call him a Prussian, and wish to pull down his house, and when we are beaten we elect him in twenty-six departments, and when his house is really demolished we vote a million to rebuild it; and now that he has saved us we ask how we shall be able best to get rid of him." And that which follows it is not less marvellous in the truth it conveys, the terror it inspires:—"And we let thirty thousand of our sons be slain for the pleasure of Gandissari, which is hard; and we pay five milliards for a phrase of M. Favre, which is dear; and we accuse Trochu of treason because he was not willing to make us exterminate ourselves, which is mad." And yet this man who sees the fact so clearly declares without reserve, "We are all more or less republicans at heart, and we cannot help exclaiming, in the presence of this ideal, the republic, as the singer Camille said upon the scaffold as he pointed to his forehead, 'Nevertheless, there was something there.'" Of the providential man France needs to save it he exclaims, "It is you, it is I, it is each one of us." France needs a man truly, and M. Dumas has discovered him, if the French can recognize him and say with this distinguished son of a distinguished father, "It is you, it is I, it is each one of us."

THE POLARIS, Captain Hall, bound for the North Pole, left our waters on Thursday evening last at seven o'clock. She will stop en route at St. Johns, Newfoundland, for a supply of fresh seal oil, which takes the place of salt junk in the Arctic regions. Captain Hall will then push forward to his winter quarters in the ice pack which fringes the unexplored open sea around the Pole, and with the return of the sun in May next he will endeavor, by ship or by sledges, to reach the Pole itself and plant thereon the "Stars and Stripes." If there is an island around the Pole he will annex it; if "Captain Symmes' Hole" is there, leading into the interior of the earth, he will probably go in. Whatever it may be and whatever may be there, we rely upon Captain Hall to reach the North Pole, and

In one or two years,
Or three at the most,

we expect he will return in triumph from his bold and hazardous undertaking.

GREECE AND TURKEY are reconciled. This announcement is not a very important one, considering the fact that Greece and Turkey have fallen out ever so many times, the quarrel invariably ending in an apology on the part of Greece. The difficulty now amicably settled arose in the following manner:—The Greek government inquired of the Sublime Porte whether a certain Greek diplomatist, whom his antecedents prove to have been very unfriendly to Turkey, would be agreeable to the Sultan as the representative of Greece at Constantinople. The Sultan said, "No; by no means." In spite of this reply the Greek government sent the diplomatist aforesaid to Constantinople, when the Sultan naturally refused to see him, which led to a war of words and to the present reconciliation.

TRIBULATION OF THE SAINTS.—Brigham Young must become the recipient of a "new revelation" if he would be comfortable among the hordes of Gentiles who have so suddenly invaded his mountain-walled paradise. Evidently government officials will give him no peace until he lays aside his assumed authority and conducts himself as becomes a citizen of the United States. Brigham thought to try the temper of Territorial authorities by ordering out the Mormon militia for parade on the Fourth. This being in direct violation of the proclamation of the late Governor Shaffer, acting Governor Black audaciously snubs the President of the Mormon Church by forbidding the assembling of the saintly militia, and gives Brigham to understand that he had better abstain from playing President in future.

MUSIC IN THE CITY HALL PARK was inaugurated yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large concourse of people. The musicians' stand was draped with American flags by request of the Mayor, and the incident produced a sensation among the multitude. We learn that the music on the Battery on Friday afternoons will hereafter be continued as usual, and Wednesdays be devoted to sweet strains in the City Hall Park. This is well. Our people love music. The Park Commissioners should give them plenty of it.

THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT has already taken the initiatory steps toward the fulfilment of the Treaty of Washington. Our latest cable despatch on this head says that Halifax will cease to be a naval rendezvous, and that the British North American fleet is to be considerably reduced, in view of the fact that the greater part of its occupation—viz., that of catching Yankee trespassers—is fofever gone.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.

First Assistant Engineer Frederick G. McKean, detached from the Bureau of Steam Engineering and ordered to the Ashuelot, in the Atlantic Fleet, and William S. Smith, from the Norfolk Navy Yard and ordered to the Monocacy.

Second Assistant Engineer Jabez Burchard is detached from Leage Island and ordered to the Ashuelot.

The United States steamer Swatara, Captain Allen, arrived at St. Thomas from Samana Bay, on the 15th ult. She took the balance of the coal at St. Thomas, and returned to Samana about the 23d. One man died on board on the 16th ult., named Samuel S. Smith, seaman, of disease of the kidneys. He was buried in the Roman Catholic churchyard at St. Thomas.

LONG BRANCH.

Return of the President—Renewed Activity Among the Visitors and the Bluefish—Delightful Weather.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., June 30, 1871.

The arrival of the President here this evening has awakened into life the dormant energies of the place. He came by the Jesse Hoyt, accompanied by General Porter and Frederick Grant, having spent a few hours in New York en route from Washington. The President seems to have a great dislike for the Plymouth Rock, the favorite of the "Prince of Erie," which is a floating "aviary and music box," as she never comes comes down from the city on her. The Jesse Hoyt is a plainer and a faster boat. Perhaps the last consideration weighs heaviest in the scale of President Grant's preference.

There were more carriages at the depot and more life on Ocean avenue this evening than I have observed since the President's departure—owing to his arrival, I suppose.

It is a curious fact that each time General Grant arrives, after an absence of a few days, the bluefish rush in upon the beach. They came in large numbers when he returned from Washington the last time, and to-night they lashed their tails in high glee among the breakers.

The weather here is magnificent now. The days are warm and the nights delightfully cool.

There are numerous arrivals to-night, and a great crowd of people is expected here to-morrow.

Personal Intelligence.

Count Turenne, Secretary of the French Legation, yesterday arrived at the Albemarle Hotel.

General F. D. Sewell, of Washington, has taken quarters at the Grand Central.

General Reeve, of the United States Army, is sojourning at the Astor House.

General R. Pratt, of Salt Lake City, is at the Madison Avenue Hotel.

Professor J. Hilyard, of Washington, is at the Astor House.

Miss Nilson is again at the Everett House.

Indian Commissioner General Eli S. Parker is at the Gilsey House. He is to start to-day for Schooley's Mountain, where he will remain for some weeks to recruit his health.

Paymaster Cochran, of the United States Navy, is quartered at the Honman House.

General William Risbon, of Albany, is at the Sturtevant House.

George M. Pullman, of Chicago, is residing at the Brevoort House.

Judge H. L. Lester, of Saratoga Springs, is at the Gilsey House.

General W. A. Quarls and J. E. Bailey, of Tennessee, have taken quarters at the St. Nicholas.

J. R. Wassam, of the United States Army, is at the Grand Central.

General J. L. Neagle, of Columbia, S. C., is domiciled at the St. Nicholas.

Generals John M. Corse and J. H. Ledlie, of Chicago, are at the Gilsey House.

J. H. Ramsey, of Albany, is registered at the Fifth Avenue.

General Hunter, of the United States Army, is quartered at the St. Nicholas.

General William Cass, of Pennsylvania, nephew of Lewis Cass, and a prominent political leader, is at the Grand Hotel.

Joe Jefferson is again at the Fifth Avenue.

Governor J. L. Gibbs, of Washington, is residing at the Gilsey House.

President Grant and Secretary Boutwell stopped at the Fifth Avenue Hotel for a short time yesterday. The former, while en route to Long Branch, and the latter to his home in Massachusetts.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

OLYMPIC.—THE SYMONS BENEFIT.—A very interesting theatrical performance took place on Thursday afternoon at this theatre, the proceeds being given to the family of the late business manager of the Olympic. There was a remarkably full house and about fifteen hundred dollars were realized. There were three pieces on the bill, the comedietta of "Delicate Ground" finding intelligent interpreters in Miss Grace Rawlinson, Neil Warner and Bert Conway; Jefferson giving a specimen of his inimitable powers as Mr. Golightly in "Lend Me Five Shillings," and George Fox being funny in the extreme in "State Secrets." Mrs. Oates also sang "L'Arditi Waltz," and a medley from "Little Faust" for an encore. The dramatic profession was largely represented among the audience, and Mr. John Duff, to whose exertions much of the success of the benefit may be attributed, was present with his entire family.

Matinees To-Day.

Matinee performances will be given at the following theatres:—Wallack's, "Long Strike;" Daly's Fifth Avenue, "Delmonico's;" Booth's, "Man o' Airlie;" Olympic, "Kathleen Mavourneen;" Niblo's, "Colleen Bawn;" Wood's Museum, "Humpty Dumpty;" Globe, "Streets of New York;" Tony Pastor's, "The Dumb Boy of Manchester;" San Francisco Hall, "City of Paris."

Metropolitan Notes.

Hall's burlesque company will try a short season at Bryant's.

Wagner's New York orchestra will furnish music for the Grand Union Hotel, Saratoga, during the summer.

Messrs. Cole and Baker are to be the lessees of the Grand Opera House for the coming season. "Narcisse," with Bandmann, will be the opening piece.

Those bright particular stars of the burnt cork profession, Unsworth and Eugene, are in town, "looking as well and hearty as ever they did in their lives."

Mr. J. A. Zimmerman is meeting with deserved success in his managerial enterprise at Niblo's. The "Colleen Bawn," with its present cast, is likely to have a long run.

Rose and Harry Watkins, the clever and popular artists now performing at the Olympic, will appear next week in the drama of "Under Two Flags." In August the fall season will open with one of the grandest sensations ever placed on the metropolitan stage.

According to some of our veracious contemporaries Miles, Kellogg and Nilsson are both making fabulous fortunes. The former is credited with the purchase this year of half a hundred summer residences, while the latter is reported to have purchased 176 lots of different sizes, at an aggregate value of $23,675,842, besides eighteen or nineteen where the paragraphist has omitted to publish the price.

EXTENSIVE FIRE IN WEST FIFTY-SECOND STREET.

Burning of the New York Moulding and Planing Mill.

Shortly after seven o'clock last evening the night watchman employed in the extensive moulding and planing mill of Messrs. A. T. Serrell & Son, situate Nos. 221, 223 and 225 West Fifty-second street, discovered smoke issuing from the boiler room on the basement floor. After all attempts to put out the fire had proved useless he gave the alarm, which promptly brought the firemen to the scene; but by this time the fire had gained rapid headway and enveloped the building in one sheet of fire. It was five stories high and about forty feet front by eighty-five feet deep, and was entirely destroyed, nothing remaining but the front wall. The building, machinery and stock were owned by Messrs. Serrill & Son, who sustained loss to the amount of $55,000, being $25,000 on building, $15,000 on stock and $15,000 on machinery; insured for $30,000. Fire Marshal Thomas McSpedon was on hand, ascertaining all particulars necessary to discover the origin of the fire.

HEALTH OF KEY WEST.

Rumors of Yellow Fever at Key West Unfounded.

KEY WEST, Fla., June 30, 1871.

The reported appearance of yellow fever at Key West is wholly unfounded. The island was never in a more healthful condition than at present, little or no sickness of any character prevailing. As for yellow fever, not a case has been reported this season, and every care is used to prevent its introduction from infected ports.

WESTERN ROUGHS.

Jem Mace Accepts O'Baldwin's Challenge—Mace to Train in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, June 30, 1871.

Mace has accepted O'Baldwin's challenge offering to fight him for any amount from $2,500 to $10,000. Mace is willing to give O'Baldwin his own time, but prefers that the fight should occur near New Orleans. Mace will probably train under Tom Allen, near St. Louis. Tom Kelly is mentioned as O'Baldwin's trainer. Allen will put up $1,000 on Mace.

WASHINGTON.

The Boutwell-Pleasonton Imbroglio.

Great Falling Off in Internal Revenue Receipts.

WASHINGTON, June 30, 1871.

Public Debt Statement.

The public debt statement, it is expected, will to-morrow show a very handsome reduction of the public debt during the month of June. For the corresponding month of last year it was $20,000,000. The reduction in internal revenue receipts will diminish the funds to the credit of the Treasury several millions, but a large reduction is nevertheless anticipated in the statement to be made to-morrow.

The Boutwell-Pleasonton Imbroglio.

It is stated that when yesterday Commissioner Pleasonton represented to the President the differences between Secretary Boutwell and himself, and stated his own view of the law and practice in connection with the administration of the affairs of the Internal Revenue Bureau, the President said rather than directly interfere in the matter he preferred that these gentlemen, being his personal friends, should come together and adjust their differences. He also advised Commissioner Pleasonton, as the subordinate officer, to call upon Secretary Boutwell with that intention. Mr. Pleasonton did so, and had with the Secretary a long interview. The Secretary stated during the conversation that the country held him responsible for all moneys disbursed by the Treasury Department; therefore every contract for the payment of money should be made under his direction and with his approval, and decisions, also, involving the credit and character of the department, should be under his supervision. In order to collect the revenues it was proper that this power and author ty should be in the hands of the Secretary in view of his responsibilities.

Commissioner Pleasonton spoke of his own duties and responsibilities under the law and the powers pertaining to his office, denying the right of the Secretary to hear appeals from his decisions, as under the law the remedy lay in the courts, and replying to the Secretary's premises.

Information having reached here from New York to the effect that a report is in circulation in that city that Commissioner Pleasonton has resigned, it is proper to state that such is not the case. General Pleasonton is to-day attending to his duties as usual.

Unadjusted War Claims—Beauties of the Red Tape System.

The law authorizing the repayment to States of amounts expended for arming and equipping volunteers during the late rebellion expired to-day. As might be expected, the States having unsettled claims were exceedingly anxious to push them through in time to secure warrants for the payments of sums claimed. Connecticut got its final claim through, amounting to $155,000. Kentucky, some time since, through its agent, filed a claim for money expended in arming and equipping troops used solely as Home Guards. The Second Comptroller refused to pass the account on the ground that at no time had Home Guards been recognized by the Treasury Department as volunteers. The subject was referred to the War Department, but owing to the absence of General Sherman an opinion upon the services rendered by the Home Guards could not be ascertained. General Sherman, however, a few days since expressed his opinion that the Kentucky Home Guards did as good service as any troops put in the field, and he was a personal witness of their efficiency in protecting his rear while in command of the Department of Kentucky. On the strength of this endorsement the Secretary of War signed the requision for the payment of the claim, amounting to $525,000. The Second Comptroller also affixed his signature, and in the absence of the Third Auditor, the Chief Clerk, who is authorized to act as Auditor, affixed his signature. The requisition was then presented to Mr. Conant, Chief of the Warrant Division, Treasury Department, who took exceptions to the signature of Mr. Gangwer, and, although a clerk, presumed to question the validity of the signature of the Acting Auditor, on the ground that Mr. Rutherford, the Auditor, was himself in the city. The possibility of the State losing the payment of a just debt by a mere red tape quibble excited the representative of the State, and he was at a loss to know how such a ponderous machine as the Treasury department could be so delicately affected by the mere fact that the Third Auditor had received a short leave of absence on the last day of the fiscal year. It is now doubtful whether the State of Kentucky will get a cent for its expenditures, notwithstanding the validity of the claim, sanctioned as it was by every officer of the government that has heretofore made the claims of Northern States good.

Failure of the New Loan.

The amount of subscriptions to the new loan to date is $66,934,650. Of this less than $6,000,000 was received during the past month. For a week past not more than $7,000 has been subscribed. The Secretary does not entertain now as strong hopes for the success of the five per cents as he did at first.

Receipts from Customs and Internal Revenue.

The receipts from Customs for the past year exceeds by $10,000,000 the receipts for the previous fiscal year. The receipts from internal revenue were, for the year just closed to-day, about $145,000,000. For the ensuing year they are estimated at $120,000,000.

Internal Revenue Statement for 1871 and 1872.

The following is a comparative statement of internal revenue collections for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1870, and June 30, 1871:—June 30, 1870, $185,235,867; June 30, 1871, $144,969,283; decrease, $40,266,584. Estimated collections for 1872, $112,192,201; deduct over-estimate on income, $7,192,201; leaving $105,000,000. Amount received from stamps, $15,000,000; total, $120,000.

Reduction of Pay of Internal Revenue Officers.

Supervisor Presbrey, of Virginia, has submitted a proposition to Commissioner Pleasonton providing for the consolidation of the First and Second Virginia districts. The Commissioner, it is understood, will accede to the proposition, and will also reduce the salaries of officers of internal revenue so that they will be proportionate to the reduction of the taxes collected under the amended law.

Internal Revenue Appointments.

Henry Camp has been appointed Internal Revenue Gauger for the Thirty-second district, New York, and James W. Allison, for the Second district, Kentucky.

Contracts for the Completion of Public Works.

To-day ending the fiscal year, all monies heretofore appropriated but which have not been contracted to be expended revert to the Treasury. The United States engineers employed in the construction of the light houses have been unusually busy during the past two or three weeks making contracts for the prosecution of unfinished work, and, with the exception of locating sites for light houses at a few points on the lakes, the entire amount of the appropriations for this class of improvements has been provided for. The same is also true of those employed under the supervising architect of the Treasury. All funds placed at his disposal for the completion of public works have been absorbed in contracts made within the past two weeks. In fact, it appears to have been the determination of every officer of the government having control of public works to complete contracts within the fiscal year rather than the amount placed at their disposal should relapse into the Treasury. The new appropriations for the ensuing fiscal year will be made available to-morrow.

Personal.

Secretary Boutwell, who left Washington for Massachusetts last night, will be absent until about the middle of July.

Professor Frederick Watts, of Carlisle, Tenn., has accepted the appointment of Commissioner of Agriculture.

General Benjamin F. Butler was at the Treasury Department to-day on business, and left for the North in the evening.

FRANCE.

Satisfaction at the Success of the Review.

REVENGE UPON GERMANY.

Arrival and Reception of Gambetta at the Capital.

PARIS REBUILDING.

M. Rouher Declares for Free Trade.

PRESIDENT THIERS' DINNER.

German Censures on French Military Expenditures Resented.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

LONDON, June 30, 1871.

The correspondents of the London papers all agree that the review at Long Champs and the French loan were both successful.

REVENGE UPON GERMANY.

One of the writers says that the thought of revenge upon Germany is uppermost in the minds of the Parisians, who still hope for an opportunity to readjust the frontier.

PARIS REPORTS.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

Gambetta in Paris—Cremieux to be Spared—Rejuvenating Paris—Rouher's Election Circular—Gambetta's Speech—France Recovering—The President's Dinner—German Censures Resented.

PARIS, June 30, 1871.

M. Gambetta arrived here yesterday. He has received many visits from both official and unofficial personages.

CREMIEUX TO BE SPARED.

The sentence of death imposed upon M. Cremieux by the court martial in session at Versailles will probably be commuted.

REJUVENATING PARIS.

The work of rejuvenating Paris is progressing. Fully 60,000 masons are engaged in repairing the damaged buildings and erecting new ones. The city is also being thoroughly disinfected.

SATISFACTION.

ROUHER TO THE ELECTORS.

The circular of M. Rouher to the electors affirms that he is the defender of the principles of free trade. In relation to the future form of government he says the nation must decide upon it after the elections have been held and the question of free trade been decided upon. He denounced the opponents of this policy as mere factions.

GAMBETTA'S SPEECH.

The speech of M. Gambetta at Bordeaux was upon the subject of the development of education in France, and was received with hearty approval and great applause.

FRANCE RECOVERING.

The Official Journal of to-day, commenting on the review at Long Champs, remarks that:—"We have shown Europe an army 100,000 strong, valorous and ably commanded, which has saved the cause of civilization. We have also called for two milliards of money and been offered five milliards. The nation evidently recovers."

THE PRESIDENT'S DINNER.

The dinner given by President Thiers after the review yesterday was a brilliant affair. It was attended by nearly all the generals and colonels of the army in and near Paris, and by the members of the Ministry and many prominent Deputies of the National Assembly. The utmost cordiality of feeling prevailed.

RESENTING GERMAN CENSURES.

The French journals resent the censures of the North German Gazette on the military expenditures of France. They maintain that the question concerns France alone.

The French Loan in Bombay.

BOMBAY, June 29, 1871.

The French loan has been introduced in the Bombay market with immense success.

Another Impudent Manifesto from the Internationale—The Central Committee of Paris Appeals to Arms.

According to the Petit Moniteur, another appeal from the Internationale was posted up the 15th ult. on the Boulevard Rochechouart, and immediately torn down. It is worth quoting:—

BRETHREN—In the name of our brethren murdered by the despots of Versailles, in the name of humanity and progress, let us not give up the struggle! The reactionist papers are exulting over their victory. The perjurers of Versailles fancy that they have crushed us; whether they are buried to-morrow—buried in their triumph—rests with you. To achieve that energy alone is requisite. Our losses are great, it is true; but bear in mind that our inaction imperils the republic far more than our check. Will you wait to rise until the plot which all the despots of the world are engaged in weaving shall have enfolded you in its inextricable meshes? Do you wish that night after night satellites drunk with wine and debauchery, stupefied by priests, should hunt you out of your houses and send you to people every Cayenne and Botany Bay in the known world? Do you wish to leave your wives and children exposed and unprotected to the lust of the priests, the rich and the soldiery? Do you wish to find the iron circle, which we broke through in an effort of despair, closing in upon you?

If you wish all this, remain inactive. Do you wish, on the contrary, to become free and powerful, as you ought to be? Do you wish to have the right to live by your labor? To arms and forward! Swear with us not to return to the workshop, not to handle a tool, not to lay down your arms until you have avenged your slaughtered brethren and laid the foundations of the social republic.

To arms! To arms! Lyons, Marseilles, Milan, Berlin, Moscow, London, Liverpool, Manchester! To arms, our brethren of every country! Up against the tyrants and oppressors! Rely upon us, whom they suppose they have disarmed because they have taken our muskets and our guns. They do not know, then, the wretches, that on the day of vengeance we will tear up the gates of their palaces to make pikes, and that this time we will bury ourselves under the ruins of Paris rather than surrender. Forward! the musket in one hand, the torch in the other. Old civilization must perish! Perish it shall! And then the peoples, united in one family, free from all yokes, will peacefully enjoy the fruits of their labor.

THE CENTRAL COMMITTEE OF PARIS.

ENGLAND.

The Last of Halifax as a British Naval Rendezvous—Reduction of the British North American Fleet—The Liverpool Chamber of Commerce Against High Cable Rates.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

LONDON, June 30, 1871.

The statement is officially confirmed that Halifax will, now that the Treaty of Washington has been ratified, soon cease to be the rendezvous for the British North American fleet, and that the fleet in Canadian waters will be reduced to the commodore's ship.

A CABMAN'S STRIKE APPREHENDED.

Another strike of the cabmen is apprehended in London.

A POWERFUL MOVEMENT AGAINST THE ATLANTIC CABLE COMPANY.

At a meeting of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce to-day a preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted to the following effect:—

Whereas the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce has learned with surprise that high cable rates are sustained when all the Atlantic cables are working, therefore

Resolved, That the officers of this body be authorized and directed to make representations in the matter to the government, and to ask the aid of the Chambers of Commerce of Manchester, Birmingham, Leeds, Sheffield, Glasgow and Edinburg.

An Ovation to the Emperor Napoleon.

An interesting occurrence took place before Camden House, London, on Saturday afternoon, the 17th ult. A party of workmen employed by Mr. Joseph Brown, contractor to the Greenwich Board of Works, together with Mr. Stevens, the manager, and a few friends, on their way to their annual dinner at the Black Horse, Sidcup, stopped in front of the Emperor Napoleon's residence, while the band which accompanied them struck up "Good Save the Queen" and "Auld Lang Syne." The cheers which were given at the termination of each air brought out His Majesty, the Empress and the Prince Imperial, who, with their suit, walked across the common to the public highway, and were received with the heartiest plaudits. As the Emperor was approaching it was decided that Mr. Pook, the solicitor to Mr. Brown, should address him on the part of all present. Accordingly, when the Emperor came near Mr. Pook said it was the earnest hope of those whom he stood there to represent that the clouds which had been so long over France might soon be dispelled, and that the sun which was then so brilliantly shining upon them might be taken as an augury for the future of that nation, the restoration of the empire, and the consolidation of the friendship which had, by means of His Imperial Majesty, existed between France and England.

The Emperor, who was visibly affected said in reply, I feel much flattered in the remarks now addressed to me. I feel that I have always been a good friend to England. (Loud cries from the workmen, "We know you have—you have," accompanied by three cheers each for the Emperor, the Empress, and, as one stentorian voice called out, "The little gen'lman," meaning the Prince Imperial).

The Emperor then shook hands very cordially with Mr. Pook, and was introduced to Mr. Brown, the contractor, Mr. Stevens, Mr. W. R. Orchard, Mr. H. Roberts and others, upon which the band struck up, "We may be happy yet," and the Emperor, Empress and the Prince Imperial and suite returned to the house amid the ringing cheers of all present.

THE GRAND DUKE VLADIMIR.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

LONDON, June 30, 1871.

Grand Duke Vladimir, second son of the Emperor Alexander of Russia, who had been here on a lengthy visit, has left London for Ems, where he will rejoin the Czar and Czarina.

GERMANY.

TELEGRAMS TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

BERLIN, June 30, 1871.

The Emperor of Germany has of late been subject to attacks of rheumatism, which have confined him to his bed and somewhat impaired his otherwise vigorous constitution.

The Court physicians say that the fatigues incidental to the entry of the troops have caused his present indisposition, while others will have it that the hardships and exposure of the late campaign are now telling upon the frame of the aged Emperor.

No fatal consequences are, however, apprehended from his present state of health.

A SUBSTANTIAL REWARD TO PRINCE BISMARCK.

The Emperor William has presented the estate of Schwarzenbeck, the value of which is estimated at 2,000,000 thalers, to Prince Bismarck, in acknowledgment of the great services rendered to Germany. The deed of the estate was accompanied by an autograph letter from the Emperor, saying that no recompense within his gift could be adequate to the merits of Prince Bismarck.

A Great Day for the Wurtemberg Troops.

STUTTGART, June 30, 1871.

The Wurtemberg troops made their triumphal entry yesterday to this capital. The city, which was crowded with people from all parts of the kingdom, was splendidly decorated, and to-night was brilliantly illuminated.

King Victor Emmanuel in Naples—His Enthusiastic Reception.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

NAPLES, June 30, 1871.

King Victor Emmanuel arrived here yesterday and met with a brilliant and enthusiastic reception.

The greater part of the garrison turned out and was reviewed by the King. His Majesty was further welcomed by the municipal authorities, who presented to him an address expressing confidence in the government and a hope that the transfer of the capital to Rome will no longer be delayed.

In reply the King thanked the people of Naples for the many spontaneous tokens of their attachment.

He said that the transfer of the capital will take place at an early date, and that the postponement had not been caused from any political considerations but simply as a matter of convenience; because the preparations for the reception of the several departments of the government had not been completed within the allotted time.

The King visited the Exposition to-day and distributed the medals which had been awarded to contributors.

His Majesty will remain two days in this city and then leave for Rome.

GREECE AND TURKEY.

The Greek Government and the Sublime Porte Friends Again.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

LONDON, June 30, 1871.

It is reported that the difficulty between Greece and Turkey, arising from the appointment of M. Talcoupis as Greek Ambassador to Constantinople, and the refusal of the Porte to receive him in that capacity, has been amicably arranged, and that the two countries are now on good terms.

The Capture of the Tsiang-Hoa Forts Confirmed.

MINISTER LOW WITH THE FLEET

A Treaty to be Made With the Corean King.

TELEGRAMS TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

BOMBAY, June 29, 1871.

A despatch from Shanghae confirms the announcement of the capture of the Tsiang-Hoa forts by the Americans, with slight loss. The Coreans had 240 killed and a great many wounded.

Minister Low with the Fleet—A Treaty to be Made with the Coreans.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30, 1871.

It is said in official circles that Minister Low is with Admiral Rodgers at Corea. This is in accordance with instructions, as the design of the expedition was to open the way for a treaty with the sovereign of that country, shipwrecked Americans on that coast being subjected to extreme cruel treatment. Although it is not known whether this government anticipated hostilities, it seems certain that the conduct of Admiral Rodgers, under the circumstances, is approved.

The Late Lieutenant McKee.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

Lieutenant Hugh W. McKee, who so gallantly met his death in the storming of the Corean forts on the 11th inst., was a native of Lexington, Ky., about twenty-seven years of age and a son of Colonel William R. McKee. Colonel McKee was a graduate of West Point, and was killed in a desperate charge on the bloody field of Buena Vista, while commanding the Twenty-fifth Kentucky volunteers, at the same time Lieutenant Colonel Henry Clay, Jr., of the same regiment fell. It is a singular coincidence that the gallant young officer should have met his fate in so similar a manner as that of his illustrious, father, whose body was frightfully mutilated with lances after having been riddled with bullets. Lieutenant McKee was no relation of ex-Congressman McKee, of Kentucky.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

Accident to the Steamer Daniel Drew—Counterfeiters Arrested—Killed on the Railroad.

ALBANY, June 30, 1871.

The steamboat Daniel Drew, of the day line, broke her crosshead coming up the Hudson river to-day near Catskill. No one was injured. Her passengers reached here in time for the late trains.

Three boatmen named Captain William Arthur, Thomas Mahon and James McClellan, of the canalboat Monadnock, were arrested to-night for passing counterfeit fifty cent notes.

A switchman named Michael Fullom was accidentally killed on the Central Railroad at Schenectady to-day. He leaves a wife and seven children.

NORTH CAROLINA RAILROADS.

Attempt of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company to Kill off the Raleigh and Gaston Road—Norfolk and Raleigh Stockholders Fighting the Monopoly.

RALEIGH, June 30, 1861.

Quite a furor has been created in railroad circles here during the past few days by a proposition, made through a prominent Virginian, to buy a controlling interest in the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad for the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. The terminus of this road is at Weldon and Raleigh, having a connection with Norfolk by the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad, and one in process of construction with Columbia, S. C., known as the Chatham Railroad, which is completed forty-five miles of its length. The capital stock of the road is only three-fifths of the cost, and $337,500 is offered for the control of a work worth two and a half millions. It is charged here that the Pennsylvania Central, which already controls the Richmond and Danville Railroad in one direction, and the Wilmington and Weldon and Richmond and Petersburg roads in another, are endeavoring by this movement to kill the North Carolina road, which they made great efforts to secure through the Legislature last winter, but failed. They wish to hedge it in at Goldsboro, Greensboro, Raleigh and Charlotte, by which the great monopoly would then have full control of all the lines in this State. The stockholders are given until the 6th prox. to consider the proposition, but an informal meeting has been called for the 4th by those resident in this city, who warn the people against it, and advise an indignant rejection. A number of stockholders residing in Norfolk are also violently opposed to the proposed sale.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

A Man Cuts His Wife in Thirteen Places and Then Throws Himself into the River and is Drowned—Whiskey, as Usual, the Cause.

At a quarter to one o'clock yesterday afternoon a small boy ran up to officer Woolson, of the Nineteenth precinct, who was on duty in Seventy-fourth street, and told him that a man named James Powell, an Irish laborer, living in one of the small shanties near the corner of Seventy-third street and avenue A, had murdered his wife with a penknife. Woolson immediately ran around to the place indicated, and there, in the front room of the hut, found the injured woman prostrate on the floor and bleeding most profusely from no less than some of which were of a most horrible character. She was not dead, as reported, but was nevertheless in a dying condition.

THIRTEEN WOUNDS,

The officer at once sent word to the station house to have an ambulance despatched to the scene, and while waiting for the vehicle to arrive ascertained the following facts in connection with the affair:—Dick Allen, who keeps a bath house at the foot of Fifty-fourth street, and in whose place

A MAN WAS SHOT

last summer, is in some way related to Powell, and of whom he has been for a long time jealous, as it is said he claimed that Allen and his (Powell's) wife were on terms of improper intimacy. For several months past Powell has been in the habit of getting drunk and beating his wife, because, as he alleged, of her fondness for the bath house man. Last Sunday he went home in a state of intoxication and commenced the regular Sunday quarrel. Blows were exchanged, and soon each party had knocked the other down, when an officer was called in, who arrested Powell, whom he locked up in the

NINETEENTH PRECINCT STATION HOUSE,

and who was the next day held to bail by Justice Bixby, at the Yorkville Police Court, in the sum of $500. Last Wednesday Powell went on another drunk, which he kept up until yesterday, when he committed the deed above mentioned.

From all the officer could ascertain it seems that there was no one present at the time of the cutting save Powell and his wife; that, after quarrelling for some time, Powell seized the knife and proceeded to mutilate his wife, which done he ran out into the street, ran down Seventy-third street to avenue A, down avenue A to Seventy-first street, and down Seventy-first street to the East River, where he deliberately jumped in and

WAS DROWNED.

Some of the neighbors heard the woman's cries, but not until Powell had left the house, and although they followed him to the river they were unable to come up with him in time to prevent his making the fatal plunge.

Mrs. Powell was conveyed to Bellevue Hospital, where her wounds were dressed and pronounced of a fatal character.

THE HEATH ZOUAVES.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 30, 1871.

The Heath Zouaves, of this city, claiming to be the best drilled company in the United States, left to-day to visit Canton, Ohio, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Albany, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore. They number sixty men, under the command of Captain Merritt Batchelder, formerly of Ellsworth's famous company.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Yesterday the following games were reported:—

In Philadelphia the Kikiongas, of Indiana, beat the Olympics, of Philadelphia, 16 to 14.

The Red Stockings, of Boston, beat the Resolutes, of Hamilton, Ohio, at that city, the score being—Red Stockings, 21; Resolutes, 0.

In Louisville, Ky., the Eckfords, of Brooklyn, beat the Louisville Clippers, by a score of 36 to 4.

The Chicago White Stockings have been again shockingly laid out, this time by the Olympics, of Washington. The score stood—Olympics, 13; White Stockings, 8.

The Rose Hill Club, of Fordham, N. Y., was defeated at Boston by the Harvards yesterday by a score of 20 to 5.

Burning of Snow Sheds on the Central Pacific Railroad—California Republican Nominations.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30, 1871.

The hotel, telegraph offices and a half mile of snow sheds at Cisco, on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, were burned yesterday. Both telegraph lines are destroyed. Loss $50,000.

The republican State ticket is complete, as follows:—

Governor—Newton Booth.
Lieutenant Governor—Romauldo Pacheco, a native of California.
Secretary of State—Drury Malone.
Justices of the Supreme Court—A. C. Niles, A. L. Rhodes.
Comptroller—James J. Green.
Treasurer—Ferdinand Bacher.
Surveyor—Robert Gardner.
Attorney General—John L. Love.
Clerk of the Supreme Court—Grant T. Taggert.
Superintendent of Instruction—Henry M. Bolander.
State Printer—Thomas H. Springer.
Harbor Commissioner—John A. McGlynn.

A. A. Sargent has been renominated for Congress from the Second district, and Mayor Selby has been tendered the nomination from the San Francisco district.

A young woman named Clark was burned to death at Tahama yesterday while kindling a fire with kerosene.

Mrs. Joseph Boghiscych, of Oakland, aged twenty-one, committed suicide at Lincoln yesterday by taking strychnine. Domestic infelicity the cause.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

Discontinuance of a Halifax Steamship Line—Aquatics in Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, June 30, 1871.

The steamship City of Limerick has arrived from Liverpool, and the steamship City of Baltimore has arrived from New York. This is the last trip of each vessel to this port. Both sail this afternoon, and both were detained off the harbor by a fog eighteen hours.

The Tangien oarsmen, better known as the Burton Club, are practising in the harbor for the great four-oared race. They are having a boat built in New York, to cost $400.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE.

CONCORD, June 30, 1871.

In the House this morning the report of the Committee on Elections was unanimous in unseating W. H. Flagg, republican, of the Second ward, Portsmouth, on account of being over-represented. A resolution unseating him was passed with but few dissenting voices.

In the case of W. W. Messer, democrat, of Northwood, the majority report giving him the seat was sustained.

The Committee on Railroads has decided, by a vote of 8 to 2, to refer the question of granting a charter to the Nashua, Manchester and Concord Railroad Company to the next Legislature. Also, by a vote of 7 to 3, to report a bill for the Nashua and Acton Railroad.

It is quite certain this morning that the democratic leaders have decided not to commence any proceedings against Senator Smith, as contemplated, and the time for final adjournment will be fixed for Saturday, July 8.

LONG BRANCH PIER.

The construction of piers wholly of iron on surf-beaten coasts in the open ocean, for promenade or shipping purposes, has within the last few years been extensively employed in situations where no other similar works were practicable. The enormous strength and rigidity of the structure, combined with a good base or supporting surface of the pile, according to the nature of the ground, without the necessity of exposing a large surface to the winds or waves, has enabled the engineers to execute such works in the most unpromising and inconvenient situations; and more recent improvements in the structure and mode of sinking the piles in all situations have surmounted every difficulty, and such piers can now be built on the most exposed ocean surf-beaten coasts of the world (at a practically moderate cost), to withstand not only the destructive action of salt water, but the heaviest seas and storms, without the slightest failure or vibration of any part. In testimony of this fact may be mentioned the report of Captain Howe recommending the adoption of iron pile structures for the Indian coasts:—"The vibration of these structures during heavy gales have been found to be so slight as not even to affect the going of a timepiece. The reason was that the supports offered no resistance to the waves; but in Edystone lighthouse during heavy storms the vibration is so great that the rate of the timepieces is affected."

These practical advantages have been amply demonstrated by the building of more than sixteen of these structures in Great Britain and Ireland alone, besides many others in various parts of the world—viz.: India, China, Singapore, South America, &c. The Madras pier, for instance, built on this plan in 1862, through one of the heaviest surfs and a shifting sand (1,100x40 feet), is a remarkable example. In Great Britain, Scarboro, Brighton, Black Pool, &c., &c.; Ireland, Courtown pier, county Wexford, &c. Many of these are exposed to heavier and more damaging seas and gales than the coast at Long Branch.

The Long Branch pier is intended chiefly for the purpose of providing the numerous visitors frequenting that fashionable watering place with a handsome and salubrious promenade seaward, and will extend over 1,000 feet into the ocean, with a head 100 feet wide and 200 feet long, and presenting a total area of 80,000 square feet. A principal feature of the design will be a splendid saloon, of extensive dimensions and ornamental character, capable of accommodating from two thousand to three thousand persons with all the comforts and requirements for fashionable visitors, arranged to afford ample protection from the summer heats, while at the same time securing all the benefits of the purest sea air in all weather.

It may be taken as a fact that if only a fifth—or even less—of the usual visiting population of the Branch frequent the pier daily during a season of only seventy days, at the rate of twenty-five cents per head admission, a dividend of fully twenty-five per cent per annum on the capital stock would be assured; but a really much larger return would be the result, and it has, besides, been confidently anticipated that the great attractiveness and healthful recreation provided on the pier would in the first two years alone bring such a number of visitors that nearly the whole of the capital stock or outlay would be returned to the stockholders within that period.

It must be borne in mind that the chief source of revenue relied on is from the fashionable promenade; that it becomes therefore optional with the Pier Company to allow the steamers to land passengers on any terms whatever.

These expectations are not chimerical, but can be amply justified by the remunerative character of similar undertakings, where the elements of success are not commensurate with the present enterprise. Several instances out of a number may be taken—viz., the piers at Weston Super Mare, Aberystnith, Black Pool, places deserted in winter and hundreds of miles away from the metropolis, but where the promenade piers recently erected have, notwithstanding, rendered them so attractive that with much lower rates of admission these enterprises are returning most satisfactory dividends to the stockholders from season watering place traffic alone.

Establishing a pier at Long Branch on this principle would certainly be followed by the building of many others on various localities on our coasts, and the result would be that a very important branch of the iron manufacturing interest of the country would be thereby materially promoted.

No better guarantee can be offered to the subscribers and promoters of the proposed pier at the Branch, and of its feasibility and practical utility, than the project being endorsed and approved of by the engineers, who have designed and completed sixteen of these structures, besides many others in course of building, under nearly every conceivable variety of difficulty of position and construction, all of which have been successfully overcome.

YACHTING.

Method of Determining Comparative Time Allowances.

The New York Yacht Club Rule—Table of Calculations, Embracing Each Yacht of the Club, Measured to Date—Number of Minutes and Seconds Added To or Deducted From Actual Time of Making a Race, Whether of Five, Six and a Half or Eight Hours' Duration.

The proper method of determining the comparative allowances of time for yachts is one which at all times has excited no little interest and occasioned no little discussion among yachtsmen. This is especially true at the present time, when the annual and special regattas of the various clubs are being held. The New York Yacht Club, upon the recommendation of a special committee at a recent meeting, adopted unanimously a new method of determining allowances, which it is thought combines scientific accuracy with practical simplicity. This method is described as follows:—

The areas of three sections, from the water line to the intersection of outer planking with keel, in the case of each yacht, one taken amidships, another equi-distant therefrom to the stem and the third equi-distant therefrom to the stern, shall be measured and determined in square feet. The cubical contents of the immersion shall then be calculated by multiplying the sum of the areas of the three sections by one-fourth of the length on water line in feet and decimals, which shall, for the purposes of this measurement, be deemed the displacement of the yacht. The cube roots of the displacements shall be deemed the basis of comparative allowances of time.

In order to apply the bases of measurement, as above, to the sliding scale of allowances, graduated according to time of making race, hitherto in use by the Club (but for no other purpose), the cube roots of the displacements shall in all cases be multiplied by 100, thus forming the apportionments of the several yachts.

The annexed table has been prepared, by which the number of minutes and seconds which are to be added to or deducted from the actual time consumed in making the race may be seen for each yacht which has been measured to this date. These corrections are given for races which are made by the leading yachts in five, six and one-half or eight hours respectively. Thus, supposing the race to have been made in five hours, there will be added to the time made by the Sappho 7m. 11.1s., and there will be deducted from the actual time made by the Magic 2m. 28.3s., or, in other words, in such a race the Sappho will have to allow the Magic 9m. 39.4s. These figures are based upon a race of forty statute miles, and the same proportion for other distances:—

CAPE MAY REGATTAS.

Sailing of the New York Yacht Club Fleet This Afternoon—The Vessels Expected to Contest for the Prizes—The Arrangements and Anticipations.

All the yachts of the New York Yacht Club designing to visit Cape May and participate in the great regattas to come off there on the 4th of July will to-day, at noon, rendezvous at the Horseshoe, when sailing regulations will be issued for their guidance on the trip hence. The fleet will depart soon after the Plymouth Rock arrives at Sandy Hook this afternoon. The sight of the fleet leaving the harbor and stretching out to sea is expected to be magnificent in the extreme. In referring to the anticipated yachting festival at Cape May, and noting the arrangements that have been made to receive the visiting vessels, together with other matters of much interest, the Philadelphia Age of yesterday says:—

Philadelphia is getting to be progressive. Time was when the Quaker City bore, and, in some respects, deserved, the name of a "one-horse town." Apart from the dull daily routine of attending to their own private business, her citizens were not considered up to the national standard in the matter of go-aheadativeness. New York delights to scold the "City of Homes," a quiet and pleasant inland town, and affects to sneer at the apathy displayed by Philadelphia in the matter of improvements or projects of enterprise of any kind. Philadelphia has, however, taken a stand in more ways than one. Without adverting to the numerous public improvements now in active progress, and the brilliant business enterprises to be observed in all directions, it is worthy of particular mention that some of our liberal-minded, public-spirited citizens are pushing to a successful termination an enterprise of a rather novel character in this vicinity. The "quiet inland town" has done what the "commercial metropolis" has yet failed to do, notwithstanding her proximity to the ocean, and that is to complete arrangements for the grandest ocean regatta that the country has yet seen, and which comes off at Cape May on 4th of July.

This regatta will be no local affair, for the gentlemen who have engineered the matter have succeeded in enlisting the services of the finest and fastest ocean yachts that can be found in the country. New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Newport, Baltimore and other seaside cities will be represented, and each ocean yacht club will put its right foot foremost in the Cape May regatta. The success of the grand affair will redound to the credit of its projectors, among whom we find the names of such citizens as Major General Meade, Commodore Emmons, John C. Bullitt, H. A. Drexel, L. P. Ashmead, General Sewell, George W. Childs and many others. It is to be hoped that the labors of these gentlemen will not stop with the Cape May Fourth of July regatta, but that something like a permanent organization will be effected, and Philadelphia be enabled to compete with her sister cities of New York, Boston, &c., in possessing a regularly established ocean yacht regatta organization. The first step is well taken, and let it not be the last.

Among the yachts entered for the Cape May regatta are the Wanderer, Dauntless, Tidal Wave, Columbia, Sappho, Alarm, Alice, Eva, Foam, Fleetwing, Halcyon, Idler, Magic, Madeleine, Palmer, Rambler, Sunshine, Tarolinta, Ariadne, Addie, Breeze, Coming, Gracie, Kaiser William, Peerless, Vixen and others.

The Philadelphia yachts are the Sunshine, Vixen, Delaware, Vindex, and probably the Vesper.

From New York there will be the Dauntless, Wanderer, Alarm, Eva and others.

Baltimore sends the Blue Wing and others.

The names of other yachts that will participate or their locations have not been ascertained.

Commodore Bennett will assemble the New York, Brooklyn and Atlantic yachts in the lower bay, on the afternoon of the first Saturday, and start about five P. M., arriving at Cape May the next morning. The Cape May pilots have offered their services to the yachts and will meet them off the coast. The arrival of the whole fleet on the 2d will present a very interesting sight. A salute will be fired from the guns of the committee steamer Pinta. On the evening of the regatta the prizes will be presented to the winning yachts at the grand naval ball to be held at the Stockton House.

The magnificent prizes to be sailed for have already been described in the Age. They are the most costly and beautiful specimens of the kind ever contended for in this country or in Europe.

Philadelphia, although an inland town, possesses an enviable reputation for building fast sailing yachts, and the superb Columbia, constructed at a cost of $60,000, is a fair specimen of yachts that have been christened by the waters of the Delaware river.

The United States steamer Pinta, Captain McNair, has been placed at the disposal of the Regatta Committee, and will leave Philadelphia on Saturday morning, reaching Cape May the same evening.

The regatta ball will be held at the Stockton House on the evening of the Fourth of July.

The prizes to be awarded are now on exhibition in this city, and will be sent down on the steamer Pinto on Saturday.

Proceedings are now on foot to offer some superior inducements to the New York Yacht Club to sail in a regatta the first week in September next, at Cape May. It will be remembered that the great contest for the "Queen's Cup" was won by the America, and it is now proposed to get up another race for that cup between Mr. Ashbury's yacht, the Livonia, and another yacht to be named in this city, the race to be so conducted that Mr. Ashbury will not know what yacht he will have to contend against until the day of the race. General Sewell will have the most complete railroad facilities arranged for persons who intend visiting Cape May to see the regatta.

YACHTING NOTES.

Mr. M. M. Vandyke, Chairman, has called a meeting of the judges in the late Brooklyn Yacht Club regatta for Thursday evening, July 6, to review their decision in the matter of the yacht winning the "Club" and "Union" prizes for schooners on that occasion. The protest of Mr. Franklin Osgood, owner of the Columbia, in the matter of awarding these to the Madeleine, will have the fullest consideration. The meeting will be held at the Club rooms, No. 26 Court street, Brooklyn.

The sloop Alert will visit Rockaway on the Fourth, her owner having extended an invitation to several friends to join him in a "sheepsheading" trip.

Many of the smaller vessels of the Brooklyn Yacht Club will visit the Hoboken Yacht Club grounds on Independence Day, by invitation of the latter, and there pass the time in ceremonies appropriate to the occasion.

The large yacht building for Mr. A. S. Hatch, at City Island, is progressing so favorably that she will be launched before the 15th of July. Her bowsprit is in position and her masts will be fitted next week. Her owner has decided to name her Resolute.

THE UTAH TROUBLES.

A Check to the Bellicose Saints.

Proclamation by the Acting Governor Forbidding Parades of Mormon Military—Attempt to Review the Nauvoo Legion—Mormons Dissatisfied but the Gentiles Jubilant—The California Ring Defeated.

SALT LAKE, June 30, 1871.

The Tribune of to-morrow morning will contain a proclamation issued by Hon. George A. Black, Secretary and Acting Governor, forbidding all musters, parties or gathering of the militia of Utah, or of armed persons within the Territory, except by the Governor's orders or by order of the United States Marshal in case a posse comitatus is required to enforce the order of the courts. This proclamation has been issued in view of certain orders of Daniel H. Wells, calling himself Lieutenant General, an office not recognized by the government, which orders out three companies of infantry, one of artillery and one of calvary, ostensibly to participate in the Mormon procession on the Fourth of July.

Wells usurps power in ordering out the militia, since Governor Shaffer appointed General Connor commander of the militia, and the assembling of troops is in direct violation of the order of Governor Shaffer, which has never been countermanded.

The attempt is made in order to maintain the organization of the Nauvoo Legion outside of control of the Governor of the Territory. Mr. Wells is a Lieutenant General of this legion, but pretends to order out the troops as Lieutenant General of the militia. H. B. Clawson, who signs the order as Adjutant General, is not recognized by the government. He dates his order from the Adjutant General's office of Utah Territory. Governor Shaffer appointed Colonel Johns Adjutant General, and he alone can execute the duties of the office.

It is generally believed that the Mormons will not attempt to carry out their scheme in face of the proclamation. If they do, the laws will be enforced and trouble may ensue.

The Mormon press furiously assault Governor Woods for representing to the President that they were engaged with the California-Nevada ring in attempting to remove the judiciary and other officials standing between them and the lines. They profess to be tolerably well satisfied with the Judges, though they are eternally abusing and vilifying them.

There is very general satisfaction at the stand taken by President Grant concerning the judiciary. Their removal just now, on the demands of a corrupt and unscrupulous ring, would be extremely detrimental to the best interests of the country, and would seriously weaken the authority of the government.

General De Trobriand has relieved General Morrow as commander of Camp Douglass.

Passing Counterfeit Money—The Foster-Putnam Murder Appeal—A Case Under the Statute of Limitations—A Theatre Lease in Court—The Riverside Park Property—Liabilities of Medical Agents.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONERS' COURT.

Charge of Passing Counterfeit Money.

Before Commissioner Shields.

The United States vs. John McGuire and Bridget Perry.—The defendants, who reside at 55 Cherry street, are charged with passing a $5 counterfeit bill on Moses Weinberg, a pedler, from whom they had purchased a woman's shawl. When the pedler got the bill he found that it was bad, and asked to get either good money or a return of the shawl. He states that the defendants would not comply with either of these requests. The Commissioner held them in $500 bail each for examination to-day.

Alleged Fraudulent Bankruptcy.

The United States vs. Louis L. Todd alias Eldridge.—The defendant had been indicted at Trenton, N. J., on a charge of having committed fraudulent bankruptcy. It is alleged that he fled from there to New York city, where he was arrested and taken before the Commissioner, who held him subject to an order by Judge Blatchford for his removal to New Jersey.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

The Foster-Putnam Murder—Another Grasp at the Saving Straw—Foster's Last Card.

Application was made yesterday by the counsel of Foster, the convicted car hook murderer, to Judge Ingraham, of the Supreme Court, for a writ of error and stay of proceedings. The Judge refused to entertain the application on the ground that he, being one of the judges of the General Term, the matter must come before him if the writ was granted, and for this reason also considering it improper to have any preliminary notice. Judge Cardozo has already denied a similar motion, and Judge Barnard, being also a judge of General Term, is not likely to interpose. It is understood that the application will be reviewed before the remaining judges of this district, and in short that no stone will be left unturned to save Foster from the gallows.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM.

Closing of Business of the Term.

Before Judges Ingraham, Barnard and Cardozo.

This Court concluded yesterday the business of the term, having disposed of all cases on the month's calendar that were ready. An unusual amount of business has been transacted by the Court thus far this year, there having been heard and decided 342 cases, of which 140 came up in the January term, sixteen in the February term, eighty-six in the April term and 100 in the June term. The Court adjourned to the 15th of July to render decisions.

David H. Loritz vs. George A. Buckingham.—In this case, which is the only one in the list of decisions accompanied by an opinion, and in fact the only one possessing points of special public interest, the previous judgment was reversed and judgment ordered for plaintiff on demurrer, with leave to defendant to answer on payment of costs. Judge Ingraham gives the opinion. The defendant, the owner of a lot in Greenwood Cemetery, conveyed the same to plaintiff by an absolute conveyance. The plaintiff executed at the same time to the defendant an instrument in writing, and agreeing to reconvey the same to the defendant on repayment to him of the consideration money, with interest, in one year. He also gave to the defendant the privilege of interring in the plot during the year. The money not having been repaid, the plaintiff treated it as a mortgage and commenced this action for the foreclosure of it. The defendant demurred to the complaint upon the ground that the same did not state facts sufficient to constitute a course of action. Judgment was given in favor of the demurrer. There can be no doubt, the Judge goes on to say, that the conveyance by itself was a valid instrument, which the defendant has a right to execute and which the plaintiff might accept. It was a good consideration and transferred the title to the lot to the plaintiff. The only question is whether the defeasance executed by the plaintiff at the same time, in which he agreed to reconvey the property on receiving a certain amount, with interest, vitiates the conveyance. He holds that the owner had the right to grant the lot absolutely and that under the two instruments referred to he might have sustained an action for a strict foreclosure and thereby obtained a perfect title, and that such a decree or judgment would not have required any execution to enforce it and would not have come within the prohibition of the Statute, which provides that the plots, when conveyed to individuals, will not be liable to be sold on execution or to be applied to the payment of debts by assignment under any insolvent law. It was not, therefore, an execution or insolvent proceeding. He reversed the decision of the Court below.

Statute of Limitations.

George C. Peters et al. vs. John F. Delaplaine et al.—John F. Delaplaine in 1852 contracted to sell to John R. Peters, for $30,000, certain lots in this city. On the day fixed for the completion of the contract the wife of Delaplaine refused to join in the deeds. Mr. Delaplaine died in 1854, and his wife in 1846, and Mr. Peters in 1858. In March, 1869, after the death of all the original parties and seventeen years after the making of the contract the representatives of Mr. Peters sued the heirs of Mr. Delaplaine for specific performance of contract, the property having meantime risen to the value of $300,000. In the Court below the defendants claimed that the statute of limitations had now dismissed the complaint. The plaintiff appealed and urged two points—first, that the action by the Code was one upon a sealed instrument, and, secondly, that the right of action did not accrue till Mrs. Delaplaine's death. The defence urged that the action was not within the meaning of the section of the Code to which reference was made, and that it was not upon a sealed instrument, but for failure to perform a contract and within section intended to cover all actions in which time of limitation is ten years, and that cause of action accrued immediately on failure to perform contract. After listening to the argument and appeal yesterday the Court at once announced its decision—an affirmation of the decision of the Court below.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

The Old Olympic Theatre Lease Controversy.

Bolles vs. Duff.—Few cases are more threadbare than this, and yet very few turn up oftener in the courts. The matter came up yesterday on a motion by the defendant, as receiver, to lease the Olympic Theatre property for a term of years. It was urged for the motion that Mr. Duff has a large interest, amounting to some $80,000, still in the property, and that leasing it on terms offered would be greatly to the advantage of all parties in interest. On behalf of the heirs and representatives of Mr. Trimole, deceased, it was insisted that Mr. Duff had now had control of the property and its profits for the past eight years, and that instead of his being entitled to $60,000, the balance was the other way, and, further, that the lease is intended to be given to a Mr. Hayes, his son-in-law, while he, in reality, will run the theatre himself, and, finally, that other parties had offered $25,000 a year for the theatre alone and $30,000 a year for the theatre and hotel and restaurant attached—much higher figures than the proposed lessee will give. The Judge took the papers, reserving his decision.

The Riverside Park Property.

In the Matter of the Riverside Park Property.—This matter came up on a motion to confirm the report of the Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment. Mr. O'Gorman, Corporation Counsel, urged the motion, and was met in opposition by Mr. Gratz Nathan. The Judge postponed hearing of the motion till this morning.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS—SPECIAL TERM.

Throw Physic to the Dogs—Liabilities of Agents.

Before Judge Larremore.

Thomas Holloway vs. Daniel Pringle.—Mr. Holloway, the plaintiff in this case, brought suit to recover the sum of $25,000, which, it is asserted, was appropriated by the defendant, Daniel Pringle, while he was acting in the capacity of agent for the former. Henry H. Martin, for the plaintiff, alleged that from November, 1865, to the 24th of May, 1871, the defendant acted as agent for the plaintiff in America for the sale of his patent medicines; that during his period of agency he had sold to various people in the trade quantities of the plaintiff's patent medicines without giving any return to the principal, although directed to do so. It was further alleged that charges were made for the salaries of clerks and various other expenses, among them a litigation and its costs against plaintiff, which the former asserts were never actually paid. Plaintiff argues that in this way the defendant misappropriated large sums of money, the exact amount of which has not been ascertained. The plaintiff is a resident of a foreign country, and on this account the affidavit on which the arrest had been made was necessarily sworn to by his present agent, Mr. Henry H. Martin. An order of arrest having been granted defendant gave bail in $10,000, his sureties being Alfred Dorton and Thomas H. Farrar. Counsel, who represented the motion to vacate the order of arrest, proposed to move on the very same affidavits upon which the order was granted for arrest, on the ground that the affidavit of Martin, being based only on information and belief, was, therefore, insufficient to found an order of arrest. He also urged that there was a conspiracy all around, which originated in the fact that in a former proceeding the defendant was made the receiver of plaintiff's property. Motion for postponement of the hearing of the motion was opposed by the plaintiff's counsel, they urging as the ground of their opposition the absence of ex-Judge Edwards, one of the counsel in the case. An adjournment was eventually granted by Judge Larremore, Monday next having been set down for the argument.

Decisions.

Before Judges C. P. Daly, Larremore and Joseph F. Daly.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Officer Gillespie Sent to the State Prison for Feloniously Assaulting Officer Leroy—Interesting Remarks of the Recorder—The Conservators of the Peace To Be Held to a Strict Account.

Before Recorder Hackett.

It will be remembered that during the June term of this Court that John Gillespie, an officer of the municipal police, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with attempting to kill William W. Leroy, a brother officer of the same precinct. He was remanded for sentence till the last day of the term.

Mr. Howe made a very powerful appeal to the Court yesterday in mitigation of punishment, stating that there were thirty witnesses in attendance, police captains and estimable citizens, all of whom were ready to testify to his exemplary character and sober habits; that on the day of the occurrence Gillespie was on duty for twenty-four hours and took a glass of liquor upon an empty stomach, which rendered him perfectly unconscious of what he was doing, and that in view of the fact that officer Leroy and the prisoner were always friendly he (Mr. Howe) hoped that the Recorder would be lenient.

Mr. Fellows said that there was overwhelming proof of the good character of Gillespie; but he simply reminded the Court that he pleaded guilty to the indictment charging him with a felonious assault. The other indictments against him grew out of the same transaction.

Recorder Hackett, in passing sentence, said—Before pronouncing sentence upon the conviction founded upon your confession of shooting officer Le Roy with the intent to kill him, I will very briefly advert to the prominent facts in the case. Both you and he were at the time of the commission of the offence sworn officers of the Police Department of the Metropolitan district. Your duties, among others, were to protect life, limb and property. You, without cause, on the day in question ruthlessly assaulted a citizen. Not content with the commission of that wrong you beat, clubbed and robbed another citizen, and when officer Le Roy attempted to interfere to prevent further outrages on your part, you drew your revolver and shot him in the head, and when prostrate upon the ground you again shot him in the thigh, inflicting a grievous wound, and then, with the barrel of your pistol or club, endeavored to put out one of his eyes. Your sole plea is that at the time you were intoxicated and unconscious of your acts. Voluntary intoxication, according to our law, does not excuse crime, nor does it prevent the question of intent being considered. In my judgment it aggravated the character of your crime. You broke a law of the department you had sworn to respect in drinking at all while on duty. You infringed its proper discipline in assaulting a fellow officer. You broke the law of the State in feloniously wounding him and with intent to take his life. You were a sworn officer of the peace, and you broke your oath. You now stand indicted with the commission of three several crimes:—

First—Of unprovoked assault and battery on the person of Isaac Watson.

Second—Of assault and battery and highway robbery upon the person of Albert J. Connell.

Third—Of a felonious assault upon officer Le Roy with a pistol with intent to kill.

The uttermost punishment that this Court could impose upon a conviction of all these offences would be for the term of thirty-one years.

As you have wisely pleaded to the commission of the graver offence no further prosecution of the other indictments will be made; but in this case to which you have pleaded guilty the sentence of the Court is that you be confined in the State Prison, at hard labor, for the period of ten years.

KEEPER OF A LOAN OFFICE CHARGED WITH RECEIVING STOLEN DIAMONDS.

O. G. Judd, keeper of a loan office, appeared in response to a bench warrant to answer certain questions respecting his possession of a pair of diamond earrings feloniously obtained from Tiffany & Co. Colonel Fellows examined him and brought out the fact that he had received a loan upon it, and could redeem it at any time. The prosecuting officer stated that he would send the matter before the Grand Jury.

A PICKPOCKET SENT TO SING SING.

Charles Collins, who pleaded guilty to stealing a gold watch from M. M. Van Buren, was sent to the State Prison for five years, the Recorder observing that the prisoner was an old thief. The community are rid of a notorious member of the light-fingered gentry by this sentence.

A number of prisoners indicted by the Grand Jury were arraigned and pleaded not guilty to charges of felonious assaults and grand larceny. They will be tried next week.

Thomas Wilson, who stole a gold watch from John Toomey, pleaded guilty and was remanded for sentence.

THE ERIE RAILWAY WAR.

Proposed New Issue of Thirty Thousand Erie Shares.

MORE TROUBLE AHEAD.

The Erie controversy has been at last taken from the books to the other struggle inevitable in the case as to who can, perhaps, talk longest and best.

ARGUMENT RESUMED YESTERDAY.

Mr. Evarts, at ten o'clock, resumed his argument in the United States Circuit Court, before Judge Blatchford, on behalf of Heath and Raphael. He contended that property in the possession of a receiver of a Court of Equity was in legal effect in the possession of the Court itself. It was a contempt of the Court for any person, without the express permission of the Court, to interfere with such property either by taking it out of the possession of the receiver or by doing any act impairing its value, whether such interference be in virtue of legal process of some other Court or officer, or under paramount right or title of any kind, or be intrinsically merely wrongful. Any person thus interfering with property in the hands of a Court, in contempt of its authority, is answerable therefor upon summary proceedings, and will be thereupon summarily required by the Court to restore the thing abstracted or make good the injury he has caused; and if he fail in compliance with such requirement will be punished by attachment for his disobedience. There are no technical restrictions upon the power of the Court thus to compel the making good of abstractions of or injuries to property under its guardianship. The fact that the wrongdoer, who is made responsible in the summary proceedings is not a party in the original suit wherein the res has been brought into Court, is wholly immaterial. It being established that the Court has jurisdiction over this respondent upon summary proceedings in respect of the subject matters involved, and he being regularly brought before it upon such proceedings, the Court will make such orders as will give complete redress. Whatever relief is to be, ever or anywhere, given to the parties aggrieved by this wrongful act by him committed will be given now and here. The case presented is a clear one of substantial abstraction by the respondent of the thirty thousand shares of stock in question, or at least of such dealing with it by him as has completely abstracted from it its marketable or salable quality, and by means of the false pretence made by him to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, and the misuse of the original certificates belonging to the receivership, transferred that marketable and salable quality from the genuine stock of Heath and Raphael to his own spurious and, till then, valueless and wholly unmarketable and unsalable stock; and he has, by means of thus investing his own spurious certificates with the indicia of genuineness, withdrawn from

HEATH AND RAPHAEL'S STOCK,

to the utter destruction of its salableness, sold his own certificates as genuine to bona fide holders and appropriated to his own use the proceeds. Thus, though by a very peculiar and somewhat circuitous process, he has in all substance and effect converted the stock of Heath and Raphael to his own use. The legal effect of his act and the measure of his accountability for it are to be determined by reference to the results he has thereby produced to himself and to Heath and Raphael, and he cannot escape such accountability by any peculiar meshes of form in which he has enveloped his abstraction. The fact that stock not registered, or registerable with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, is unmarketable, does not make a good delivery under a contract, and will not practically sell in the New York market, is shown by the petition and the evidence of R. G. Rolston and of A. D. Williams. Gould's sale and receipt of the proceeds of the spurious 30,000 shares which he procured to be registered with and certified by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, by appropriating to that purpose by cancellation, Heath & Raphael's original certificates for their genuine 30,000 shares, and falsely representing to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, that his really spurious stock had been issued in place of the Heath & Raphael certificates thus cancelled is shown by Gould's evidence. The fact that in consequence of the misuse of the original Heath & Raphael certificates for 30,000 shares, as the basis for registering Gould's spurious 30,000 shares, the 30,000 shares for which there is now held only a bare certificate in the name of James H. Coleman, Receiver, cannot be registered with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company; but, if presented for registration and certification, there would appear upon the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company's register, as a mere over issue is shown by the petition and the evidence of Ralston. When Gould, the presumed wrong doer, has prevented the certificates from ever being made salable, as is charged, in the home market, and completely frustrated Heath & Raphael's purpose, with reference to which they sent the certificates to the Erie office, it lies not in his mouth to say that they may send their certificates to a foreign market for sale, and therefore are not damnified by his cutting them off from the home market. But it is wholly untrue that the circumstance of the certificates having been made unregisterable with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, and therefore unsalable in the New York market, does not bar their sale in the European market. Counsel dealt at considerable length on the question of registering stock in the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, contending that the value afforded to Erie Railway stock by its registration with, and certification by, the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company was not a benefit granted to the shareholder, extra the intrinsic value of his stock, as a boon of free grace, which the Erie Company could give or withhold, discriminating between shareholders at its pleasure. This registration system was established by the Erie Company for affording to dealers in stock the voucher and test of the genuineness and regularity of the stock certificates, and it was inevitable that it should become, as the evidence shows it in fact has become, the sole voucher and test recognized by the dealers, so that stock thus registered and certified can be freely sold, and stock not so registered and certified cannot be sold.

After submitting various other points for the consideration of the Court the learned gentleman, who made a very powerful and logical address, brought his argument to a close.

DECISION RESERVED—A NEW BOMBSHELL.

Just as Mr. Evarts had concluded counsel for the English company stated that the Erie Railway Company had given notice to the Stock Exchange that in thirty days from the present time they would increase their capital shares of stock by issuing 30,000 shares of new stock.

This statement having been brought to the attention of the Court,

Judge Blatchford said he would require an affidavit made to that effect.

It is understood that any such issue of new shares would be a direct violation of an order or injunction of this Court already in existence, and render the party making such issue liable to attachment for contempt.

The United States Courts and Erie are still left at loggerheads, under the late order. It will depend upon Judge Blatchford which comes out first or second best.

ESSEX MARKET COURT.

Spanish-Arabic Feud Revived—A Desperate Attempt to Arrive at an Understanding—Judge Koch's Linguistic Resources Exhausted.

At Essex Market yesterday afternoon, towards the close of the session, the court was thrown into confusion by the entrance of a Spaniard, followed by an officer, having in custody a youthful Arab, charged with the theft of the Spaniard's watch. The complainant was an old man, with venerable gray beard. He was blind of an eye, and his habiliments hung on him like half-dried garments on a clothesline. His appearance suggested a man to whom and the necessity or utility of his having a watch was a question for social philosophers. He was just familiar enough with English to say that he lost a watch and suspected the prisoner as one of three who might have taken it.

Judge Koch's linguistic attainments were then called into requisition. He essayed German as a preliminary experiment, but the "sprachen sie Deutsch?" elicited a wink of the blind eye and a shrug of the shoulder. Nothing daunted, addressed him again. "Parlez vous Français?" he whispered softly, but with a like result. Another shake and shrug, but this time more decisive.

There was nothing for it now but Spanish, and, diffident of his own familiarity with the pure Castilian, the Judge looked appealingly at the bystanders for some one to assume the rôle of interpreter. It was whispered confidently to His Honor that ex-Judge Barney Osborne had been in Mexico with the New York Volunteers, and he was acquainted with the unknown tongue. "Barney," by special request, came forward. He approached his task modestly, and placed himself en rapport with the unintelligible. He mumbled something—the Lord knows what. Then was poured forth such a torrent from the lips of the aged complainant that "Barney" retired incontinently from the field. Baron Schleiger, the philological Clerk of the Court, then came upon the scene, with an equally inglorious result. Baffled and in despair, Judge Koch rubbed his manly brow, and by a desperate effort of memory recalled his "Ollendorff."

"Qui en prend do ombre?" fiercely demanded he.

"Dos re trio non sabe quien," answered the aged man.

Cross-firing all along the line, Arab, French, English, German and Italian indiscriminately, a Milesian policeman, contributing his Celtic lore, tapped the Arab familiarly on the shoulder and said to him, with purest accent and ore rotundo, "Comisthather Moryah Haschemisch a shule agrah; shinum thee gaelich."

Confusion worse confounded now reigned. The Judge gave it up in disgust. The old Spaniard, who by this time had been resolved into a Portuguese, was David Erhana by name, looked on in dumb amazement, while the Arabs, Isaac Santo and his father Jacob Bannerosh, "folded their tent and silently stole away," as was the custom with their forefathers.

TOMBS POLICE COURT.

Confidence Betrayed—An Old Servant Turned Thief—Extensive Capture of Property—A Forger Caught—A Literary Beat—Defrauding the Press, the Public and the Prayer Book Merchants—Trapped in Time.

Before Judge Hogan.

The numerous cases of misplaced confidence that come to the surface every day make it difficult indeed for merchants to know whom to trust. The latest instance of this kind of deception came to light yesterday under most peculiar circumstances. A man named James Robinson has been employed by Messrs. Gardner & Co., of 54 Lispenard street, for eleven years. During that time he had shown himself to be a most efficient man of business, a faithful clerk and to all appearance an honest and upright man. In business hours no person in the employ of the firm was more assiduous in the discharge of his duties. He was generally the first to arrive at the store and almost always the last to leave it. His general demeanor and capability for commercial matters won him the good opinion of his employers, and step by step he went on

GROWING IN THEIR ESTEEM,

until within the last five years he was intrusted with a key to the safe, and it is astonishing, with so much opportunity to steal a large amount at his hand, he should have contented himself with pilferings from time to time. It has been now ascertained beyond all doubt that he has pursued the course that brought him to a prisoner's cell for some time. Not being well posted in the manner of working little intrigues of that kind he laid himself open to suspicion sooner than a regular practitioner would, and happening to fall in with Detective Field, of the Fifth precinct. His hesitating, nervous manner betrayed him, and the lynx eye of Field looked into the hollowness of the masked figure that passed him. The detective had several times noticed something unusual about the man, but his suspicions were not really aroused until he saw him go into a pawnoffice with a bundle and afterwards come out without. This at first he simply looked at as

A SINGULAR MISFORTUNE,

that a man in his apparent position in life should be compelled to resort to such accommodations to procure resources. But, seeing the same thing done over and over again, the detective became convinced that all was not right. Knowing the man well by this time, Mr. Field was on the lookout for him, and on Tuesday morning last he saw Robinson leave the house of his employers with a parcel, and, determined to find out exactly the extent to which the game was being played, he followed and saw him go into a pawnbroker's shop at 192 Canal street, kept by Hyman Copperman. When Robinson left the pawnbroker's he had no parcel, so that it was certain he had left the merchandise behind him. The detective still kept in his wake, and the unsuspecting thief went back to his work at the store. Field waited until the establishment was closed, and then spotting his man followed him to his home in Eighth avenue. He there ascertained that Robinson was a highly respectable man, with a wife and family, and that for a moment

DISARMED THE DOUBTS OF THE DETECTIVE.

Yesterday morning, however, Robinson came out of the store with a parcel done up as the previous one had been, and started to the same pawnbroker, and after remaining there some time came out empty handed. This decided Mr. Field, and he at once arrested him. He asked Robinson what he had been doing in the pawnshop, and the man answered that he had been delivering goods which the firm had sold to Coppeman. The detective then questioned him about the selling or stealing of the goods, and asked him point blank if he had not stolen them, but Robinson boldly insisted that he had sold the goods and was just leaving them at the house of the purchaser. Field took him to the Fifth precinct station house and then went to the establishment of Gardner & Co., who said they knew nothing of the affair. He requested an interview with the principal of the firm, and asked him if he had sold any goods that morning. Mr. Gardner had the books of the establishment produced and it was found that no sale had been made that day. The detective then, certain that in the affair went over to the Tombs Police Court to ask the advice and assistance of Judge Hogan. The Judge and he held a long consultation, the result of which was that officer Barrett, of the court squad, was sent with the detective, and Copperman was arrested behind his counter. The place was then searched, and an immense quantity of goods was found that had not been entered on the books. The goods pledged there yesterday by Robertson were found in the desk, and when they were shown to Gardner & Co. they were at once identified as their property.

HE HAD PURSUED THE PROPER COURSE

On searching the pawnbroker's establishment, the officers seized some eighty packages of a suspicious appearance, the property consisting of hundreds of dozens of kid gloves, an immense quantity of pearl buttons, silks, broche shawls, dress goods of all kinds, white shirts, table cloths, ten boxes of cigars, broadcloth, furs and a quantity of green cloth used for covering billiard tables, &c., to the amount probably in the aggregate of at least $15,000.

Messrs. Gardner & Co. have identified only about $140 worth of silk and machine twist as their property, and owners are wanted for the rest, which is at the Fifth precinct station house, Leonard street, near West Broadway. The prisoner Copperman says that he has received these goods from time to time since 1869, and that the most of them were brought there by a man who said he was a pedler, but he does not know him. A fact which raises a strong suspicion of guilty knowledge is that no entry is made in his books of any of the property seized by the officers.

The prisoners will be committed until a formal complaint against them can be made.

A VIENNESE SWINDLER.

Otto Stropp, of 75 and 77 Chatham street, charged Joseph Schmaler alias Julius Muneri with having forged his name on several occasions and obtaining money by such fraudulent signature. From the story of the complainant it appears that Schmaler came from Vienna and brought with him letters from some of the principal houses of that city, in which he had done business. Upon these representations Mr. Stropp employed him, but he was not long in the office when he committed a forgery. For this offence he was arraigned at Essex Market Police Court, but through some legal quibble he got off. Upon his liberation Shmaler endeavored to get a suit instituted against Stropp, but

NO ONE WOULD TAKE IT UP.

Since that time he has occupied himself with swindling various other firms. His most recent exploit, however, has been to represent himself as still in the employ of Stropp to the managers of the German New York Democrat, and he ordered these gentlemen to insert an advertisement for Stropp which would cost $48. In payment for the advertisement he handed a check drawn upon the Nassau Bank and made payable to J. T. Zickler or order for $60, and received the balance in money. After that he went to the store of William Ruddle, at 510 Pearl street, and got eight copies of the

NINTH AND SEVENTH BOOKS OF MOSES,

upon the account of Zickel for Stropp. He went to Appleton's, Harper's, Carlton's and almost all the principal publishers in town and procured books from them in the same way. When he had laid in a good stock of stolen books he made a trip to Jersey to dispose of them, but Zickel heard of his exploits and sent word after him. The consequence was that he was arrested yesterday and brought back to the city. Zickel and Radule made complaints against him, and it is expected a number of other charges will be made to-day, as he has been pursuing this course for some time. He was held to answer by Judge Hogan.

BROOKLYN'S BUDGET.

Report of the Board of Estimate—The Question of Eggs and Potatoes in the Charitable Institutions.

The Brooklyn Board of Estimate have completed their report, and will now submit it to the joint Board of Aldermen and Supervisors for approval. It shows the amount of money required for the support of the city and county governments for 1872. It is claimed that a reduction of $2,000,000 has been made, and that the rate of taxation will not be over $2 88. This will undoubtedly be most agreeable news for the taxpayers of Brooklyn, yet it is extremely doubtful if property owners will have sufficient confidence in the reduction to warrant them in lowering their rents proportionately. There has been so much chicanery that a large portion of the citizens of Brooklyn are scarcely willing as yet to look upon the reduction as being bona fide. Some of the reductions are of a questionable character, yet those only who are particularly affected will grumble. There were to have been four new fire companies organized this year, and they were really needed to keep pace with the growth of the city; but in the general cutting down of the expenses it was resolved that only two new companies should be added. The twisting and turning in the Board of Charities is perfectly agonizing. The Board of Estimate has taken off $97,000 from their first requisition, and the Commissioners are economizing by cutting off the supply of potatoes in the Almshouse and Nursery and the supply of eggs in the hospital. This is scarcely necessary, considering the fact that they are allowed even now $400,000. The Board of Education wanted $100,000 for the building of new schoolhouses, but the Commissioners of Estimate concluded to cut it down $30,000.

The entire appropriation for the Board this year is $571,000, against $750,000 last year. The public parks are to be maintained at the annual expenditure of $75,000.

The totals are as follows:—

	1871.	1872.
Total county purposes	$3,248,590	$2,376,195
Total city purposes	4,725,454	3,681,540
Total	$7,974,044	$6,057,735
Total 1871		$7,974,044
Total 1872		6,057,735
Total saving		$1,916,309

SAVED FROM THE GALLOWS.

Assassination and Robbery in Virginia.

A Citizen of Prince George County Slaughtered at His Own Door.

The Murderers Arrested, Tried, Convicted and Sentenced to be Hanged.

Respite of the Culprits While Preparing for the Scaffold.

PRINCE GEORGE C. H., Va., June 30, 1871.

On the evening of the 24th of March last Mr. Charles Friend, an old citizen of Prince George county, Virginia, was walking on the track of the City Point Railway, quietly pursuing his way home. It was dark and raining, but the venerable gentleman had often gone that way before without fear, as his life had been such that he was not conscious of having a single enemy in the world. He had grown up from childhood in that neighborhood, was a man of wealth, of distinction in the county, and a humane and kind-hearted Christian. Before dying, for he lived long enough to describe the manner of his murder, he told his friends and the magistrate who took the dying declaration that, having been to Petersburg to attend Lenten service at the Episcopal church, of which he was an officer, he left about dark for home, declining several invitations to remain over night with brethren of the church. He lived three miles out. When about half way on his journey he discovered that he was followed by a man to him unknown, but he had no apprehensions of danger. This man subsequently overtook him and struck him a blow on the head, which felled him to the ground and rendered him insensible.

The assaulting party seems to have been frightened off at this juncture by the approach of a train, for he left his victim for the time without further molestation. The train passed in a few moments, and before Mr. Friend recovered from the stunning effects of the blow, though it recovered him somewhat, as he was lying very near the edge of the track. After the cars had passed, Mr. Friend said, a negro came to him and raised him to his feet, and then assisted him across a trestle bridge on the road. The negro led him off on the path to his house, and here turned upon the poor, stupefied old man and inflicted several blows with a club, cutting and bruising his head and face in a frightful manner. He was left for dead in this condition, but subsequently revived sufficiently to crawl to the foot of the hill on which his residence was situated, and attract attention by his cries. His servants came to his assistance and carried him up to his house, where he died about eleven o'clock on the same night, after making his statement to the above effect.

At the inquest on the following day nothing was elicited that was calculated to implicate any person in the murder. One or more witnesses testified to seeing two men on the railroad near the place of the murder, one supporting the other and concealing both by an umbrella hoisted over their heads, and to having also heard cries for mercy.

The fiendish character of the murder and the high position of the victim, together with the mystery in which it was involved, created a deep feeling in the neighborhood, which extended throughout the State. The indignation of the people took a practical form, and they added $1,500 to the $10 reward offered by the Governor. This was an incentive to the police and the detectives even of Richmond, and several went over to Prince George to work up the case. A conflict soon arose between them and the Petersburg officers, which has not yet been settled, and which has resulted in casting doubts upon the guilt of the two men who paid the penalty of the law with their lives to-day, although nearly everybody, except the detectives of Richmond, is satisfied that they have suffered justly.

THE ARREST OF THE MURDERERS.

Richard Green and William Henry Johnson, both negroes of bad repute—one of whom had been in the Penitentiary but was pardoned out by the Military Governor, Wells, and the other had been engaged in a robbery, and it is said even in another murder—were arrested several days after the murder by Captains Gentry and Sydnor, of the Petersburg police, on suspicion, and the circumstances pointing to their guilt were very strong. Green was a tall black man, very muscular, and answered to the description given by Mr. Friend of the fellow who assaulted him. Johnson was a smaller man in stature and of much better intelligence than Green, and the greater villain of the two, as his name appears not only on the records of the jail but of the Penitentiary.

THE TRIAL.

The evidence elicited on their trial showed that two men answering their description were seen following Mr. Friend, and two were engaged in the murder, as was abundantly indicated by the tracks around the scene of the cruel deed. He was first assaulted by the taller of the two, who was prevented from robbing him by the approach of the train or of some person. As shown by his tracks he left the railroad, going away some five or six hundred yards. Friend was then, after the train passed, approached by another person, who, the testimony shows, was a small man, by whom he was assisted across the trestle bridge into the path, where the assault was renewed and the death-blows administered. Mr. Friend's cries of "Come here! come here!" while being beaten attracted attention at the house, and, being quickly responded to, the murderer was frightened away before time was allowed to complete the robbery which was undoubtedly the object. His hat, a basket containing clothing, and a few other articles were, however, carried off. The murderer left the spot and ran across a field, and joined the party making the large tracks, a few hundred yards away. The two then separated, and both went by different routes in the direction of Petersburg, the larger one going by the City Point Railroad.

THE ALARM GIVEN.

Shortly after the messenger, who rode rapidly to Petersburg for medical aid, had reached that city, Richard Green was seen by an officer of police hurriedly entering the town from the direction of the City Point road, and soon afterward Green was seen in company with Johnson in earnest conversation. They went to a house of infamous repute. Johnson remained outside, while Green went in and washed some blood from his clothes. He stated to the inmates that he had had a fight. The evidence showed, however, that no fight had taken place that evening anywhere in the vicinity. Both parties gave conflicting statements as to their whereabouts on the evening of the murder, each denying that he was out of his house after six o'clock P. M., whereas several witnesses saw them out at a late hour. Their efforts to establish an alibi were wholly unsuccessful, and after a fair trial, with a strong native radical for prosecuting attorney and ten negroes on the jury, they were

and both sentenced to death.

The belief in their guilt is general in the county where they were tried, and, although the evidence was purely circumstantial, there is no doubt on the mind of any reasonable or disinterested person of their absolute guilt. They were interviewed in jail by a reporter of the press, but persisted in asserting their innocence during the past week. A Catholic clergyman—the Rev. Mr. Kelley—was in attendance on them during the interval between conviction and execution, and gave them spiritual comfort. He had some doubts as to their guilt, and a good deal was said in the local press about it, growing out of the jealousies of the officers who did not get a share of the reward. The discussion of the matter led the Governor to inquire into the case, and he sent his private secretary to Petersburg to investigate it; and this led to the rumor during the earlier part of the week that there would be a respite; but the report of the secretary was satisfactory to the Governor as to their guilt, and he declined to interfere with the execution of the law. They were told that there was no hope, and accordingly they prepared for their awful doom.

THE GALLOWS WAS PREPARED

for the murderers of Mr. Charles Friend, and the crowd had gathered around it ready for the terrible and in this neighborhood unusual spectacle of the execution. William Henry Johnson and Richard Green, the two condemned felons, were prepared and resigned to meet their fate, though still calmly protesting their innocence, when Colonel T. F. Owens, the private secretary of Governor Walker, reached here with a

RESPITE OF THIRTY DAYS,

granted at the last moment this morning. It was as unexpected as welcome to the two negroes, while the spectators were greatly disappointed and some of them a little indignant at the interference of the Executive, so well convinced are all parties of the guilt of the men. But the Governor, although he gave no intimation of his intention to respite them up to the last moment, no doubt felt that in view of the very strong protest made by a respectable portion of the press against the execution of the sentence, because of the fixed belief in the minds of several of the Richmond officers of the

ENTIRE INNOCENCE OF THE PARTIES CONVICTED,

he might incur the censure of the community by acting hastily in the matter and sending the poor wretches to their long account without a full investigation into the allegation of their innocence, and therefore postponed the execution, making sure to err, if he has erred at all, on the side of humanity. The action of His Excellency receives the approval of all right-thinking men here, though the heedless mass grumble a little at it, which is not to be wondered at in consideration of the high and humane character of the deceased, his peaceful walk of life and the affection in which he was held by the people.

The whole course of this case has reflected the highest credit upon the authorities and people of the State, and exemplifies the love of order and spirit for law and justice that prevail throughout Virginia. The men are poor and friendless negroes, both are very bad characters, one having been in the Penitentiary, with the strongest conviction of guilt against them, and yet no man in this county or in the State has intimated a desire or even thought of interfering with the regular process of the law in their case. The allegations of their innocence will now be fully inquired into, and should there be any foundation for them a new trial will no doubt be granted the prisoners; if not they will be executed on the 30th of July, at which date the respite now granted expires.

MYSTIC PARK RACES.

Closing Day of the June Meeting—Good Attendance and Well Contested Trotting Events—Othello Winner of the 2:35 Purse and Thomas Jefferson, Jr., the Three-Year-Old Colt Race.

BOSTON, June 30, 1871.

Mystic Park closed its June trotting meeting this afternoon very successfully. There was a good attendance and two races, the black gelding Othello winning the 2:35 purse easily, but the three-year-old colt race was gallantly fought from first to last, the young Hartford stallion, Thomas Jefferson, Jr., being a winner.

The first race was for horses that never beat 2:35, for $1,000, and the entries were as follows:—Smalley's blk. g. Othello, Bisley's b. m. Fanny, Stowell's b. m. Lady Ellis, Woodruff's ch. m. Gypsy, Merthan's blk. g. Prince, Morris' b. m. Nettie Morris, Read's b. g. Captain Lawrence. The last three did not appear, and of the others Othello was a favorite against the field. Othello had the pole, with Lady Ellis outside, and after scoring half a dozen times they were given the word for the first heat. Othello kept the lead to the turn, where Fanny passed him, Ellis third, and Gypsy, who got a very bad send-off, in the rear. Fanny led an open length to the half-mile pole, in 1:15, but at the upper turn Othello forced her to a break and took the pole, winning, after an exciting contest, by half a length, in 2:32, Fanny second, Ellis third and Gypsy distanced.

In the second heat Fanny went off with a lead, Othello second, Ellis third. In this way they went all the way to the head of the stretch, both Fanny and Othello doing some breathing; but the black gelding trotted the homestretch very fast and beat Fanny a nose in 2:32¼. Ellis was third.

In the third heat Othello took a trifling lead as they went down toward the turn, followed by Fanny and Lady Ellis. Before the turn was made, however, Fanny took the pole and opened three lengths to the quarter; but ere the half was reached Othello had gone in advance one length, and did even better than that at the upper turn, taking the pole and winning the heat and race. Fanny was second and Ellis third. Time, 2:32¼.

The second and last race of the meeting was for three-year-old colts, for $500, the entries to which were the following:—Monstan's s. s. Gold Finder, Gilman's b. s. Torment, Hayes' b. g. Pioneer, Woodruff's b. s. Daniel Morrill, Dodge's b. s. Abdallah Chief, Norcross' c. s. Dreadnaught, Wright & Wallace's b. s. Wallace and Carpenter's blk. s. Thomas Jefferson, Jr.

On being called only Torment, Wallace, Jefferson and Morrill appeared, and the contest for the first heat was between the last three named, Torment acting badly and being distanced. The other three each took a turn on coming to the front, but Jefferson won the heat in 2:50¾, Morrill second, Wallace third.

The second heat was an excellent one between Jefferson and Wallace, Morrill acting unsteady at times and keeping in the rear. The black stallion kept the lead all the way to the head of the stretch, although but little over a length separated him from Wallace. A short distance down the homestretch Jefferson made a bad break and Wallace passed him, winning by half a dozen lengths, in 2:40¾.

The third heat proved a rattler, and the time broke all the slates ever before made in New England. Wallace led to the quarter in 40¾ seconds, but at the half-mile pole Jefferson had got head and head with him in 1:19¾. Jefferson took the pole directly after, and continued to force the pace, Wallace breaking at the distance and Jefferson running handily in the extraordinary time of 2:39¾, Wallace second, Morrill distanced.

The fourth heat was well contested between Jefferson and Wallace, hardly a length separating them until the distance stand was reached, when Wallace broke and fell off a trifle, when Jefferson gave him the go-by, winning in 2:44, thereby getting the first money, Wallace second.

SARATOGA.

Improvements in the Village—The Coming Race Meeting.

SARATOGA, June 30, 1871.

The rapid improvement of the village of Saratoga Springs is the first thing which strikes the visitor this season. Large numbers of buildings have been erected since last season, and among them several edifices of very handsome architecture. All the new business houses are in the best style and in keeping with the magnificent hotels, the erection of which within the last few years inaugurated a new era in the history of this famous old watering place.

Keeping pace with the general advancement, a number of new mineral springs have been discovered, and the supply of health-giving waters promises to be adequate to the wants of the vast and increasing numbers of visitors who annually avail themselves of the summer comforts here to be found. The company here is not yet very numerous, but decidedly select, and taking much quiet comfort. The citizens of the place have at last waked up to the importance of improving the drives—a matter too long neglected. The avenue leading to Saratoga Lake has been widened to 100 feet, gravelled, and ornamented with three rows of trees—one on each side and one in the middle—and it is constantly sprinkled its entire length. The drives in other directions have also been improved.

Indeed, improvement is the order of the day; and Saratoga can now boast of good drives, the best mineral springs in the country, palatial hotels, delightful shades, the best race course on the globe, and all the other elegant attractions appropriate to a great summer retreat.

A lively interest is exhibited in regard to the approaching races. There are already many distinguished race horses at the course, in active training, and among them some remarkable animals that have not yet run in public this season. The stables of Mr. Grinstead, Mr. Rice, Mr. Thompson and Mr. Stringfield, all of Kentucky; Mr. Belmont, Mr. Moran and Mr. Morrissey, of New York; Mr. Doswell, of Virginia; Mr. Hall, of Maryland; Mr. Pennock, of Philadelphia, and others, embracing a large number of horses, are here; and when to these are added several stables yet at Jerome Park and the detachment now at Long Branch, there will be an assembly of race horses never equalled in the country in numbers or quality. The rumor which was recently afloat to the effect that Mr. Belmont's magnificent horse Kingfisher had an injured leg was happily without foundation. He was never finer than at present, and is understood to be lying in wait for the great Western favorite, Longfellow. They will first meet here in the race for the Saratoga Cup, and will be wickedly backed by their respective admirers. They are very great race horses—believed to be the best in America—yet they may both be beaten, as Helmbold, Hamburg, Preakness, Judge Durell, Mary Clark and other good ones will have something to say about the Cup. Colonel McDaniel's Harry Bassett, another great favorite, will also have to pass through a fiery ordeal in the race for the Travers Stakes. The distinguished opponents whom he vanquished at Jerome Park will here be reinforced by some fresh recruits of boasted speed, and the question as to which is the best three-year-old of the year must not yet be considered as settled. It is understood that the steeple chase feature of racing, which has become so popular, will be rendered very attractive by the attendance of several horses of reputation from Canada. It is no new thing to have splendid racing at Saratoga, but the approaching meeting (to commence 12th of July) promises to be intensely interesting. A second meeting is to be held in August (commencing on the 16th), which will be a grand finale to the summer campaign.

THE SULTAN OF MOROCCO AND THE AMERICAN MISSION.

We have been favored with the following extract from a letter from Fez, which will give an idea of the reception accorded at that capital by the Sultan of Morocco to the American Mission:—

FEZ, May 23, 1871.

The party arrived here yesterday at noon and had a most brilliant reception. There were fully 5,000 persons out, including a line of troops about a mile long. All the ministers and dignitaries of the State and Church were out; in fact, from what I hear, it was an unusually grand affair. We are now lodged in a fine house within the walls, but not quite in the town. The house is quite in the Moorish style, with fountains throughout it. The journey altogether has been very pleasant, not too warm; there were two nights' heavy rain, but only a few drops came through the tent. We were scarcely in the place yesterday before some one sent for our use twelve jars, about fifty-six pounds each, of cakes and sweetmeats, three basins, about two gallons each, of milk, which was almost cream, twelve loaves of sugar, three tins of tea, besides sheep, meat, &c., and this, I am told, is to be repeated daily, although we are only ten in number. With the exception of the first night, which was in a poor district, this has been the style of treatment all through. Each dish of cuscus was enough for thirty or forty persons, and one which came into camp the night before last was carried by three men; imagine the size! To-morrow will probably be the day of reception by the Sultan.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, June 30—6 P. M.

On 'Change to-day wheat was heavy and lower. The cotton market was more active, and, upon favorable Liverpool advices, prices advanced ⅛c. a ¼c. per pound.

MONEY TWO TO THREE PER CENT.

Money was extremely easy, and was offered quite plentifully at three per cent on stocks, with 2 a 3 per cent as the rates on government collaterals.

Foreign exchange was nominally steady, but the market was easier. Good to prime bankers' sterling was quoted 110⅛ a 110⅝ for sixty day and 110⅞ a 111⅛ for sight bills.

THE DRY GOODS IMPORTS.

The imports of dry goods during the week ending June 29, 1871, were $1,556,894. The entries for consumption amounted to $1,073,680 and withdrawals to $238,917; warehoused, $483,214.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

A Washington telegram states that the forthcoming public debt statement will show a reduction of about $6,000,000 for the month of June. The amount of Treasury notes (greenbacks) now outstanding is $397,700,000.

GOLD STRONG—112⅞ A 113⅛.

The gold market was steady in the forenoon, but toward noon gave signs of increasing firmness in connection with reports of intended large shipments of specie to-morrow. Later in the day these reports were confirmed by the discovery that about $1,500,000 had been put up for export by Saturday's steamers, and gold rose from 112⅞ to 113⅛—a lot of $200,000 selling at the latter figure. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $900,000 on account of the July interest, making a total since Monday of $7,787,000. The course of the market is shown in the table:—

10 A. M.	112⅞	1:30 P. M.	113⅛
11 A. M.	113	2 P. M.	113
12 M.	113	3 P. M.	113
12:30 P. M.	113⅛	4 P. M.	113⅛
1 P. M.	113	5:30 P. M.	113⅛ a 113⅛

In the gold loan market the rates ranged from flat to 1-32 for borrowing. The operations of the Gold Exchange Bank were as follows:—

Gold cleared	$50,164,000
Gold balances	1,862,162
Currency balances	2,112,518

GOVERNMENTS STEADY.

The government list was steady, but less firm, and to some extent irregular. The closing street quotations this evening are as follows:—United States currency sixes, 115 a 115⅛; do. do., 1881, registered, 114⅝ a 114⅞; do. do., coupon, 118 a 118⅛; do. five-twenties, registered, May and November, 113⅛ a 113⅜; do. do., 1862, coupon, do., 113⅝ a 113⅞; do. do., 1864, do. do., 113⅛ a 113⅜; do. do., 1865, do. do., 113⅛ a 113⅜; do. do., registered, January and July, 112 a 112⅛; do. do., 1865, coupon, do., 115⅜ a 115⅛; do. do., 1867, do. do., 115⅜ a 115⅝; do. do., 1868, do. do., 115⅝ a 115⅞; do. ten-forties, registered, 110⅞ a 111; do. do., coupon, 110⅞ a 111.

SOUTHERN SECURITIES DULL.

The Southern State bonds were dull and generally strong. The new South Carolina July bonds—which will be quoted ex coupon of three per cent, gold, on and after to-morrow—were a trifle lower. Missouri sixes were firm at 97. The following were the latest prices:—Tennessee, ex coupon, 72 a 72½; do. new, 72 a 72½; Virginia, ex coupon, 64 a 66; do. new, 72½ a 74; do. registered stock, old, 54½ a 55; Georgia sixes, 85 a 89; do. sevens, 93 a 94; North Carolina, ex coupon, 46½ a 47; do. funding, 1866, 35 a 37; do. do., 1868, 30 a 32; do. new, 27 a 27½; do. special tax, 20½ a 21; Missouri sixes, 97 a 97¼; do. Hannibal and St. Joseph, 96 a 96½; Louisiana sixes, 69 a 72; do. new, 64 a 67; do levee sixes, 71 a 73; do. eights, 85 a 89; do. Penitentiary sevens, 70 a 72; do. railroad eights, 75 a 79; Alabama fives, 69 a 72; do. eights, 102 a 103; do. railroad eights, 95 a 100; South Carolina sixes, 74 a 77; do. new, January and July, 61½ a 62; do. do., April and October, 60 a 62; Arkansas sixes, 57 a 60; do. sevens, 50 a 64.

THE NEW ISSUE OF ERIE.

OFFICE OF THE FARMERS' LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY, 26 EXCHANGE PLACE, NEW YORK, June 29, 1871.

W. B. CLERKE, Esq., President New York Stock Exchange:—

DEAR SIR—I have received a communication from the Erie Railway Company, of which the enclosed is a copy. The thirty days' notice required by the rules of your Board will commence from to-day. Yours, very truly, R. G. ROLSTON, President.

The following is the communication referred to:—

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, ERIE RAILROAD CO., CORNER EIGHTH AV. AND TWENTY-THIRD ST., NEW YORK, June 29, 1871.

R. G. ROLSTON, Esq., President Farmers' Loan and Trust Company:—

DEAR SIR—The common capital stock of this company has been increased by 30,000 shares of $100 each, by the conversion into stock of convertible bonds to the amount of $3,000,000, which bonds were issued for the purpose of borrowing money for the finishing, completing and operating of the Erie Railways. Yours, &c.,

MORTIMER SMITH, Assistant Secretary.

STOCKS STRONG AND DULL.

The stock market was intensely dull. Transactions were entirely confined to the clique brokers, who marked prices up in two or three of the leading shares, the general market sympathizing with the advance. As we said a few days since, there are only two classes of persons interested—the "bull" cliques on the one side and the straggling "short" interest, or professional "bears," on the other. The outside community have seldom been so little represented in the market. A dull, strong tone prevailed throughout, and prices at the close were, as a rule, the best of the day. The following table shows the extreme range of quotations for the leading stocks:—

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

FRIDAY, June 30—6 P. M.

ASHES.—The market was steady, but the demand continued slow, and sales were confined to small lots at $6 75 a $7 25 for pots and $9 a $9 75 for pearls.

CANDLES.—The market was moderately active and steady at 13c. a 15c. for adamantine, 29c. for plain sperm, 39c. for patent do. and 28c. a 29c. for stearic.

COPPER.—The demand for American ingot continued active and prices were firm. The sales reached 500,000 lbs. at from 21⅛c. a 21¼c. Manufactured was steady, with a fair demand, at 19c. a 21c. for old sheathing, 30c. for new do., 36c. a 38c. for nails, 32c. for bolts, 22c. for yellow metal new sheathing, 24c. for do. bolts and 22c. for do. nails.

COFFEE.—The market for Rio was active, and prices advanced ¼c. per lb., with light offerings at the improvement. The sales were 2,624 bags, per John Shay, and in Baltimore 4,000 bags per Peggy, 835 per Paladin, 641 bags per Robert C. Wright, 3,100 bags per Echo, 897 bags per Elverton, and 274 bags per Waverley. Other kinds were decidedly firmer, but not higher. 200 bags Maracaibo sold on private terms. We quote:—Rio, ordinary cargoes, 10¼c. a 10½c.; fair do., 11c. a 11¼c.; good do., 11½c. a 11¾c.; prime do., 12½c. a 12¾c.; extreme range for lots, 10¼c. a 13½c., all gold, per lb., in bond, thirty to sixty days' credit. Java (government bags), 19c. a 20c.; do. (grass mats), 18½c. a 22c.; Singapore, 17c. a 18c.; Ceylon, 15½c. a 17c.; Maracaibo, 13c. a 17c.; Laguayra, 14c. a 16c.; Jamaica, 13c. a 15½c.; St. Domingo (gold, in bond), 9¾c. a 10c.; Costa Rica, 13½c. a 17c.; Manila, 14c. a 15c.; Mexican, 13c. a 17c.; Savanilla, 13c. a 15½c.; Curacoa, 13c. a 15c., all gold, thirty to sixty days' credit, duty paid.

COTTON.—The market, stimulated by favorable news from Liverpool, was more active and decidedly higher—all grades experiencing a sharp advance of ⅛c. per lb. The demand for cotton on the spot was, however, only moderate at the improvement, and the market closed quiet but very firm, with small offerings. The sales were as follows:—

	To-Day.	Last Evening.	Total.
Export	191	162	253
Consumption	1,479	94	1,573
Speculation	426	—	426
In transit	1,550	—	1,550
Total	3,646	256	3,902

Included in the above are 24 bales to arrive. We quote:—

	Uplands.	Alabama.	New Orleans.	Texas.
Ordinary	15⅞	15⅞	15⅞	16
Good ordinary	18	18⅛	18¼	18⅜
Low middling	19⅞	20	20⅛	20⅜
Middling	20⅝	20⅞	21⅛	21¼
Good middling	21⅞	21⅞	22⅛	22⅞

—The quotations are based on cotton running in quality not more than half a grade above or below the grade quoted. Forward deliveries were in active speculative request and prices were higher, closing, however, with the improvement partially lost and less active. The sales to-day amounted to 13,650 bales, on the basis of low middling, as follows:—July, 400 at 19⅞c., 800 at 20c., 700 at 20c⅛., 1,200 at 20⅛c., 200 at 20¼c., 300 at 20⅜c., 200 at 20 1-16c.; August, 750 at 20⅛c., 400 at 20 5-16c., 1,900 at 20⅜c., 1,000 at 20⅛c., 200 at 20 7-16c., 600 at 20⅛c., 200 at 20 5-16c., 600 at 20c⅛., 100 at 20c., 100 at 20 3-16c., 300 at 20⅛c., 300 at 20 1-16c.; September, 400 at 19⅞c., 100 at 19⅞c., 600 at 19⅞c., 200 at 19⅞c. October, 400 at 18⅞c., 100 at 18 13-16c., 100 at 18⅞c., 200 at 18 11-16c.; November, 1,200 at 18⅛c., 100 at 18⅛c. Yesterday, after 'Change, 3,500 bales were disposed of as follows:—July, 100 at 19⅞c., 200 at 19 15-16c., 600 at 19⅞c.; August, 300 at 20c., 700 at 20 1-16c., 600 at 20⅛c.; September, 200 at 19⅛c.; 300, September, at 19⅜c. and 300, November, at 18⅛c., together; October, 100 at 18⅛c.; November, 100 at 18⅛c.; total since last report, 17,150 bales. The average quotations of yesterday's forward deliveries were as follows:—June, 19⅞c.; July, 19.91c.; August, 20.06c.; September, 19.30c.; October, 18⅝c.; November, 18.17c.; December, 18⅛c. The receipts at the ports to-day sum up as follows:—Galveston, 546; New Orleans, 1,797; Mobile, 161; Savannah, estimated 250; Charleston, 352; Wilmington, 40; Norfolk, 386; Baltimore, 293; New York, 133, and Boston, 96 bales. Total, 4,034 bales. Same day last week 4,425 bales. Same day last year 1,635 bales. Rates for cotton freight to foreign ports closed thus:—To Liverpool, by steam, ⅜d.; by sail, 5-32d.; to Havre, by steam, 1c., gold; sail, ⅞c.; to Hamburg, by steam, ⅝d.; sail, 5-16d., compressed; to Bremen, by steam, ⅞c., gold, compressed; sail, ⅞c.; to Baltic ports, by sail, ⅞c., gold. The stock of cotton at this port on June 30 is shown by actual count to be only 53,660 bales, as follows:—In warehouses, 51,499 bales; on shipboard, not cleared, 850 bales; on wharf, 1,216 bales, and in Jersey City, 95 bales.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.—Receipts—Flour, 11,567 bbls.; wheat, 47,015 bushels; corn, 122,291 do.; corn meal, 339 bags; oats, 51,623 bushels. The flour market continued dull. There was considerable offering, but very little demand. We have only to note sales of about 8,000 bbls. at our quotations. Rye flour was quiet, but steady; small lots of superfine sold at $5 40 a $5 85. Corn meal continued in moderate demand and steady; sales of 300 bbls. Jersey and yellow Western at from $3 75 to $3 75. We quote:—

—Wheat was dull, nominal and lower. The sales were only about 30,000 bushels at $1 45 a $1 46 for prime No. 2 spring. Small lots sold at $1 47, No. 1 do. nominally $1 48, new amber winter $1 67 a $1 70, and choice white Michigan $1 80. Corn continued active and steady. The sales were about 218,000 bushels at 71½c. a 72c. for Western mixed, and 75c. for Western yellow. The sales were mostly at 72c. a 72½c. Oats were steady and in moderate demand at 65c. a 65½c. for Western, and 68c. a 70c. for white Ohio car loads and afloat. The sales were about 65,000 bushels. Barley—Entirely nominal. No demand, and no stock here. Rye dull. Nominally 91c. for Canada in bond, and State $1 05 a $1 10.

FREIGHTS.—The market continued quiet. There was very little inquiry for room, either by steam or sail, and rates for grain were easier. A moderate chartering business was effected at steady rates The engagements were:—To Liverpool, by steam, 20,000 bushels corn at 7½d. a 7¾d., and 15,000 bushels do., for next week's steamer, at 8d., and by sail 15,000 bushels grain at 6½d. The charters comprise a bark hence to Cadiz, staves and general cargo, on private terms; a bark from Philadelphia to Marseilles, 3,000 bbls. crude petroleum, 5s.; a British brig hence to Gibraltar, for orders, 2,400 bbls. refined petroleum on private terms; a ship hence to Cronstadt direct, 6,000 bbls. refined petroleum, 4s. 6d.; a British bark, hence to Antwerp, 3,200 bbls. naphtha, 4s. 9d.; a bark to Montevideo, lumber, $18 50 and five per cent primage; a British bark and a brig from Baltimore to Aspinwall, coal, $7; a brig to north side Cuba, coal, $3; a schooner and a British brig to the Windward, 50c. per bbl; a bark, 700 hhds. of tobacco, hence to Cork for orders, on private terms.

GUNNIES.—Considerable business was transacted in cloth, but at a slightly reduced price. The sales since our last have been about 700 bales at 18½c. a 16¼c. Bags continue quiet at 13½c. a 14c. Messrs. G. Tuckerman & Co. report the stock as follows:—New York, 11,120 bales of cloth and 6,600 bales of bags, and in Boston, 9,076 bales of cloth and 8,279 do. of bags.

HEMP AND JUTE.—The market for both foreign and domestic hemp continued quiet but unchanged. Jute was in better demand, and 500 bales of rejections sold to arrive at Boston for 5c. and 500 bales of jute butts at 4c. cash. We quote:—Dressed American, $2 60 a $2 85 per ton; undressed do., $1 85 a $1 90 per ton; Manila, 11c. a 11½c., gold; Sisal, 9c. a 9½c., do.; Tampico, 7¼c., gold in bond and Sunn, 6½c. a 7c., currency; jute, 5½c. a 6½c., gold and jute butts, 4c. a 4½c., currency.

HAY AND STRAW.—Shipping hay was only moderately active, while retail qualities met with ready sales, quoted at $1 05 for shipping and $1 20 a $1 45 for retail qualities. Straw steady at $1 70 a $1 80 for long rye, $1 20 a $1 30 for short rye and $1 for oat.

IRON.—The market for Scotch pig was decidedly firmer. The cheap lots which have of late depressed the market were either withdrawn by holders or sold, and at present no considerable lots can be purchased under $33 for Glengarnock from yard, $32 for Glengarnock from dock, $32 for Eglinton from yard and $31 50 for Eglinton from dock. The sales comprise 400 tons Glenock, in lots, at $31 50 a $32; 300 tons Eglinton, on private terms; 100 tons No. 1 Coltness, at $30 50, gold; 75 tons Glengarnock, at $31 25, cash, and 200 tons No. 1 crane, for August delivery, at $35. American pig was scarce and firmly held at $35 for No. 1, at which price 200 tons were sold in lots, and $33 for No. 2. Offers have been made of $35 per ton for 5,000 tons No. 1 American, this season's delivery, and refused. Bar iron was firm at previous full prices. Domestic and English, $74 a $75 per ton, and Swedes, assorted, $80 a $100, gold, per ton.

LEAD.—The market for pig was firm at $6 12½ a $6 15 for Spanish and German and $5 15 a $6 50 for English, without important sales. Refined was firm at $8 75 a $9 per ton for bars and $10 25 for sheet.

MOLASSES continued dull of sale, and for cargo invoices prices were quite nominal in the absence of sales. A small jobbing demand was supplied at full prices. We quote:—

RUM AND ROWDYISM.

Death of the Boy McCann, Shot by Joseph Ozab.

Yesterday afternoon information was received from Captain Cameron, of the Eighteenth precinct, that Peter McCann, the youth of sixteen years of age, who was shot by Joseph Ozab, as heretofore published in the HERALD, had died in Bellevue Hospital, at half-past eleven o'clock in the morning. At a late hour on Monday night last deceased and his brother Patrick and Timothy McCarthy entered Ozab's saloon, 308 avenue A, and ordered refreshments, for which they refused to pay. Ozab, being unable to get the money due him, ordered the men to leave his place, but that they refused to do, and commenced an indiscriminate assault on him with weapons. Finding himself hard pressed, and believing his life to be in danger, Ozab drew his revolver and fired three shots, one of which took effect in the right temple of the boy McCann and passed into his brain, immediately reducing him to unconsciousness, in which condition he remained up to the time of his death.

Ozab and one or two others are in custody. Coroner Schirmer has the case in charge and will hold an inquest in a day or two. In the meantime Joseph Cushman, M. D., will make a post-mortem examination on the body of deceased. Ozab still insists that he did not use the pistol until he thought his own life was in peril.

THE HONEST HACKMEN.

Meeting of the Association to Organize a Cheap Hackney System.

An association has been formed among the hackmen for the purpose of conveying passengers and their baggage for fifty cents each to any point between the Battery and Twenty-seventh street. The agents of the association are to be known by a badge worn upon the hat marked "Association Carriages." The association met last evening at 129 Spring street to perfect their arrangements. Some 213 members have already signified their intention of joining.

A committee, consisting of Messrs. Reid, Nesbitt, Harris, Marrion and Yubbs, were appointed to wait on the Mayor for the purpose of ascertaining whether hotel coaches come under the same law that hackney coaches do, and whether it is legal for non-residents of the State to obtain licenses. The association will commence operations on Thursday next, July 6. The officers are as follows:—President, John W. Marrion; Secretary, J. Phillips; Treasurer, James Naughton.

VETERANS OF THE GULF.

Reunion of the Army and Navy Association at Newport.

The brilliancy of the season at Newport will be largely increased on the 7th of July by the presence of hundreds of the gallant heroes of the war, who distinguished themselves as officers of the Army and Navy of the Gulf, the occasion being the annual reunion of the society. The gallant cavalry commander, Phil Sheridan, will preside at the business meeting to be held at the Academy of Music at noon of the 7th. The literary exercises will take place at the Academy at seven o'clock P. M., when an oration will be delivered by Colonel Granville P. Hawes, of New York, a poem will be recited by Mr. H. H. Brownell, of Rhode Island, and a memorial address on the life of the late Admiral Farragut will be made by the Rev. Dr. H. E. Montgomery, of New York. The grand banquet will occur at the Ocean House at nine o'clock the same evening. As the railway companies will issue tickets at reduced fares it is expected that the attendance of the veterans will be larger than at any previous reunion of this renowned association.

DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA.

Coroner Schirmer was yesterday called to No. 21 Essex street to hold an inquest on the body of Frederick Otto, a German, thirty-one years of age, who died from hydrophobia. Deceased, a carman by occupation, some time ago was bitten by his own dog, which was killed immediately, and but little more thought of the circumstance till the horrible malady recently developed itself. Dr. Steiger, of Allen street, was called to attend Mr. Otto, and after his death gave a certificate, which, however, was not accepted by the Board of Health.

EDUCATIONAL.

FORT WASHINGTON FRENCH INSTITUTE.

Exhibition in Modern Languages and Telegraphing—Distribution of Medals and Prizes.

Our best suburban seminaries have managed as a rule to nestle themselves along the steep banks of the Hudson River. The location is healthy, and it is certainly something for a youth to learn the teachings of letters and science in the presence of the majestic scenery of the sweeping stream. A very pleasant location indeed has Mr. V. Prevost's Institute for youths, and a lovely day he had yesterday for airing the merits of his system of tuition. A not very large but of ladies and gentlemen, most of them relatives of the students, assembled yesterday to witness the exhibition and distribution of prizes. Among the ladies present it was easy to mark the daughters of Spain and France, as distinguished from their fairer German and American sisters, and yet brunette and blonde were well represented in their types of beauty.

As the name of the institute would indicate, particular stress is laid on

FRENCH AND OTHER MODERN LANGUAGES.

While mathematics and natural sciences are not forgotten, it is a pity a more thorough classic groundwork is not given, which would be of such immense use in the study of all Romanic languages. Thus, while highly creditable exhibitions were made in Spanish, French and German, the only Latin translated was from the first page or two of the first book of "Cæsar's Commentaries." A very creditable feature to notice was the proficiency of the young gentlemen in music, their piano playing calling forth much commendation. The boys were mostly young, and much could not be expected from them in elocution, but in their linguistic recitations and clear enunciation of the foreign idioms were noticeable. A young Spaniard can certainly learn French with comparative ease, but it requires hard work to teach him German, and in this M. Prevost has well succeeded. A capital paper was read by Mr. C. Martin, of the first class, descriptive of the Morse telegraph, and its use was demonstrated by

A TRUE PRONUNCIATION

THE TELEGRAPHING CLASS

in a series of messages written by the visitors and transmitted from one end of the class room to the other. This is a really useful branch of modern education. Chemistry also has its students, who show considerable technical and practical knowledge in the science. The exercises closed with the distribution of medals and prizes, after an address by the Rev. Dr. C. Stoddard. Mr. C. Lemon won the prize for languages. Messrs. A. Gilbert and E. Talcott received respectively the gold and silver medals of the institute for gentlemanly behavior. The prizes, in the form of beautifully bound volumes, were then given out lavishly. There seems, indeed, a disposition in all seminaries to

of some sort or other, the only approximate judge of merit being in the heaps of gilt-edged octavos which the students carry off. A better and more real witness of the advancement was in the certificates of excellency in the various departments of the school. The institution is doing well, as it deserves.

COLLEGE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

Meeting of the Alumni—Election of Officers.

The graduates of this renowned college, which has sent out into the world some of the brightest lights of the legal and medical professions, and editors, authors and professors in profusion, never let the anniversary of the Alumni pass without commemorating the event in a becoming manner.

Yesterday about two hundred members met at the College, corner of Lexington avenue and Twenty-third street, when President Tremaine took the chair. It was noticed as a remarkable circumstance that of the great number present fully nine-tenths of the "boys" were brunettes and fully nine-tenths of them wore glasses. Prominent among them were Judge Koch, Professor Werner and ex-Alderman Hardy, Clerk to Common Council. The usual reports were read and adopted and the graduates of this year welcomed in a neat address by President Tremaine. The report of Judge Koch, of the Examining Committee, was especially interesting, as it gave a detailed statement of the system of tuition in the College, but no more so than that of Mr. Werner, the historian, which gave interesting details of the members of the Alumni who had reported in answer to circulars. The members later proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing term. Mr. H. E. Tremaine was renominated. He at first positively declined to serve, but when unanimously nominated he consented to act. Mr. William Stratford, the present Secretary, was re-elected by acclamation, as was Vice President Mr. E. Cox, and Treasurer, Mr. John Knox; Mr. John Hardy on the Committee of Students' Aid Fund; Adolph Werner, S. J. Jelliffe and Fred J. DePeyster, Auditors. Mr. DePeyster was unanimously chosen historian—a position he is said to be remarkably fitted for, owing to his familiarity with the affairs of the college. The members of the Executive Committee at Large chosen were Peter B. Wright, William B. Banks and Judge Koch. The various classes went into ballots and selected their respective members of the Executive Committee. A collation in the college building followed, which was noted for the flow of wit and wisdom and a good time generally.

Although the College of the city of New York cannot for some years to come celebrate its centennial it has already been most creditably represented by its alumni in almost every field of science and art, and can justly claim a prominent position among the educational institutions of the nation.

ST. GABRIEL'S FEMALE SCHOOL.

The annual examination and exhibition of St. Gabriel's Female Parochial School, East Thirty-sixth street, was last night concluded by the exercises of the first department. In honor of the occasion the schoolroom was tastefully decorated with flags and presented quite a pleasant and lively appearance. For the nonce the ferule has disappeared, or was quietly laid away till after the holidays, and the youthful faces of the pupils were lighted up by a joyous satisfaction which no thought of task or birch clouded. From their places on the platform they smiled down on the audience in a diffident manner that told of pleasure, not unmixed by embarrassment. No doubt was uppermost in their minds as they stood before their friends and acquaintances in all the glory of white muslin dresses and broad blue or pink sashes. They felt they were pretty and interesting, and that knowledge appeared from time to time on some crimson cheek as a nod of recognition came from among the audience. The good Sisters of Charity who have charge of that school were present and seemed to take immense delight in the proficiency of their pupils, although in

THE FEELING OF GIRLISH PRIDE

A QUIET, SUBDUED MANNER.

The exercises commenced with a grand chorus from Handel by the pupils, which was excellently given. An examination in Christian doctrine followed, which afforded an opportunity to the young ladies to display how well the Sisters had grounded them in the principles of their faith. Examinations in arithmetic, algebra, quadratic equations, English grammar, &c., followed, and exhibited a very creditable state of proficiency on the part of the pupils. After the examinations were ended a grand chorus was given. The most pleasing part of the proceedings, as far as the young ladies were concerned, now came on in the theatrical representations.

"WHO SHALL BE OUR ROSIERE?"

a drama, was the first piece produced, in which the different characters were well sustained by the Misses McAviney, Boylan, Sawier, Crowley, Dolan, Grady, Darcy, Brady, Casey and Carrol. This piece was followed by a chorus, and then another drama, entitled "The Disputed Will," was put on the boards, in which Misses Dawson, Tyrell, Lawler, Grady, Boylan, Cumisky, O'Connor and Darlington appeared. The dramatic part of the entertainment was brought to a close by a third drama, entitled "Virtue Rewarded," the comedy and lighter pieces being carefully excluded.

The exhibition was brought to a close by an address from Mr. Kiddle, Superintendent of the Public Schools, who spoke in high terms of commendation of the proficiency of the pupils, and paid a well-merited compliment to the zeal and ability of who instruct them so successfully in spiritual as well as temporal knowledge. Mr. Lawrence D. Kiernan, Clerk of the Department of Public Instruction, also addressed the pupils, and, while complimenting them on their satisfactory progress, administered to them some excellent advice. Then the pupils and their friends scattered to their homes, well content with the result of the year's labors.

RUTGERS COLLEGE ALUMNI.

At a recent annual meeting of the Alumni Association of Rutgers College, New Brunswick, N. J., Mr. Richard L. Larremore, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, was elected President of the association for the ensuing year.

BRAINED WITH A DUMBBELL.

George H. Ward, who resides in Ninth avenue, between Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth streets, went last night with a friend to the house of Mrs. Hollans, 987 Third avenue, and while there a man named Alexander Ives, who boards in the house, without any provocation whatever, struck him a heavy blow on the head with a dumbbell, fracturing his skull. Ward was removed to Bellevue Hospital and Ives to the lock up.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE.

National Issues—Another Letter from John Quincy Adams—The Re-Formation of the Northern Democracy—Advice to the Democracy of the South—How They "Accept the Situation."

[From the Augusta (Ark.) Bulletin.]

Some short time since we wrote a letter to this gentleman upon political matters, expressing, among other things, the apprehension that, with Grant's vast patronage, most unscrupulously used, he would not yield the Presidential chair, even if defeated before the people in 1872, and that our republic, like its predecessors of old, is so rapidly drifting into the channels of corruption that the people in despair may look to one military leader as the only means of saving them from the utter ruin threatened by another. This was the general scope of our letter, to which the following is a reply. It will be seen that Mr. Adams, who represents the anti-radical party of New England, endorses the Vallandigham policy; and the question with the South is, can she save herself if she throws off her friends in New England, Pennsylvania, Ohio and the other States? They "accept the situation," not because it is right and just, but because it is imposed upon them by a force they cannot resist. Read Mr. Adams' letter:—

QUINCY, Mass., June 5, 1871.

DEAR SIR—I cannot pass over silently a letter which gratifies me as much as yours, which I received to-day; and yet I feel shy of speaking to you or any citizen of the "subject States." I dislike to earn the retort, "Oh, it is very easy to preach; but suffer as we have and then tell us how you feel, and we will listen." I do try to take it home to myself; and I do not doubt that, in similar circumstances, I should be to-day an "unrepentant rebel"—sore, angry, beaten and defiant. And with me it would doubtless have been as it has been with you, that "the tender mercies of reconstruction had been harder to bear than all the horrors of invasive war." I should have been galled by misgovernment, robbed by imported knavery of the pittance which the war had spared, exasperated by wilful and persistent misrepresentation and cruelly condemned to hopeless impotence for the imputed guilt of cowardly crimes I abhorred. I should have been condemned, too, to hold my personal liberty at the nod of a mercenary carpet-bagger or the whim of a military satrap. I say that I fear I should have been an "irreconcilable." In such a case I think I should be sulky; but I know I should be silly if I yielded to the feeling. For whence must my relief come if my last estate is not to become worse than the first? Is there a man outside an asylum who thinks that by such a course the "lost cause" can be regained? By whom, then? If by the North believe me that the experiment of secession has satisfied us that no cause is worth a civil war. That war has confirmed, beyond a shadow of a turning, the destiny which decreed that there shall be but one confederated people of the North American Union. No. Rebellious I might be, but weak enough to await the resurrection of secession I do not think I could be. You and I and your friends and neighbors and mine are of one blood; we were once "fellow citizens;" and the old time kindness must linger yet, in spots. Our fathers were "brethren," and that must count for something. The whole political problem of the future turns upon the answer to the question, "Shall we live together as friends or enemies?" Now the whole internal policy of the present administration says war. Reconstruction meant war; and the Ku Klux bill declared war. This Union is now held together by force. Certainly, if this is to be permanent, it would have been better to have parted at first. If the struggle to cast out slavery overthrew the constitution what chance is there for a "free" government if the North is to rule the South? South Carolina is to-day the most shameless parody on republican institutions since republican Rome bestrode all the nations of the ancient world, put the sword to their throats, stripped them bare, and then lacked words to laud the loveliness of liberty. You cannot be subject and we be long free. The untrammelled exercise of local self-government by the people of the States is the salt which preserves our whole system. Take that away and our frame of polity will rapidly rot into despotism. Therefore it is that, not as a partisan, but wholly as a fellow citizen, I trust that all the good citizens of the seceded States will frankly and honestly accept the revolutionary changes which have been forced upon the constitution and with them cheerfully adopt the new relations of amity and political and civil equality towards the emancipated class which these changes involve. And therefore I am glad when I see the noble spirit of your letter pervading the Southern people as it does, despite the malignity of a partisan press, while the sterling sense of Mr. Vallandigham has reformed the Northern democracy. And it matters not what man may be chosen to lead us so long as his heart is large enough to hold his whole country: his soul brave enough to embrace a Confederate as a brother, and his platform wide enough for every American citizen to stand upon. To compass this end something of sacrifice is required of us all; much of self-control is demanded of the South. You and all I hear assure me that the attempt will be made, and if made honestly and in earnest, it cannot fail. Again thanking you for your letter, I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant, J. Q. ADAMS.

To J. T. TREZEVANT, Augusta, Ark.

[From the Boston Advertiser, June 30.]

In the event of his (Governor Claflin) refusing to accept, and in that event alone, as it seems to us, there would be a sharp contest for the succession. Dr. Loring's conversation at Salem places him in the field, with an alert and well organized support. The name of General Butler is occasionally mentioned—oftener, however, with apprehension than with any reasonable expectation that he could be nominated. If the present delegation in Congress were to furnish a candidate either Mr. Dawes or Mr. Washburn would be universally acceptable on personal grounds, would strengthen republicanism in Massachusetts, and bring to the chief magistracy the integrity and high character traditionally associated with that office. To neither of these gentlemen, however, would the office be worth contending for, and we presume they would not consent to any contest in their behalf. In the eastern part of the State several gentlemen have been named, probably without reference to their wishes, whose nomination would be eminently satisfactory and creditable to the State; but they, too, would be slow to be put in the position of candidates waiting for a nomination, or to take any part in the quarrels of factions into which a strong party in power is unavoidably divided. Among these the name of Judge Hoar would be a tower of strength to any party. The nomination of Alexander H. Rice would not only give profound satisfaction to the great majority of republicans, but would secure a chief magistrate whose past services to the city and the Commonwealth pre-eminently merit such a recognition. Mr. Jewell, from his experience and influence in the Legislature for several years, has made many friends throughout the State, who hope at some early day to see him advanced to the Governorship. And there may be others of whose leadership no one would speak but with respect and praise.

CANING A COMMODORE.

The Cooper Union Students Acknowledging Artistic Ability.

Commodore B. F. Brady, of the Hudson Amateur Navy, was invited by the "Testimonial Committee" of the Cooper Union students to betake himself, on Thursday night last, to "Where the woodbine twineth," at the corner of Thirteenth street and Sixth avenue. The Commodore had engrossed the very elaborately ornate testimonial lately presented by the students of the Union to their patron, Mr. Peter Cooper, and as he had every reason to feel proud of his work he thought there must be something pleasant to occur under the shades of the Woodbine. He gave his hair an extra brushing, polished his forehead, dressed his extensive mustache and got himself up in such a manner as might engross the attention of anybody. The committee appeared at the Woodbine shortly after nine o'clock and taking the Commodore to a private room presented him a handsome gold-headed cane. Mr. Ives, on behalf of the committee, made the presentation speech and said that the committee had unanimously decided to give Mr. Brady the work of preparing the testimonial to be presented to Mr. Cooper, and considering the quality and amount of matter to be disposed of and the limited time in which it was to be done, it had been so beautifully executed that the committee on behalf of the graduates and the entire school deemed something more than mere pecuniary compensation was owing, and they therefore selected the cane, which they hoped Mr. Brady might long be able to swing and have no occasion to lean upon it.

Mr. Brady thanked the committee and accepted the gift in a very neat speech, after which the committee, with Mr. L. Fitzgerald, of the Jiber's Club, and a few friends, passed a pleasant evening, with the aid of soft shell crabs and other delicacies of Nolan's cuisine.

A MODERN LUCRETIA BORGIA.

Extraordinary Allegations Against a Connecticut Woman—She is Charged with Despatching Three Husbands and Four Children—Her Arrest in Jersey.

From the ancient town of New Brunswick, in New Jersey, comes a sensation fraught with the horrible, excelling in the latter quality the famous "King Lear" case. There was arrested yesterday in the town, at the railroad depot, a woman named Lydia Sherman, of middle age, and not altogether unprepossessing in appearance, on the extraordinary charge of having caused the taking off of no less than three husbands and four children.

Mrs. Sherman, it seems, has been stopping in New Brunswick for the last three weeks with some friends. Her home is in Derby, a place somewhere near New Haven, Conn., but it is several months since she left there. Five or six years ago, in the month of August, she married a native of Connecticut, but before a great while suddenly became a widow. Again she married, and again her husband died in manner

NO LESS SUDDEN THAN MYSTERIOUS.

Once again the "disconsolate" widow took comfort in uniting herself to a gentleman named Wilson H. Sherman, a widower, with no children of his own. Some four or five months since he, too, followed the other two husbands, and under circumstances that created

STILL GREATER SURPRISE.

Subsequently his two children and two of her own dropped quietly into their graves one by one. The excitement occasioned in Derby was so great that after she had left several of the bodies were exhumed, and, as alleged, unmistakable evidences of poison discovered. The authorities of New Brunswick were communicated with, and requested to keep a sharp eye on the woman's movements. Yesterday Deputy Sheriff Henry A. Blakeman, of New Haven, armed with a requisition from Governor Jewell, of Connecticut, and countersigned by Governor Randolph, of New Jersey, arrived in New Brunswick, and, with the aid of the local authorities, effected the

CAPTURE OF THE WOMAN.

She had just dropped off the five minutes past one train in company with a female friend. When informed of her arrest she took the matter exceedingly cool. She was dressed in a light summer suit and a neat jockey hat. She was taken to New Haven. These are the particulars gathered from Deputy Sheriff Blakeman. Whether the examination of the woman will bear out the terrible suspicions now entertained remains to be seen.

PLYMOUTH LECTURE ROOM.

Mr. Beecher's Review of His Ministry.

Mr. Beecher gave his last "talk" last night previous to the summer vacation. He reviewed his ministry and brought out some interesting opinions from the brethren concerning his methods of preaching. He said:—If I live till a year from next October I shall have been the pastor of this church a quarter of a century. No man can look back over such a work without a great deal of serious thought. It was not given me to go in the beaten path. I have been obliged to work as I was directed. I do not undertake to say that I always have done for the best, or that I have always been consistent. But there are some thoughts that have grown with me. One is that the Word of God is yet to inspire in us the noblest conception of God and help us best to reach God. I rely upon it more implicitly than ever I did. I attempt to keep abreast of the scientific thoughts of the day and of all the schools, both at home and abroad. Everything else seems to me like chaff when compared to the Bible when it comes to the relations of the soul to God. All the knowledge that I see substituted for it is in the words of the apostle. I also have a growing sense of the universal need of every human heart—of the sinfulness of man and his need of God at every step. That is a growing feeling, and out of this comes pity. I abhor wickedness, but less and less do I abhor wicked people. I also stand strong in the conviction of the power of the grace of God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, to regenerate the heart. I believe that men do find Christ personally; that there is a vital union of the soul to Christ. With these great truths what ought to be the genius of man's ministry—intellectual? Ought it to arouse men by the power of conscience and fear? I admit that fear has its place. But it was not given to me to work by either of these methods, but it was given to me to preach

THE BEST BOOK

A KNOWLEDGE THAT PUFFETH UP,

HOPE AND LOVE.

Now it becomes to me a painful question to know if my method has been the best. I have felt, and I feel more and more confident, that the power of love and sympathy, trust and hope, is the strongest. I think that these elements make the most beautiful character. I have noticed in my own ministry that this way of giving the truth has had great power over outcasts. A great many who had thrown off all restraint, here found the beginning of a new life. In the next place this mode of administration has tended to develop a type of Christian character that is joyful and courageous. It has had a tendency to banish asceticism. You will seldom hear in our meetings the incessant declaration of one's own sinfulness and the sin of one's neighbors. A man should not forever ruminate his sins.

THE SENSE OF SIN

should give a man an uplift. The apostle says:—"Forgetting the things that are behind." I think this preaching produces as much activity as any other. I don't think that men converted under the pressure of fear average as well as those under sympathy and love. Love is God's blood, and

THOSE WHO HAVE LOVE CAN WORK

and never tire, for love never fails and everything else does. I am satisfied that in the main I have been on the right track, though I have failed to come up to my idea, and I believe that the Church of the future will preach more and more God's victorious love.

A "BROTHER" expressed the opinion that Mr. Beecher might preach more about conscience and justice to advantage, to which

MR. BEECHER replied:—"You agree pretty much with me. My preaching isn't perfect; I have had that opinion a long time." I should like to hear, he continued, whether the Gospel as preached here sweetens men in their business, whether they live on the love principle? That is the aim of my preaching. Preaching means business or it means nothing. It is the emptiest work if it doesn't show in character. To say I preach splendid sermons is well enough, but if my preaching doesn't result in character it isn't worth anything. What I glory in is the growing up of men beginning to be like Christ. I don't believe any of you undervalue my preaching as much as I do myself. I feel all the time as if I was underdoing my work. I never have begun to attain to that which hovers before me, always just before and always eluding me.

UNCERTAINTIES OF THEOLOGY.

Vagaries of a Variable Vicar.

Things worldly and profane are liable to change and receive impressions from the stronger and more attractive bodies that surround them, and so, it would appear, do things and men who have to deal only with salvation and care of souls. It is not an infrequent thing to see a man of profound learning and cultivated mind secede from the faith of his childhood and adopt a church's rubric that was hitherto opposed to his belief; but it is a most unusual thing to see a minister of the Gospel turn from one faith to another and then, after a trial, go back again to his former fold. This has been the case with Dr. Forbes, who, it is believed, has caused so much trouble to the trustees of the General Protestant Episcopal Seminary. This body held a meeting Monday night, the object of which was to consider a pamphlet written by one of the faculty making serious charges against the Dean of the Seminary, Dr. J. Murray Forbes.

Among the other charges made are that Dr. Forbes keeps aloof from and does not know or care to know the students, and that he does not attend prayers as often as twice a week. Besides attacking his efficiency his learning and general conduct are assailed. Bishop Atkinson, of North Carolina, at the meeting called the attention of the Board to the pamphlet and asked that a committee of investigation be appointed. A trustee moved and the meeting voted to lay the matter on the table.

Dean Forbes, it appears, interpreted this action to be equal to a tacit admission of their belief of the assertions made against him in the pamphlet, and immediately, and, it is said, in a great state of excitement, tendered his resignation and at once left the room.

A scene of confusion and great excitement followed. A part of the meeting, it is reported, sustained Dr. Forbes, while some of the delegates took decided exception to his course.

The Trustees remained in session all day yesterday. The Doctor insists upon the acceptance of his resignation.

The utmost reticence is shown by all those present at the meeting as to the facts of the case. The death of ex-Judge Bell occurred, as already noticed, while he was attending the meeting last night.

It will be remembered that Dr. Forbes was formerly pastor of the Episcopal church on Eighth street, opposite Lafayette place, afterwards St. Ann's Roman Catholic church. Dr. Forbes joined the Catholics and was appointed parish priest of St. Ann's. During his term as a priest he preached in St. Peter's church, Barclay street, an eloquent and exhaustive argument in favor of the dogma of the Immaculate Conception of the Virgin Mary shortly after its promulgation by Pope Pius IX. Some few years since he renounced Catholicity, rejoined the Episcopal Church, and in course of time was elected Dean of the Seminary. If what has leaked out as part of the proceedings may be taken as evidence, the deanship has not been an easy or comfortable position.

WEATHER REPORT.

WAR DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, WASHINGTON, July 1—1 A. M.

Synopsis for the Past Twenty-four Hours.

The barometer has fallen since Thursday evening at the Rocky Mountain stations and still more in the northwest, where an area of low pressure at present exists. The barometer has risen on the Atlantic coast and the highest pressure is central in Deleware. The temperature is very generally stationary or lower than on Thursday night. Easterly winds have been generally experienced from New Jersey southwards and on the lower lakes. Fresh southerly winds on the upper lakes, and light winds on the Gulf. No reports have been received from Florida, but rain has fallen in portions of Georgia and Alabama, followed at present by clearing up weather. Clear weather has prevailed in the Middle and Eastern States, followed this evening by cloudy and threatening weather, with light rains, which has spread from Minnesota over Lake Superior and Northern Michigan.

Probabilities.

It is probable that the barometer will fall on Saturday from Virginia to Illinois and northward, with cloudy weather. Fresh and brisk winds will probably be experienced on the Upper Lakes and easterly winds continue on the Atlantic coast. Light winds are probable for the Gulf States.

AN OUTLAW ASSASSINATED.

CHICAGO, June 30, 1871.

A noted prize fighter and desperado, who had long been a terror to the people of Central City, Erie and other mining districts in Colorado, was shot dead at Erie on Saturday last by some person unknown. He went by the name of "Looney." On the day previous Looney and a comrade named Jim Gray brutally assaulted and maltreated the Rev. Mr. Van Valkenburgh and another citizen. On Saturday Looney entered a saloon with a huge knife and a revolver, and commenced violent demonstrations against two other persons. While they were thus engaged a rifle ball came whizzing through the open door and struck Looney in the side. He dropped to the floor dead. It is not known who fired the shot; but it is supposed that it was done by a member of the Vigilance Committee raised at Boulder to rid the country of the ruffians there. The death of Looney gives universal satisfaction.

Died.

BERGEN.—Drowned, on Friday, June 30, FREDERICK ISAAC, second son of Alderman Jacob I. Bergen, aged 6 years.

The relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral services, on Sunday, at half-past three o'clock P. M., at the residence of his parents, 405 Sackett street, Brooklyn, without further notice.

Marine Disasters.

STEAMSHIP CLOTILDE—Portland, Me, June 30—The British steamer Clotilde, which went ashore on Wells' Beach in December last, was floated off last evening and was towed into Portland harbor this morning. She is not much damaged, and will be taken into the dry dock for repairs. She was originally from Newcastle, England, for Portland, with a cargo of iron and sal-soda. The iron is on the beach at Wells and the soda is in bond at this Custom House.

SCHR SOPHIA R JAMESON, of Rockland, Me, Malcolm, from New York to Aux Cayes, was lost at the NE point of Inagua on the night of the 24th ult. The cargo, consisting of provisions, will nearly all be saved dry.

By authority of the Board of Directors of the New York Railway Company, and in conformity with the terms of the act of incorporation in that respect, the undersigned commissioners on Stock Subscriptions give public notice for and on behalf of the directors, and of such company, that books of subscription for the capital stock thereof will be opened on Wednesday, the 28th day of June, inst., at the following places in this city, viz.:—
At the banking house of Duncan, Sherman & Co., No. 11 Nassau street.
At the banking house of the Bank of the Metropolis No. 31 Union square.
The Company is authorized to construct two Viaduct Railways or branches through the city of New York, on the east and west sides thereof, from a common starting point at or near Chambers street, between Broadway and Chatham street; also across the Harlem river and through Westchester county; with power to build additional lines of railway or branches, from time to time, in any part of the city or Westchester county. The property acquired by the Company is exempted from taxes and assessments during the period allowed for the final completion of the railway in the city. The Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of New York are authorized and directed, with the approval of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, to subscribe for five millions of dollars of the stock of the company whenever one million of dollars thereof has been subscribed for by private parties. This conditional amount of stock has been wholly subscribed for and taken by the directors of the company. On the completion of either of the lines of railway to the line of Westchester county the supervisors of that county are authorized to issue the bonds of the county to such amount as the supervisors shall deem expedient, to aid in the construction and extension of the railway in and through that county. For the proper equalization of the interest of shareholders who may subscribe and pay in moneys at different times the directors are authorized to issue scrip for interest on such payments, payable out of the earnings.
The terms of subscription will be as follows:—
Ten per cent of the amount of stock subscribed for to be paid in cash at the time of subscription. The residue to be paid as called for by the Board of Directors on a notice of thirty days, but no call at any one time to exceed ten per cent.
Scrip for interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum will be issued by the company payable out of the first earnings of the railway on all instalments paid on stock subscribed for within thirty days after the subscription books shall be opened.
The company reserves the right to close the subscription books at any time after the 28th day of July, 1871.
By order of the Board of Directors.
ALEXANDER T. STEWART,
JOHN JACOB ASTOR,
LEVI P. MORTON,
Commissioners on Behalf of the Company.

THE FEATURE OF THE NINETY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY—A three days' holiday for the school children, the Stock Board, the downtown merchants. But how the poor preachers will have to suffer over the Sabbath!

A FAILURE—Secretary Boutwell's new five per cent loan. The subscriptions to the Secretary's loan thus far amount to but $66,934,650, less than seven thousand dollars having been subscribed during the past week.

THE BOSTON Advertiser says the name of General Butler in connection with the Governorship of Massachusetts is "mentioned with apprehension." That was what has occasionally been mentioned in connection with the man himself.

THE RUSSIAN PRINCE ALEXIS, at the head of a splendid squadron, will leave Cronstadt about the last of September for the United States. His suite will be composed of the most illustrious youths of the Russian nobility—a very interesting item of information to American ladies ambitious of Russian aristocratic alliances and imperial distinctions.

DEPARTURE OF THE NEW YORK YACHT SQUADRON FOR CAPE MAY.—The fleet of New York yachts destined to take part in the regatta at Cape May on the Fourth of July will assemble at the Horseshoe this afternoon, and take their departure soon after the arrival of the Long Branch boat at that place. Should the wind prove fair and there is enough of it the fleet will arrive at its destination the next day, and it will doubtless be welcomed in the most enthusiastic manner.

SO MUCH FOR THE COMMUNE.—There are sixty thousand workmen engaged in removing the debris and in rebuilding the places laid waste in Paris by the incendiaries of the Commune. To repair all the damages resulting to the city and its immediate surroundings from its two sieges since September last one hundred thousand men will probably be required for five years, and this will be something to the unfortunate Parisians.

A MOVE IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.—Commissioner Pleasonton has expressed his determination, in view of the decreased duties devolving upon collectors of internal revenue, to reduce their salaries accordingly. This is a commendable resolution; but the Commissioner can, without danger to the public service, go further, and discharge a host of useless tax gatherers, whose main employment has been to fatten upon the people's money.

WALL STREET AT LOW TIDE.—The Wall street markets have drifted into summer dulness, and on the eve of the double holiday of July 4 there is very little doing. The idea of making Monday a holiday, which originated with the stock and gold brokers, has been taken up by the downtown dry goods merchants, the Cotton Exchange and other departments of business. The Board of Education have also ordered a recess in the public schools from last evening to Wednesday morning.

KING VICTOR EMMANUEL, by a sort of flank movement, is moving upon Rome. En route he has been welcomed with a very enthusiastic reception in Naples, and will doubtless be received with a similar demonstration in the new Italian capital. As a son of the Church, however, he has a hard task before him in the matter of a reconciliation with the Holy Father, and we suspect that he is little afraid of it: but we shall see.

France—Her Difficulties and Her Prospects.

France to-day, in spite of all her misfortunes, still commands the attention of the world. The Longchamps review, so long deferred, has at last come off, and, most strange to say, the demonstration, so much dreaded, revealed nothing. Over one hundred thousand men marched past the President of the French republic and the members of the National Assembly who chose to be present; but we have no record that the troops demonstrated in favor of the republic, in favor of the empire, or in favor of the monarchy. All we know is that, under the personal command of Marshal MacMahon, they behaved well. Of all similar military demonstrations on French soil of which we have any remembrance the demonstration of Thursday last on the Longchamps race course must be pronounced the least satisfactory. The most that we can say is that President Thiers was not insulted and that MacMahon was obeyed. The result of the military review, so far as we know the facts, is a surprise to the world. The soldiers did not speak. The sentiments of the army are, therefore, unexpressed. The loan, however, has proved a still grander surprise. Many were of opinion that France was crushed and crushed almost to death; but, contrary to general expectation, the French people revea untouched resources of unexpected bulk and patriotism of disappointing power. We know of no loan in the whole history of the past which, from a national point of view, has been so grand a success. The review and the loan, taken together, seem to imply that France, though somehow badly managed, is yet radically strong.

The truth, in our judgment, is spoken when it is said France is a puzzle to herself. Dumas speaks out after a manner and in a style which show that in the son the father yet lives; but Dumas' letter, which we gave in the HERALD of yesterday, is the wildest wail of sorrow of which we have any recollection. He thinks of all the past, from 1789 downward, and seeing only fictions and failures he cries for a man. "Where is the man," he asks, "who will save us?—we want a man. Don't look so far for this man; you have him at hand; this man, it is you, it is I, it is each one of us. Be each one a man, and the providential man, the great man whom we always end by overturning and cursing, will become completely useless. How to constitute one's self a man. Nothing harder, if one knows not how to will it; nothing easier if one wills it. * * * It is not a question of the mass; let us see how to constitute the individual, for it is necessary that the individual that is the ruler of himself should rise out of this great tempest. The being self-contained and self-knowing, knowing whence he comes and whither he goes, what he wills and ought to do with his life and with the group of lives dependent on him, having his ideal and his absolute; the individual, in fact, does not exist in France, or at most is very rare. * * *" In spite of the much bunkum, the everlasting yeas and the everlasting nays of which his letter is full, we must admit that the author of "La Dame aux Camelias" has told his countrymen some plain and simple truths, and that President Thiers has done well in thanking him for his letter. It is not clear, however, that M. Dumas is himself at all clear as to how his country can be again set upon its feet. Then, again, Gambetta has been lecturing at Bordeaux. We have not Gambetta's lecture before us, but, from the rude telegraphic outlines, we must conclude that the ex-Dictator has his eyes open, and that his thoughts and purposes are even more patriotic than selfish. At Bordeaux the burden of his song seems to have been "education." In the interests of his country no man in a great public speech ever struck a nobler key. France is noble, spirited, gallant, brave; but Frenchmen are ignorant and priest-ridden in the mass; and therefore France is sold just as often as she gives promise of taking her place among the nations who are great and free. Let Gambetta cling to his new idea; let him accept any government which the masses of France demand; but let him hammer at this radical evil after the fashion of General Grant, and he may yet prove the savior of his country. M. Rouher also speaks out. M. Rouher is one of the ablest representatives of the defunct empire. But he does not despise the present government. Accepting things as they are, he only goes in for free trade. If M. Rouher finds a place in the Assembly he will make President Thiers somewhat uncomfortable; for Thiers, supple as he is, is a protectionist at heart. As we have said on more than one occasion in these columns already, France and the world anxiously await the result of the elections which are to come off to-morrow. The review at Longchamps has revealed and explained nothing. Expectation on tiptoe looks forward to the Sunday elections. The success, the unparalleled success, of the national loan bids us hope for the republic.

France has so often swung around the fruitless circle from the republic to the empire that it is difficult to decide how France is to come forth from this fresh struggle. The imperialists, as we all know, are full of activity. The Orleans princes are on French soil, and if report speaks truth they have good reason to count upon success. The republic for the present, so far as President Thiers represents it, is master of the situation. If President Thiers will only stand by the republic, and honestly accept the lessons read him by the success of the national loan, the French republic is secured, and the handwriting on the wall has been exhibited for the benefit of the monarchies of Europe. The republic can alone give France pride and that confidence which means power. If she goes back to monarchy, to divine right and priestcraft, or to imperialism, she will only stultify herself. Once more she will fling away all she has won and all she cares to call her own. If she clings to the republic she will do for herself what her ideas have done for Italy and for Germany; she will make herself strong. It was the strength of France that begot the idea of Italian unity; it was the strength of France that begot the idea of German unity. These two facts accomplished, France finds herself weak. She has made her neighbors stronger than herself. On the old monarchical or imperial tack she can no longer win. What she wants is a new point of departure. Let her go in now, on the confidence of this loan, if for no other reason, for the republic. A French republic fairly established will be the death-knell of every monarchy in Europe. Talk of the restoration of Alsace and Lorraine! Absurd. A republic in France, commanding, as there is now every reason to believe that it would do, the sympathy and support of the entire French population, the entire South of Europe would rally around it; the republicans of Germany would take courage; the Von Bismarcks and the Von Beusts, the Austrian Hapsburgs and the Prussian Hohenzollerns would tremble in their boots, and Paris might become the capital of the United States of Europe.

How France may act we know not. It is yet very doubtful. But France has the benefit of a glorious example. In her first struggle we, as a separate people, had only begun to exist. We cannot, we will not, forget Lafayette. We hoped for her and prayed for her when she first essayed in Europe what we had done in America. She essayed nobly, but failed. She has since, on more than one occasion, repeated the attempt; but success has not yet attended her. Let her try once more. The chances are all in her favor, and she has now, mainly through our success, the knowledge that republican institutions must at no distant day cover the earth. Of all the European nations she alone is in a position to lead. In spite of all her failures and many and grievous sorrows the oppressed of Europe look to her, and hope through her yet to win. If this time France fails France and the Latin nations are lost. If France succeeds in becoming a republic Europe will be revolutionized, and the dynasties will be nowhere. We wait; but we wait with hope and fear.

For and Against New Departures.

It is evident that both of the great political parties are in a similar fix as to making any new departure, except that a very large majority of the democrats have entered upon it with a rush, and only a small faction show any opposition, while the republicans are only just beginning to wake up and divide on the question. Some of the Massachusetts republicans are anxious to make a new movement, with General Butler for the leader, for all sorts of reforms. The Young Men's Republican State Convention, held at Binghamton, New York, on Thursday, declare in their resolutions that they propose "to form no new party, to take no new departure," but to hold on to the old organization and republican platform. The republicans will have to take a new departure, notwithstanding these young fogies at Binghamton, if they expect to maintain their power. General Grant and his administration will not be a platform broad enough much longer. The democrats have the advantage of being the attacking party, and will take any departure to win. Butler and his Massachusetts friends are more sagacious than the Binghamton youths. Looking at the political field all round—at the departures and no departures of parties and factions—we are likely to have a lively time all along till the Presidential election of 1872.

THE LATEST FROM THE COREA.—The despatch stating that Mr. Low, our Minister to China, is with Admiral Rodgers in Corean waters is no news. We have been aware of it for some time, and the purpose of his going we are also informed about. It is more than probable that Admiral Rodgers found out very quickly after his arrival that shot and shell were the only arguments that could be used at first with the Coreans, leaving the soft words of diplomacy to follow. The force of his argument we have heard of, and we have but little doubt that its effect will be telling in the future. He has opened the road in a proper manner for negotiations, and now there may be a chance for Mr. Low to accomplish the purpose of his mission, and carry on negotiations that will lead to a treaty whereby American seamen will be protected and cared for should they be unfortunate enough to be wrecked upon the inhospitable shores of the Corea.

HARD CONUNDRUMS—Those propounded to the republican party of New York at the Young Men's Republican Peace Convention, at Binghamton, the other day, by General Van Wyck, viz.:—"Why are we divided? Who will answer to the nation? Why are we not united? Who can make reply? Is there any question of principle at issue? Is there any division in matters of legislation? Are we not a unit? and if not, why not? Why is brother arrayed against brother? Why are time-honored republicans ostracized? Why are our batteries turned against our own ranks? Why has there grown up a party for Paul and a party for Apollos? Why is it that new shibboleths are to be introduced?" And so on, and so on. We can't tell. These are too many hard questions for one sitting. If the inquiring reader, however, cannot obtain the desired information from "Boss Tweed" or Mr. Greeley, let him apply at Long Branch, to Collector Murphy, for Murphy knows all about it.

GOVERNOR WALKER, of Virginia, is no respecter of persons, but evinces a determination to mete out justice to all classes alike, whether black or white. Yesterday he gave mortal offence to a large portion of the citizens of Prince George county, who had assembled to witness the execution of two negroes, convicted of the murder of Charles Friend, of that county. The testimony implicating the condemned in the crime was very slight, and there being a reasonable doubt of their guilt, Governor Walker granted them a respite for thirty days. This exhibition of clemency on the part of the Governor was not relished by a majority of the crowd present, who firmly credited the guilt of the accused and were clamorous for their execution.

NATIONAL ISSUES.—John Quincy Adams has written another letter to a Southern gentleman, in which a comprehensive review of national questions is given and a little further advice offered to the Southern democracy. We are inclined to think, however, that the letter is calculated to furnish heavier ammunition to the republicans than to the democrats. The distemper of letter writing does not seem to have been confined to the early fathers of the republic.

BALANCES IN THE TREASURY.—Currency, $6,250,000; coin, $94,500,000; coin certificates, $18,752,000. A good reserve fund; but still the question may be asked, what does the Secretary want with so much idle gold?

Dumas on the Needs of France.

The letter of Alexandre Dumas, printed in yesterday's HERALD, is a remarkable document. Unlike the epistles of Victor Hugo, it breathes a life which is its own—it emits a heat which is not all flame. Throughout it is a faithful exposition of its opening words:—"I have been to Versailles to see; to see is to know; to know is to foresee." Pungent as if is in its review of the past, strikingly as it deals with the fictions of the last eighty years, wonderfully as it portrays the "sudden hatchings of unforeseen, incomprehensible phenomena, gigantic ephemera, colossal phantasmagoria, which come in a moment to gesticulate, to utter a cry and die on a background reddened by fire and blood," it is not less pungent, striking and wonderful in its grasp of the present, in its suggestions of the needs of the future.

That is a terrible sentence in which he says:—"When M. Thiers asks for twenty-four hours of reflection before declaring war against Prussia we call him a Prussian, and wish to pull down his house, and when we are beaten we elect him in twenty-six departments, and when his house is really demolished we vote a million to rebuild it; and now that he has saved us we ask how we shall be able best to get rid of him." And that which follows it is not less marvellous in the truth it conveys, the terror it inspires:—"And we let thirty thousand of our sons be slain for the pleasure of Gandissart, which is hard; and we pay five milliards for a phrase of M. Favre, which is dear; and we accuse Trochu of treason because he was not willing to make us exterminate ourselves, which is mad." And yet this man who sees the fact so clearly declares without reserve, "We are all more or less republicans at heart, and we cannot help exclaiming, in the presence of this ideal, the republic, as the singer Camille said upon the scaffold as he pointed to his forehead, 'Nevertheless, there was something there.'" Of the providential man France needs to save it he exclaims, "It is you, it is I, it is each one of us." France needs a man truly, and M. Dumas has discovered him, if the French can recognize him and say with this distinguished son of a distinguished father, "It is you, it is I, it is each one of us."

THE POLARIS, Captain Hall, bound for the North Pole, left our waters on Thursday evening last at seven o'clock. She will stop en route at St. Johns, Newfoundland, for a supply of fresh seal oil, which takes the place of salt junk in the Arctic regions. Captain Hall will then push forward to his winter quarters in the ice pack which fringes the unexplored open sea around the Pole, and with the return of the sun in May next he will endeavor, by ship or by sledges, to reach the Pole itself and plant thereon the "Stars and Stripes." If there is an island around the Pole he will annex it; if "Captain Symmes' Hole" is there, leading into the interior of the earth, he will probably go in. Whatever it may be and whatever may be there, we rely upon Captain Hall to reach the North Pole, and

In one or two years,
Or three at the most,

we expect he will return in triumph from his bold and hazardous undertaking.

GREECE AND TURKEY are reconciled. This announcement is not a very important one, considering the fact that Greece and Turkey have fallen out over so many times, the quarrel invariably ending in an apology on the part of Greece. The difficulty now amicably settled arose in the following manner:—The Greek government inquired of the Sublime Porte whether a certain Greek diplomatist, whom his antecedents prove to have been very unfriendly to Turkey, would be agreeable to the Sultan as the representative of Greece at Constantinople. The Sultan said, "No; by no means." In spite of this reply the Greek government sent the diplomatist aforesaid to Constantinople, when the Sultan naturally refused to see him, which led to a war of words and to the present reconciliation.

TRIBULATION OF THE SAINTS.—Brigham Young must become the recipient of a "new revelation" if he would be comfortable among the hordes of Gentiles who have so suddenly invaded his mountain-walled paradise. Evidently government officials will give him no peace until he lays aside his assumed authority and conducts himself as becomes a citizen of the United States. Brigham thought to try the temper of Territorial authorities by ordering out the Mormon militia for parade on the Fourth. This being in direct violation of the proclamation of the late Governor Shaffer, acting Governor Black audaciously snubs the President of the Mormon Church by forbidding the assembling of the saintly militia, and gives Brigham to understand that he had better abstain from playing President in future.

MUSIC IN THE CITY HALL PARK was inaugurated yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large concourse of people. The musicians' stand was draped with American flags by request of the Mayor, and the incident produced a sensation among the multitude. We learn that the music on the Battery on Friday afternoons will hereafter be continued as usual, and Wednesdays be devoted to sweet strains in the City Hall Park. This is well. Our people love music. The Park Commissioners should give them plenty of it.

THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT has already taken the initiatory steps toward the fulfillment of the Treaty of Washington. Our latest cable despatch on this head says that Halifax will cease to be a naval rendezvous, and that the British North American fleet is to be considerably reduced, in view of the fact that the greater part of its occupation—viz., that of catching Yankee trespassers—is forever gone.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.

First Assistant Engineer Frederick G. McKean, detached from the Bureau of Steam Engineering and ordered to the Ashuelot, in the Atlantic Fleet, and William S. Smith, from the Norfolk Navy Yard and ordered to the Monocacy.

Second Assistant Engineer Jabez Burchard is detached from Leago Island and ordered to the Ashuelot.

The United States steamer Swatara, Captain Allen, arrived at St. Thomas from Samana Bay, on the 14th ult. She took the balance of the coal at St. Thomas, and returned to Samana about the 23d. One man died on board on the 14th ult., named Samuel S. Smith, seaman, of disease of the kidneys. He was buried in the Roman Catholic churchyard at St. Thomas.

LONG BRANCH.

Return of the President—Renewed Activity Among the Visitors and the Bluefish—Delightful Weather.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., June 30, 1871.

The arrival of the President here this evening has awakened into life the dormant energies of the place. He came by the Jesse Hoyt, accompanied by General Porter and Frederick Grant, having spent a few hours in New York en route from Washington. The President seems to have a great dislike for the Plymouth Rock, the favorite of the "Prince of Erie," which is a floating "aviary and music box," as he never comes down from the city on her. The Jesse Hoyt is a plainer and a faster boat. Perhaps the last consideration weighs heaviest in the scale of President Grant's preference.

There were more carriages at the depot and more life on Ocean avenue this evening than I have observed since the President's departure—owing to his arrival, I suppose.

It is a curious fact that each time General Grant arrives, after an absence of a few days, the bluefish rush in upon the beach. They came in large numbers when he returned from Washington the last time, and to-night they lashed their tails in high glee among the breakers.

The weather here is magnificent now. The days are warm and the nights delightfully cool.

There are numerous arrivals to-night, and a great crowd of people is expected here to-morrow.

Personal Intelligence.

Count Turenne, Secretary of the French Legation, yesterday arrived at the Albemarle Hotel.

General F. D. Sewell, of Washington, has taken quarters at the Grand Central.

General Reeve, of the United States Army, is sojourning at the Astor House.

General R. Pratt, of Salt Lake City, is at the Madison Avenue Hotel.

Professor J. Hilyard, of Washington, is at the Astor House.

Miss Nilson is again at the Everett House.

Indian Commissioner General Eli S. Parker is at the Gilsey House. He is to start to-day for Schooley's Mountain, where he will remain for some weeks to recruit his health.

Paymaster Cochran, of the United States Navy, is quartered at the Hoffman House.

General William Bisbon, of Albany, is at the Sturtevant House.

George M. Pullman, of Chicago, is residing at the Brevoort House.

Judge H. L. Lester, of Saratoga Springs, is at the Gilsey House.

General W. A. Quarls and J. E. Bailey, of Tennessee, have taken quarters at the St. Nicholas.

J. R. Wassam, of the United States Army, is at the Grand Central.

General J. L. Neagle, of Columbia, S. C., is domiciled at the St. Nicholas.

Generals John M. Corse and J. H. Ledlie, of Chicago, are at the Gilsey House.

J. H. Ramsey, of Albany, is registered at the Fifth Avenue.

General Hunter, of the United States Army, is quartered at the St. Nicholas.

General William Cass, of Pennsylvania, nephew of Lewis Cass, and a prominent political leader, is at the Grand Hotel.

Joe Jefferson is again at the Fifth Avenue.

Governor J. L. Gibbs, of Washington, is residing at the Gilsey House.

President Grant and Secretary Boutwell stopped at the Fifth Avenue Hotel for a short time yesterday. The former, while en route to Long Branch, and the latter to his home in Massachusetts.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

OLYMPIC.—THE SYMONS BENEFIT.—A very interesting theatrical performance took place on Thursday afternoon at this theatre, the proceeds being given to the family of the late business manager of the Olympic. There was a remarkably full house and about fifteen hundred dollars were realized. There were three pieces on the bill, the comicetta of "Delicate Ground" finding intelligent interpreters in Miss Grace Rawlinson, Neil Warner and Hart Conway; Jefferson giving a specimen of his inimitable powers as Mr. Golightly in "Lend Me Five Shillings," and George Fox being funny in the extreme in "State Secrets." Mrs. Oates also sang "L'Arditi Waltz," and a medley from "Little Faust" for an encore. The dramatic profession was largely represented among the audience, and Mr. John Duff, to whose exertions much of the success of the benefit may be attributed, was present with his entire family.

Matinees To-Day.

Matinee performances will be given at the following theatres:—Wallack's, "Long Strike;" Daly's Fifth Avenue, "Delmonico's;" Booth's, "Man o' Airlie;" Olympic, "Kathleen Mavourneen;" Niblo's, "Colleen Bawn;" Wood's Museum, "Humpty Dumpty;" Globe, "Streets of New York;" Tony Pastor's, "The Dumb Boy of Manchester;" San Francisco Hall, "City of Paris."

Metropolitan Notes.

Hall's burlesque company will try a short season at Bryant's.

Wagner's New York orchestra will furnish music for the Grand Union Hotel, Saratoga, during the summer.

Messrs. Cole and Baker are to be the lessees of the Grand Opera House for the coming season. "Narcisse," with Bandmann, will be the opening piece.

Those bright particular stars of the burnt cork profession, Unsworth and Eugene, are in town, "looking as well and hearty as ever they did in their lives."

Mr. J. A. Zimmerman is meeting with deserved success in his managerial enterprise at Niblo's. The "Colleen Bawn," with its present cast, is likely to have a long run.

Rose and Harry Watkins, the clever and popular artists now performing at the Olympic, will appear next week in the drama of "Under Two Flags." In August the fall season will open with one of the grandest sensations ever placed on the metropolitan stage.

According to some of our veracious contemporaries Miles, Kellogg and Nilsson are both making fabulous fortunes. The former is credited with the purchase this year of half a hundred summer residences, while the latter is reported to have purchased 176 lots of different sizes, at an aggregate value of $23,675,842, besides eighteen or nineteen where the paragraphist has omitted to publish the price.

EXTENSIVE FIRE IN WEST FIFTY-SECOND STREET.

Burning of the New York Moulding and Planing Mill.

Shortly after seven o'clock last evening the night watchman employed in the extensive moulding and planing mill of Messrs. A. T. Serrell & Son, situate Nos. 221, 223 and 225 West Fifty-second street, discovered smoke issuing from the boiler room on the basement floor. After all attempts to put out the fire had proved useless he gave the alarm, which promptly brought the firemen to the scene; but by this time the fire had gained rapid headway and enveloped the building in one sheet of fire. It was five stories high and about forty feet front by eighty-five feet deep, and was entirely destroyed, nothing remaining but the front wall. The building, machinery and stock were owned by Messrs. Serrell & Son, who sustained loss to the amount of $55,000, being $25,000 on building, $15,000 on stock and $15,000 on machinery; insured for $21,000. Fire Marshal Thomas McSpedon was on hand, ascertaining all particulars necessary to discover the origin of the fire.

HEALTH OF KEY WEST.

Rumors of Yellow Fever at Key West Unfounded.

KEY WEST, Fla., June 30, 1871.

The reported appearance of yellow fever at Key West is wholly unfounded. The island was never in a more healthful condition than at present, little or no sickness of any character prevailing. As for yellow fever, not a case has been reported this season, and every care is used to prevent its introduction from infected ports.

WESTERN ROUGHS.

Jem Mace Accepts O'Baldwin's Challenge—Mace to Train in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, June 30, 1871.

Mace has accepted O'Baldwin's challenge offering to fight him for any amount from $2,500 to $10,000. Mace is willing to give O'Baldwin his own time, but prefers that the fight should occur near New Orleans. Mace will probably train under Tom Allen, near St. Louis. Tom Kelly is mentioned as O'Baldwin's trainer. Allen will put up $1,000 on Mace.

WASHINGTON.

The Boutwell-Pleasonton Imbroglio.

Great Falling Off in Internal Revenue Receipts.

WASHINGTON, June 30, 1871.

Public Debt Statement.

The public debt statement, it is expected, will to-morrow show a very handsome reduction of the public debt during the month of June. For the corresponding month of last year it was $20,000,000. The reduction in internal revenue receipts will diminish the funds to the credit of the Treasury several millions, but a large reduction is nevertheless anticipated in the statement to be made to-morrow.

The Boutwell-Pleasonton Imbroglio.

It is stated that when yesterday Commissioner Pleasonton represented to the President the differences between Secretary Boutwell and himself, and stated his own view of the law and practice in connection with the administration of the affairs of the Internal Revenue Bureau, the President said rather than directly interfere in the matter he preferred that these gentlemen, being his personal friends, should come together and adjust their differences. He also advised Commissioner Pleasonton, as the subordinate officer, to call upon Secretary Boutwell with that intention. Mr. Pleasonton did so, and had with the Secretary a long interview. The Secretary stated during the conversation that the country held him responsible for all moneys disbursed by the Treasury Department; therefore every contract for the payment of money should be made under his direction and with his approval, and decisions, also, involving the credit and character of the department, should be under his supervision. In order to collect the revenues it was proper that this power and authority should be in the hands of the Secretary in view of his responsibilities.

Commissioner Pleasonton spoke of his own duties and responsibilities under the law and the powers pertaining to his office, denying the right of the Secretary to hear appeals from his decisions, as under the law the remedy lay in the courts, and replying to the Secretary's premises.

Information having reached here from New York to the effect that a report is in circulation in that city that Commissioner Pleasonton has resigned, it is proper to state that such is not the case. General Pleasonton is to-day attending to his duties as usual.

Unadjusted War Claims—Beauties of the Red Tape System.

The law authorizing the repayment to States of amounts expended for arming and equipping volunteers during the late rebellion expired to-day. As might be expected, the States having unsettled claims were exceedingly anxious to push them through in time to secure warrants for the payments of sums claimed. Connecticut got its final claim through, amounting to $156,000. Kentucky, some time since, through its agent, filed a claim for money expended in arming and equipping troops used solely as Home Guards. The Second Comptroller refused to pass the account on the ground that at no time had Home Guards been recognized by the Treasury Department as volunteers. The subject was referred to the War Department, but owing to the absence of General Sherman an opinion upon the services rendered by the Home Guards could not be ascertained. General Sherman, however, a few days since expressed his opinion that the Kentucky Home Guards did as good service as any troops put in the field, and he was a personal witness of their efficiency in protecting his rear while in command of the Department of Kentucky. On the strength of this endorsement the Secretary of War signed the requisition for the payment of the claim, amounting to $523,000. The Second Comptroller also affixed his signature, and in the absence of the Third Auditor, the Chief Clerk, who is authorized to act as Auditor, affixed his signature. The requisition was then presented to Mr. Conant, Chief of the Warrant Division, Treasury Department, who took exceptions to the signature of Mr. Gaugwer, and, although a clerk, pre-umed to question the validity of the signature of the Acting Auditor, on the ground that Mr. Rutherford, the Auditor, was himself in the city. The possibility of the State losing the payment of a just debt by a mere red tape quibble excited the representative of the State, and he was at a loss to know how such a ponderous machine as the Treasury department could be so delicately affected by the mere fact that the Third Auditor had received a short leave of absence on the last day of the fiscal year. It is now doubtful whether the State of Kentucky will get a cent for its expenditures, notwithstanding the validity of the claim, sanctioned as it was by every officer of the government that has heretofore made the claims of Northern States good.

Failure of the New Loan.

The amount of subscriptions to the new loan to date is $66,934,650. Of this less than $6,000,000 was received during the past month. For a week past not more than $7,000 has been subscribed. The Secretary does not entertain now as strong hopes for the success of the five per cents as he did at first.

Receipts from Customs and Internal Revenue.

The receipts from Customs for the past year exceeds by $10,000,000 the receipts for the previous fiscal year. The receipts from internal revenue were, for the year just closed to-day, about $145,000,000. For the ensuing year they are estimated at $126,000,000.

Internal Revenue Statement for 1871 and 1872.

The following is a comparative statement of internal revenue collections for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1870, and June 30, 1871:—June 30, 1870, $185,235,867; June 30, 1871, $144,950,283; decrease, $40,285,584. Estimated collections for 1872, $112,192,201; deduct over-estimate on income, $7,192,201; leaving $105,000,000. Amount received from stamps, $15,000,000; total, $120,000.

Reduction of Pay of Internal Revenue Officers.

Supervisor Presbrey, of Virginia, has submitted a proposition to Commissioner Pleasonton providing for the consolidation of the First and Second Virginia districts. The Commissioner, it is understood, will accede to the proposition, and will also reduce the salaries of officers of internal revenue so that they will be proportionate to the reduction of the taxes collected under the amended law.

Internal Revenue Appointments.

Henry Camp has been appointed Internal Revenue Gauger for the Thirty-second district, New York, and James W. Allison, for the Second district, Kentucky.

Contracts for the Completion of Public Works.

To-day ending the fiscal year, all monies heretofore appropriated but which have not been contracted to be expended revert to the Treasury. The United States engineers employed in the construction of the light houses have been unusually busy during the past two or three weeks making contracts for the prosecution of unfinished work, and, with the exception of locating sites for light houses at a few points on the lakes, the entire amount of the appropriations for this class of improvements has been provided for. The same is also true of those employed under the supervising architect of the Treasury. All funds placed at his disposal for the completion of public works have been absorbed in contracts made within the past two weeks. In fact, it appears to have been the determination of every officer of the government having control of public works to complete contracts within the fiscal year rather than the amount placed at their disposal should relapse into the Treasury. The new appropriations for the ensuing fiscal year will be made available to-morrow.

Personal.

Secretary Boutwell, who left Washington for Massachusetts last night, will be absent until about the middle of July.

Professor Frederick Watts, of Carlisle, Penn., has accepted the appointment of Commissioner of Agriculture.

General Benjamin F. Butler was at the Treasury Department to-day on business, and left for the North in the evening.

Satisfaction at the Success of the Review.

REVENGE UPON GERMANY.

Arrival and Reception of Gambetta at the Capital.

PARIS REBUILDING.

M. Rouher Declares for Free Trade.

PRESIDENT THIERS' DINNER.

German Censures on French Military Expenditures Resented.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD

LONDON, June 30, 1871.

The correspondents of the London papers all agree that the review at Long Champs and the French loan were both successful.

REVENGE UPON GERMANY.

One of the writers says that the thought of revenge upon Germany is uppermost in the minds of the Parisians, who still hope for an opportunity to re adjust the frontier.

PARIS REPORTS.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

Gambetta in Paris—Cremieux to be Spared—Rejuvenating Paris—Rouher's Election Circular—Gambetta's Speech—France Recovering—The President's Dinner—German Censures Resented.

PARIS, June 30, 1871.

M. Gambetta arrived here yesterday. He has received many visits from both official and unofficial personages.

CREMIEUX TO BE SPARED.

The sentence of death imposed upon M. Cremieux by the court martial in session at Versailles will probably be commuted.

REJUVENATING PARIS.

The work of rejuvenating Paris is progressing. Fully 60,000 masons are engaged in repairing the damaged buildings and erecting new ones. The city is also being thoroughly disinfected.

SATISFACTION.

ROUHER TO THE ELECTORS.

The circular of M. Rouher to the electors affirms that he is the defender of the principles of free trade. In relation to the future form of government he says the nation must decide upon it after the elections have been held and the question of free trade been decided upon. He denounced the opponents of this policy as mere factions.

GAMBETTA'S SPEECH.

The speech of M. Gambetta at Bordeaux was upon the subject of the development of education in France, and was received with hearty approval and great applause.

FRANCE RECOVERING.

The Official Journal of to-day, commenting on the review at Long Champs, remarks that:—"We have shown Europe an army 100,000 strong, valorous and ably commanded, which has saved the cause of civilization. We have also called for two milliards of money and been offered five milliards. The nation evidently recovers."

THE PRESIDENT'S DINNER.

The dinner given by President Thiers after the review yesterday was a brilliant affair. It was attended by nearly all the generals and colonels of the army in and near Paris, and by the members of the Ministry and many prominent Deputies of the National Assembly. The utmost cordiality of feeling prevailed.

RESENTING GERMAN CENSURES.

The French journals resent the censures of the North German Gazette on the military expenditures of France. They maintain that the question concerns France alone.

The French Loan in Bombay.

BOMBAY, June 29, 1871.

The French loan has been introduced in the Bombay market with immense success.

Another Impudent Manifesto from the Internationale—The Central Committee of Paris Appeals to Arms.

According to the Petit Moniteur, another appeal from the Internationale was posted up the 15th ult. on the Boulevard Rochechouart, and immediately torn down. It is worth quoting:—

BRETHREN—In the name of our brethren murdered by the despots of Versailles, in the name of humanity and progress, let us not give up the struggle! The reactionist papers are exulting over their victory. The perjurers of Versailles fancy that they have crushed us; whether they are buried to-morrow—buried in their triumph—rests with you. To achieve that energy alone is requisite. Our losses are great, it is true; but bear in mind that our inaction imperils the republic far more than our check. Will you wait to rise until the plot which all the despots of the world are engaged in weaving shall have enfolded you in its inextricable meshes? Do you wish that night after night satellites drunk with wine and debauchery, stupefied by priests, should hunt you out of your houses and send you to people every Cayenne and Botany Bay in the known world? Do you wish to leave your wives and children exposed and unprotected to the lust of the priests, the rich and the soldiery? Do you wish to find the iron circle, which we broke through in an effort of despair, closing in upon you?

If you wish all this, remain inactive. Do you wish, on the contrary, to become free and powerful, as you ought to be? Do you wish to have the right to live by your labor? [illegible] Swear with us not to return to the workshop, not to handle a tool, not to lay down your arms until you have avenged your slaughtered brethren and laid the foundations of the social republic.

To arms! To arms! Lyons, Marseilles, Milan, Berlin, Moscow, London, Liverpool, Manchester! To arms, our brethren of every country! Up against the tyrants and oppressors! Rely upon us, whom they suppose they have disarmed because they have taken our muskets and our guns. They do not know, then, the wretches, that on the day of vengeance we will tear up the gates of their palaces to make pikes, and that this time we will bury ourselves under the ruins of Paris rather than surrender. Forward! the musket in one hand, the torch in the other. Old civilization must perish! Perish it shall! And then the peoples, united in one family, free from all yokes, will peacefully enjoy the fruits of their labor.

The Last of Halifax as a British Naval Rendezvous—Reduction of the British North American Fleet—The Liverpool Chamber of Commerce Against High Cable Rates.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

LONDON, June 30, 1871.

The statement is officially confirmed that Halifax will, now that the Treaty of Washington has been ratified, soon cease to be the rendezvous for the British North American fleet, and that the fleet in Canadian waters will be reduced to the commodore's ship.

A CABMAN'S STRIKE APPREHENDED.

Another strike of the cabmen is apprehended in London.

A POWERFUL MOVEMENT AGAINST THE ATLANTIC CABLE COMPANY.

At a meeting of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce to-day a preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted to the following effect:—

Whereas the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce has learned with surprise that high cable rates are sustained when all the Atlantic cables are working, therefore

Resolved, That the officers of this body be authorized and directed to make representations in the matter to the government, and to ask the aid of the Chambers of Commerce of Manchester, Birmingham, Leeds, Sheffield, Glasgow and Edinburg.

An Ovation to the Emperor Napoleon.

An interesting occurrence took place before Camden House, London, on Saturday afternoon, the 17th ult. A party of workmen employed by Mr. Joseph Brown, contractor to the Greenwich Board of Works, together with Mr. Stevens, the manager, and a few friends, on their way to their annual dinner at the Black Horse, Sidcup, stopped in front of the Emperor Napoleon's residence, while the band which accompanied them struck up "God Save the Queen" and "Auld Lang Syne." The cheers which were given at the termination of each air brought out His Majesty, the Empress and the Prince Imperial, who, with their suit, walked across the common to the public highway, and were received with the heartiest plaudits. As the Emperor was approaching it was decided that Mr. Pook, the solicitor to Mr. Brown, should address him on the part of all present. Accordingly, when the Emperor came near Mr. Pook said it was the earnest hope of those whom he stood there to represent that the clouds which had been so long over France might soon be dispelled, and that the sun which was then so brilliantly shining upon them might be taken as an augury for the future of that nation, the restoration of the empire, and the consolidation of the friendship which had, by means of His Imperial Majesty, existed between France and England.

The Emperor, who was visibly affected, said in reply, I feel much flattered in the remarks now addressed to me. I feel that I have always been a good friend to England. (Loud cries from the workmen, "We know you have—you have," accompanied by three cheers each for the Emperor, the Empress, and, as one stentorian voice called out, "The little gen'lman," meaning the Prince Imperial.)

The Emperor then shook hands very cordially with Mr. Pook, and was introduced to Mr. Brown, the contractor, Mr. Stevens, Mr. W. R. Orchard, Mr. H. Roberts and others, upon which the band struck up, "We may be happy yet," and the Emperor, Empress and the Prince Imperial and suite returned to the house amid the ringing cheers of all present.

THE GRAND DUKE VLADIMIR.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

LONDON, June 30, 1871.

Grand Duke Vladimir, second son of the Emperor Alexander of Russia, who had been here on a lengthy visit, has left London for Ems, where he will rejoin the Czar and Czarina.

GERMANY.

TELEGRAMS TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

BERLIN, June 30, 1871.

The Emperor of Germany has of late been subject to attacks of rheumatism, which have confined him to his bed and somewhat impaired his otherwise vigorous constitution.

The Court physicians say that the fatigues incidental to the entry of the troops have caused his present indisposition, while others will have it that the hardships and exposure of the late campaign are now telling upon the frame of the aged Emperor.

No fatal consequences are, however, apprehended from his present state of health.

A SUBSTANTIAL REWARD TO PRINCE BISMARCK.

The Emperor William has presented the estate of Schwarzenbeck, the value of which is estimated at 2,000,000 thalers, to Prince Bismarck, in acknowledgment of the great services rendered to Germany. The deed of the estate was accompanied by an autograph letter from the Emperor, saying that no recompense within his gift could be adequate to the merits of Prince Bismarck.

A Great Day for the Wurtemberg Troops.

STUTTGART, June 30, 1871.

The Wurtemberg troops made their triumphal entry yesterday to this capital. The city, which was crowded with people from all parts of the kingdom, was splendidly decorated, and to-night was brilliantly illuminated.

ITALY.

King Victor Emmanuel in Naples—His Enthusiastic Reception.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

NAPLES, June 30, 1871.

King Victor Emmanuel arrived here yesterday and met with a brilliant and enthusiastic reception.

The greater part of the garrison turned out and was reviewed by the King. His Majesty was further welcomed by the municipal authorities, who presented to him an address expressing confidence in the government and a hope that the transfer of the capital to Rome will no longer be delayed.

In reply the King thanked the people of Naples for the many spontaneous tokens of their attachment.

He said that the transfer of the capital will take place at an early date, and that the postponement had not been caused from any political considerations but simply as a matter of convenience; because the preparations for the reception of the several departments of the government had not been completed within the allotted time.

The King visited the Exposition to-day and distributed the medals which had been awarded to contributors.

His Majesty will remain two days in this city and then leave for Rome.

GREECE AND TURKEY.

The Greek Government and the Sublime Porte Friends Again.

TELEGRAM TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

LONDON, June 30, 1871.

It is reported that the difficulty between Greece and Turkey, arising from the appointment of M. Talcoupis as Greek Ambassador to Constantinople, and the refusal of the Porte to receive him in that capacity, has been amicably arranged, and that the two countries are now on good terms.

THE COREA.

The Capture of the Tsiang-Hoa Forts Confirmed.

MINISTER LOW WITH THE FLEET

A Treaty to be Made With the Corean King.

TELEGRAMS TO THE NEW YORK HERALD.

BOMBAY, June 29, 1871.

A despatch from Shanghae confirms the announcement of the capture of the Tsiang-Hoa forts by the Americans, with slight loss. The Coreans had 240 killed and a great many wounded.

Minister Low with the Fleet—A Treaty to be Made with the Coreans.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30, 1871.

It is said in official circles that Minister Low is with Admiral Rodgers at Corea. This is in accordance with instructions, as the design of the expedition was to open the way for a treaty with the sovereign of that country, shipwrecked Americans on that coast being subjected to extreme cruel treatment. Although it is not known whether this government anticipated hostilities, it seems certain that the conduct of Admiral Rodgers, under the circumstances, is approved.

The Late Lieutenant McKee.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

Lieutenant Hugh W. McKee, who so gallantly met his death in the storming of the Corean forts on the 11th inst., was a native of Lexington, Ky., about twenty-seven years of age and a son of Colonel William R. McKee. Colonel McKee was a graduate of West Point, and was killed in a desperate charge on the bloody field of Buena Vista, while commanding the Twenty-fifth Kentucky volunteers, at the same time Lieutenant Colonel Henry Clay, Jr., of the same regiment fell. It is a singular coincidence that the gallant young officer should have met his fate in so similar a manner as that of his illustrious father, whose body was frightfully mutilated with lances after having been riddled with bullets. Lieutenant McKee was no relation of ex-Congressman McKee, of Kentucky.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

Accident to the Steamer Daniel Drew—Counterfeiters Arrested—Killed on the Railroad.

ALBANY, June 30, 1871.

The steamboat Daniel Drew, of the day line, broke her crosshead coming up the Hudson river to-day near Catskill. No one was injured. Her passengers reached here in time for the late trains.

Three boatmen named Captain William Arthur, Thomas Mahon and James McClellan, of the canal-boat Monadnock, were arrested to-night for passing counterfeit fifty cent notes.

A switchman named Michael Fulton was accidentally killed on the Central Railroad at Schenectady to-day. He leaves a wife and seven children.

NORTH CAROLINA RAILROADS.

Attempt of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company to Kill off the Raleigh and Gaston Road—Norfolk and Raleigh Stockholders Fighting the Monopoly.

RALEIGH, June 30, 1861.

Quite a furor has been created in railroad circles here during the past few days by a proposition, made through a prominent Virginian, to buy a controlling interest in the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad for the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. The terminus of this road is at Weldon and Raleigh, having a connection with Norfolk by the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad, and one in process of construction with Columbia, S. C., known as the Chatham Railroad, which is completed forty-five miles of its length. The capital stock of the road is only three-fifths of the cost, and $337,500 is offered for the control of a work worth two and a half millions. It is charged here that the Pennsylvania Central, which already controls the Richmond and Danville Railroad in one direction, and the Wilmington and Weldon and Richmond and Petersburg roads in another, are endeavoring by this movement to kill the North Carolina road, which they made great efforts to secure through the Legislature last winter, but failed. They wish to hedge it in at Goldsboro, Greensboro, Raleigh and Charlotte, by which the great monopoly would then have full control of all the lines in this State. The stockholders are given until the 6th prox. to consider the proposition, but an informal meeting has been called for the 4th by those resident in this city, who warn the people against it, and advise an indignant rejection. A number of stockholders residing in Norfolk are also violently opposed to the proposed sale.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

A Man Cuts His Wife in Thirteen Places and Then Throws Himself into the River and is Drowned—Whiskey, as Usual, the Cause.

At a quarter to one o'clock yesterday afternoon a small boy ran up to officer Woolson, of the Nineteenth precinct, who was on duty in Seventy-fourth street, and told him that a man named James Powell, an Irish laborer, living in one of the small shanties near the corner of Seventy-third street and avenue A, had murdered his wife with a penknife. Woolson immediately ran around to the place indicated, and there, in the front room of the hut, found the injured woman prostrate on the floor and bleeding most profusely from no less than some of which were of a most horrible character. She was not dead, as reported, but was nevertheless in a dying condition.

THIRTEEN WOUNDS,

The officer at once sent word to the station house to have an ambulance despatched to the scene, and while waiting for the vehicle to arrive ascertained the following facts in connection with the affair.—Dick Allen, who keeps a bath house at the foot of Fifty-fourth street, and in whose place

last summer, is in some way related to Powell, and of whom he has been for a long time jealous as it is said he claimed that Allen and his (Powell's) wife were on terms of improper intimacy. For several months past Powell has been in the habit of getting drunk and beating his wife, because, as he alleged, of her fondness for the bath house man. Last Sunday he went home in a state of intoxication and commenced the regular Sunday quarrel. Blows were exchanged, and soon each party had knocked the other down, when an officer was called in, who arrested Powell, whom he locked up in the

NINETEENTH PRECINCT STATION HOUSE,

and who was the next day held to bail by Justice Bixby, at the Yorkville Police Court in the sum of $500. Last Wednesday Powell went on another drunk, which he kept up until yesterday, when he committed the deed above mentioned.

From all the officer could ascertain it seems that there was no one present at the time of the cutting save Powell and his wife; that, after quarrelling for some time, Powell seized the knife and proceeded to mutilate his wife, which done he ran out into the street, ran down Seventy-third street to avenue A, down avenue A to Seventy-first street, and down Seventy-first street to the East River, where he deliberately jumped in and

WAS DROWNED.

Some of the neighbors heard the woman's cries, but not until Powell had left the house, and although they followed him to the river they were unable to come up with him in time to prevent his making the fatal plunge.

Mrs. Powell was conveyed to Bellevue Hospital, where her wounds were dressed and pronounced of a fatal character.

THE HEATH ZOUAVES.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 30, 1871.

The Heath Zouaves, of this city, claiming to be the best drilled company in the United States, left to-day to visit Canton, Ohio, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Albany, New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore. They number sixty men, under the command of Captain Merritt Batchelder, formerly of Ellsworth's famous company.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Yesterday the following games were reported:—

In Philadelphia the Kikiongas, of Indiana, beat the Olympics, of Philadelphia, 16 to 11.

The Red Stockings, of Boston, beat the Resolutes, of Hamilton, Ohio, at that city, the score being—Red Stockings, 27; Resolutes, 0.

In Louisville, Ky., the Eckfords, of Brooklyn, beat the Louisville Clippers, by a score of 41 to 4.

The Chicago White Stockings have been again shockingly laid out, this time by the Olympics, of Washington. The score stood—Olympics, 11, White Stockings, 8.

The Rose Hill Club, of Fordham, N. Y., was defeated at Boston by the Harvards yesterday by a score of 20 to 5.

WEST INDIES.

News from St. Thomas, St. Domingo and Hayti.

By the arrival of the steamer Morro Castle we are in the possession of the following correspondence:—

ST. THOMAS, June 17, 1871.

General Za'zar, accompanied by Doctor Larrazabal, arrived from Puerto Cabello on the 7th inst. and left in the Brazil steamer for New York on the 13th. The General goes to the States on a pleasure trip. He is closely connected with Venezuelan politics.

SMALLPOX IN ST. DOMINGO.

Owing to the existence of smallpox at Puerto Plata (St. Domingo) vessels from that port are quarantined.

Hayti.

JACMEL, June 6, 1871.

Peace prevails throughout the country.

A fire at Gonaives burned several houses.

The National Assembly has not yet determined whether to establish a bank or to authorize a loan in order to substitute gold for the circulating paper currency.

PACIFIC COAST INTELLIGENCE.

Burning of Snow Sheds on the Central Pacific Railroad—California Republican Nominations.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 30, 1871.

The hotel, telegraph offices and a half mile of snow sheds at Cisco, on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, were burned yesterday. Both telegraph lines are destroyed. Loss $50,000.

The republican State ticket is complete, as follows:—

Governor—Newton Booth.
Lieutenant Governor—Romauldo Pacheco, a native of California.
Secretary of State—Drury Malone.
Justices of the Supreme Court—A. C. Niles, A. L. Rhodes.
Comptroller—James J. Green.
Treasurer—Ferdinand Bacher.
Surveyor—Robert Gardner.
Attorney General—John L. Love.
Clerk of the Supreme Court—Grant T. Taggert.
Superintendent of Instruction—Henry M. Bolander.
State Printer—Thomas H. Springer.
Harbor Commissioner—John A. McGlynn.

A. A. Sargent has been renominated for Congress from the Second district, and Mayor Selby has been tendered the nomination from the San Francisco district.

A young woman named Clark was burned to death at Tahama yesterday while kindling a fire with kerosene.

Mrs. Joseph Boghiscych, of Oakland, aged twenty-one committed suicide at Lincoln yesterday by taking strychnine. Domestic infelicity the cause.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

Discontinuance of a Halifax Steamship Line—Aquatics in Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, June 30, 1871.

The steamship City of Limerick has arrived from Liverpool, and the steamship City of Baltimore has arrived from New York. This is the last trip of each vessel to this port. Both sail this afternoon, and both were detained off the harbor by a fog eighteen hours.

The Tangien oarsmen, better known as the Burton Club, are practising in the harbor for the great four-oared race. They are having a boat built in New York, to cost $400.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE.

CONCORD, June 30, 1871.

In the House this morning the report of the Committee on Elections was unanimous in unseating W. H. Flagg, republican, of the Second ward, Portsmouth, on account of being over-represented. A resolution unseating him was passed with but few dissenting voices.

In the case of W. W. Messer, democrat, of Northwood, the majority report giving him the seat was sustained.

The Committee on Railroads has decided, by a vote of 5 to 2, to refer the question of granting a charter to the Nashua, Manchester and Concord Railroad Company to the next Legislature. Also, by a vote of 7 to 3, to report a bill for the Nashua and Acton Railroad.

It is quite certain this morning that the democratic leaders have decided not to commence any proceedings against Senator Smith, as contemplated, and the time for final adjournment will be fixed for Saturday, July 8.

LONG BRANCH PIER.

The construction of piers wholly of iron on surf-beaten coasts in the open ocean, for promenade or shipping purposes, has within the last few years been extensively employed in situations where no other similar works were practicable. The enormous strength and rigidity of the structure, combined with a good base or supporting surface of the pile, according to the nature of the ground, without the necessity of exposing a large surface to the winds or waves, has enabled the engineers to execute such works in the most unpromising and inconvenient situations; and more recent improvements in the structure and mode of sinking the piles in all situations have surmounted every difficulty, and such piers can now be built on the most exposed ocean surf-beaten coasts of the world (at a practically moderate cost), to withstand not only the destructive action of salt water, but the heaviest seas and storms, without the slightest failure or vibration of any part. In testimony of this fact may be mentioned the report of Captain Howe recommending the adoption of iron pile structures for the Indian coasts:—"The vibration of these structures during heavy gales have been found to be so slight as not even to affect the going of a timepiece. The reason was that the supports offered no resistance to the waves; but in Eddystone lighthouse during heavy storms the vibration is so great that the rate of the timepieces is affected."

These practical advantages have been amply demonstrated by the building of more than sixteen of these structures in Great Britain and Ireland alone, besides many others in various parts of the world—viz.: India, China, Singapore, South America, &c. The Madras pier, for instance, built on this plan in 1862, through one of the heaviest surfs and a shifting sand (1,100x40 feet), is a remarkable example. In Great Britain, Scarboro, Brighton, Black Pool, &c., &c.; Ireland, Courtown pier, county Wexford, &c. Many of these are exposed to heavier and more damaging seas and gales than the coast at Long Branch.

The Long Branch pier is intended chiefly for the purpose of providing the numerous visitors frequenting that fashionable watering place with a handsome and salubrious promenade seaward, and will extend over 1,000 feet into the ocean, with a head 160 feet wide and 200 feet long, and presenting a total area of 80,000 square feet. A principal feature of the design will be a splendid saloon, of extensive dimensions and ornamental character, capable of accommodating from two thousand to three thousand persons with all the comforts and requirements for fashionable visitors, arranged to afford ample protection from the summer heats, while at the same time securing all the benefits of the purest sea air in all weather.

It may be taken as a fact that if only a fifth—or even less—of the usual visiting population of the Branch frequent the pier daily during a season of only seventy days, at the rate of twenty-five cents per head admission, a dividend of fully twenty-five per cent per annum on the capital stock would be assured, but a really much larger return would be the result, and it has, besides, been confidently anticipated that the great attractiveness and healthful recreation provided on the pier would in the first two years alone bring such a number of visitors that nearly the whole of the capital stock or outlay would be returned to the stockholders within that period.

It must be borne in mind that the chief source of revenue relied on is from the fashionable promenade; that it becomes therefore optional with the Pier Company to allow the steamers to land passengers on any terms whatever.

These expectations are not chimerical, but can be amply justified by the remunerative character of similar undertakings, where the elements of success are not commensurate with the present enterprise. Several instances out of a number may be taken—viz., the piers at Weston Super Mare, Aberystwith, Black Pool, places deserted in winter and hundreds of miles away from the metropolis, but where the promenade piers recently erected have, notwithstanding, rendered them so attractive that with much lower rates of admission these enterprises are returning most satisfactory dividends to the stockholders from season watering place traffic alone.

Establishing a pier at Long Branch on this principle would certainly be followed by the building of many others on various localities on our coasts, and the result would be that a very important branch of the iron manufacturing interest of the country would be thereby materially promoted.

No better guarantee can be offered to the subscribers and promoters of the proposed pier at Long Branch, and of its feasibility and practical utility, than the project being endorsed and approved of by the engineers, who have designed and completed sixteen of these structures, besides many others in course of building, under nearly every conceivable variety of difficulty of position and construction, all of which have been successfully overcome.

YACHTING.

Method of Determining Comparative Time Allowances.

The New York Yacht Club Rule—Table of Calculations, Embracing Each Yacht of the Club, Measured to Date—Number of Minutes and Seconds Added To or Deducted From Actual Time of Making a Race, Whether of Five, Six and a Half or Eight Hours' Duration.

The proper method of determining the comparative allowances of time for yachts is one which at all times has excited no little interest and occasioned no little discussion among yachtsmen. This is especially true at the present time, when the annual and special regattas of the various clubs are being held. The New York Yacht Club, upon the recommendation of a special committee at a recent meeting, adopted unanimously a new method of determining allowances, which it is thought combines scientific accuracy with practical simplicity. This method is described as follows:—

The areas of three sections, from the water line to the intersection of outer planking with keel, in the case of each yacht one taken amidships, another equi distant therefrom to the stem and the third equi-distant therefrom to the stern, shall be measured and determined in square feet. The cubical contents of the immersion shall then be calculated by multiplying the sum of the areas of the three sections by one-fourth of the length on water line in feet and decimals, which shall, for the purposes of this measurement, be deemed the displacement of the yacht. The cube roots of the displacements shall be deemed the basis of comparative allowances of time.

In order to apply the bases of measurement, as above, to the sliding scale of allowances, graduated according to time of making race, hitherto in use by the Club (but for no other purpose), the cube roots of the displacements shall in all cases be multiplied by 100, thus forming the apportionments of the several yachts.

The annexed table has been prepared, by which the number of minutes and seconds which are to be added to or deducted from the actual time consumed in making the race may be seen for each yacht which has been measured to this date. These corrections are given for races which are made by the leading yachts in five, six and one-half or eight hours respectively. Thus, supposing the race to have been made in five hours, there will be added to the time made by the Sappho 7m. 11.1s., and there will be deducted from the actual time made by the Magic 2m. 28.8s., or, in other words, in such a race the Sappho will have to allow the Magic 9m. 39.4s. These figures are based upon a race of forty statute miles, and the same proportion for other distances:—

CAPE MAY REGATTAS.

Sailing of the New York Yacht Club Fleet This Afternoon—The Vessels Expected to Contest for the Prizes—The Arrangements and Anticipations.

All the yachts of the New York Yacht Club designing to visit Cape May and participate in the great regattas to come off there on the 4th of July will to-day, at noon, rendezvous at the Horseshoe, when sailing regulations will be issued for their guidance on the trip hence. The fleet will depart soon after the Plymouth Rock arrives at Sandy Hook this afternoon. The sight of the fleet leaving the harbor and stretching out to sea is expected to be magnificent in the extreme. In referring to the anticipated yachting festival at Cape May, and noting the arrangements that have been made to receive the visiting vessels, together with other matters of much interest, the Philadelphia Age of yesterday says:—

Philadelphia is getting to be progressive. Time was when the Quaker City bore and, in some respects, deserved, the name of a "one-horse town." Apart from the dull daily routine of attending to their own private business, her citizens were not considered up to the national standard in the matter of go aheaditiveness. New York delights to stand the "City of Homes," a quiet and pleasant inland town, and affects to sneer at the apathy displayed by Philadelphia in the matter of improvements or projects of enterprise of any kind. Philadelphia has, however, taken a stand in more ways than one. Without adverting to the numerous public improvements now in active progress, and the brilliant business enterprises to be observed in all directions, it is worthy of particular mention that some of our liberal minded, public-spirited citizens are pushing to a successful termination an enterprise of a rather novel character in this vicinity. The "quiet inland town" has done what the "commercial metropolis" has yet failed to do, notwithstanding her proximity to the ocean, and that is to complete arrangements for the grandest ocean regatta that the country has yet seen, and which comes off at Cape May on 4th of July.

This regatta will be no local affair, for the gentlemen who have engineered the matter have succeeded in enlisting the services of the finest and fastest ocean yachts that can be found in the country. New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Newport, Baltimore and other seaside cities will be represented, and each ocean yacht club will put its right foot foremost in the Cape May regatta. The success of the grand affair will redound to the credit of its projectors, among whom we find the names of such citizens as Major General Meade, Commodore Emmons, John C. Bullitt, F. A. Drexel, L. P. Ashmead, General Sewell, George W. Childs and many others. It is to be hoped that the labors of these gentlemen will not stop with the Cape May Fourth of July regatta, but that something like a permanent organization will be effected, and Philadelphia be enabled to compete with her sister cities of New York, Boston, &c., in possessing a regularly established ocean yacht regatta organization. The first step is well taken, and let it not be the last.

Among the yachts entered for the Cape May regatta are the Wanderer, Dauntless, Tidal Wave, Columbia, Sappho, Alarm, Alice, Eva, Foam, Fleetwing, Halcyon, Idler, Magic, Madeleine, Palmer, Rambler, Sunshine, Tarolinta, Ariadne, Addie, Breeze, Coming, Gracie, Kaiser William, Peerless, Vixen and others.

The Philadelphia yachts are the Sunshine, Vixen, Delaware, Vindex, and probably the Vesper.

From New York there will be the Dauntless, Wanderer, Alarm, Eva and others.

Baltimore sends the Blue Wing and others.

The names of other yachts that will participate or their locations have not been ascertained.

Commodore Bennett will assemble the New York, Brooklyn and Atlantic yachts in the lower bay, on the afternoon of the first Saturday, and start about two P. M., arriving at Cape May the next morning. The Cape May pilots have offered their services to the yachts and will meet them off the coast. The arrival of the whole fleet on the 2d will present a very interesting sight. A salute will be fired from the guns of the committee steamer Pinta. On the evening of the regatta the prizes will be presented to the winning yachts at the grand naval ball to be held at the Stockton House.

The magnificent prizes to be sailed for have already been described in the Age. They are the most costly and beautiful specimens of the kind ever contended for in this country or in Europe.

Philadelphia, although an inland town, possesses an enviable reputation for building fast sailing yachts, and the superb Columbia, constructed at a cost of $80,000, is a fair specimen of yachts that have been christened by the waters of the Delaware river.

The United States steamer Pinta, Captain McNair, has been placed at the disposal of the Regatta Committee and will leave Philadelphia on Saturday morning, reaching Cape May the same evening.

The regatta ball will be held at the Stockton House on the evening of the Fourth of July.

The prizes to be awarded are now on exhibition in this city, and will be sent down on the steamer Pinto on Saturday.

Proceedings are now on foot to offer some superior induce-ments to the New York Yacht Club to sail in a regatta the first week in September next, at Cape May. It will be remembered that the great contest for the "Queen's Cup" was won by the America, and it is now proposed to get up another race for that cup between Mr. Ashbury's yacht, the Livonia, and another yacht to be named in this city, the race to be so conducted that Mr. Ashbury will not know what yacht he will have to contend against until the day of the race. General Sewell will have the most complete railroad facilities arranged for persons who intend visiting Cape May to see the regatta.

YACHTING NOTES.

Mr. M. M. Vandyke, Chairman, has called a meeting of the judges in the late Brooklyn Yacht Club regatta for Thursday evening, July 6, to review their decision in the matter of the yacht winning the "Club" and "Union" prizes for schooners on that occasion. The protest of Mr. Franklin Osgood, owner of the Columbia, in the matter of awarding these to the Madeleine, will have the fullest consideration. The meeting will be held at the Club rooms, No. 26 Court street, Brooklyn.

The sloop Alert will visit Rockaway on the Fourth, her owner having extended an invitation to several friends to join him in a "sheepsheading" trip.

Many of the smaller vessels of the Brooklyn Yacht Club will visit the Hoboken Yacht Club grounds on Independence Day, by invitation of the latter, and there pass the time in ceremonies appropriate to the occasion.

The large yacht building for Mr. A. S. Hatch, at City Island, is progressing so favorably that she will be launched before the 15th of July. Her bowsprit is in position and her masts will be fitted next week. Her owner has decided to name her Resolute.

THE UTAH TROUBLES.

A Check to the Bellicose Saints.

SALT LAKE, June 30, 1871.

The Tribune of to-morrow morning will contain a proclamation issued by Hon. George A. Black, Secretary and Acting Governor, forbidding all musters, parties or gathering of the militia of Utah, or of armed persons within the Territory, except by the Governor's orders or by order of the United States Marshal in case a posse comitatus is required to enforce the order of the courts. This proclamation has been issued in view of certain orders of Daniel H. Wells, calling himself Lieutenant General, an office not recognized by the government, which orders out three companies of infantry, one of artillery and one of calvary, ostensibly to participate in the Mormon procession on the Fourth of July.

Wells usurps power in ordering out the militia, since Governor Shaffer appointed General Connor commander of the militia, and the assembling of troops is in direct violation of the order of Governor Shaffer, which has never been countermanded.

The attempt is made in order to maintain the organization of the Nauvoo Legion outside of control of the Governor of the Territory. Mr. Wells is a Lieutenant General of this legion, but pretends to order out the troops as Lieutenant General of the militia. H. B. Clawson, who signs the order as Adjutant General, is not recognized by the government. He dates his order from the Adjutant General's office of Utah Territory. Governor Shaffer appointed Colonel Johns Adjutant General, and he alone can execute the duties of the office.

It is generally believed that the Mormons will not attempt to carry out their scheme in face of the proclamation. If they do, the laws will be enforced and trouble may ensue.

The Mormon press furiously assault Governor Woods for representing to the President that they were engaged with the California-Nevada ring in attempting to remove the judiciary and other officials standing between them and the lines. They profess to be tolerably well satisfied with the Judges, though they are eternally abusing and vilifying them.

There is very general satisfaction at the stand taken by President Grant concerning the judiciary. Their removal just now, on the demands of a corrupt and unscrupulous ring, would be extremely detrimental to the best interests of the country and would seriously weaken the authority of the government.

THE COURTS.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONERS' COURT.

Before Commissioner Shields.

The United States vs. John McGuire and Bridget Perry.—The defendants, who reside at 55 Cherry street, are charged with passing a $5 counterfeit bill on Moses Wemberg, a pedler, from whom they had purchased a woman's shawl. When the pedler got the bill he found that it was bad, and asked to get either good money or a return of the shawl. He states that the defendants would not comply with either of these requests. The Commissioner held them in $500 bail each for examination to-day.

Alleged Fraudulent Bankruptcy.

The United States vs. Louis L. Todd alias Eldridge.—The defendant had been indicted at Trenton, N. J., on a charge of having committed fraudulent bankruptcy. It is alleged that he fled from there to New York city, where he was arrested and taken before the Commissioner, who held him subject to an order by Judge Blatchford for his removal to New Jersey.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

The Foster-Putnam Murder—Another Grasp at the Saving Straw—Foster's Last Card.

Application was made yesterday by the counsel of Foster, the convicted car hook murderer, to Judge Ingraham, of the Supreme Court, for a writ of error and stay of proceedings. The Judge refused to entertain the application on the ground that he, being one of the judges of the General Term, the matter must come before him if the writ was granted, and for this reason also considering it improper to have any preliminary notice. Judge Cardozo has already denied a similar motion, and Judge Barnard, being also a judge of General Term, is not likely to interpose. It is understood that the application will be reviewed before the remaining judges of this district, and in short that no stone will be left unturned to save Foster from the gallows.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM.

Closing of Business of the Term.

Before Judges Ingraham, Barnard and Cardozo.

This Court concluded yesterday the business of the term, having disposed of all cases on the month's calendar that were ready. An unusual amount of business has been transacted by the Court thus far this year, there having been heard and decided 342 cases, of which 140 came up in the January term, sixteen in the February term, eighty-six in the April term and 100 in the June term. The Court adjourned to the 15th of July to render decisions.

David H. Loritz vs. George A. Buckingham.—In this case, which is the only one in the list of decisions accompanied by an opinion, and in fact the only one possessing points of special public interest, the previous judgment was reversed and judgment ordered for plaintiff on demurrer, with leave to defendant to answer on payment of costs. Judge Ingraham gives the opinion. The defendant, the owner of a lot in Greenwood Cemetery, conveyed the same to plaintiff by an absolute conveyance. The plaintiff executed at the same time to the defendant an instrument in writing, and agreeing to reconvey the same to the defendant on repayment to him of the consideration money, with interest, in one year. He also gave to the defendant the privilege of interring in the plot during the year. The money not having been repaid, the plaintiff treated it as a mortgage and commenced this action for the foreclosure of it. The defendant demurred to the complaint upon the ground that the same did not state facts sufficient to constitute a course of action. Judgment was given in favor of the demurrer. There can be no doubt, the Judge goes on to say, that the conveyance by itself was a valid instrument, which the defendant has a right to execute and which the plaintiff might accept. It was a good consideration and transferred the title to the lot to the plaintiff. The only question is whether the defeasance executed by the plaintiff at the same time, in which he agreed to reconvey the property on receiving a certain amount, with interest, vitiates the conveyance. He holds that the owner had the right to grant the lot absolutely and that under the two instruments referred to he might have sustained an action for a strict foreclosure and thereby obtained a perfect title, and that such a decree or judgment would not have required any execution to enforce it and would not have come within the prohibition of the Statute, which provides that the plots, when conveyed to individuals, will not be liable to be sold on execution or to be applied to the payment of debts by assignment under any insolvent law. It was not, therefore, an execution or insolvent proceeding. He reversed the decision of the Court below.

Statute of Limitations.

George C. Peters et al. vs. John F. Delaplaine et al.—John F. Delaplaine in 1852 contracted to sell to John R. Peters, for $30,000, certain lots in this city. On the day fixed for the completion of the contract the wife of Delaplaine refused to join in the deeds. Mr. Delaplaine died in 1854, and his wife in 1846, and Mr. Peters in 1858. In March, 1869, after the death of all the original parties and seventeen years after the making of the contract the representatives of Mr. Peters sued the heirs of Mr. Delaplaine for specific performance of contract, the property having meantime risen to the value of $300,000. In the Court below the defendants claimed that the statute of limitations had now dismissed the complaint. The plaintiff appealed and urged two points—first, that the action by the Code was one upon a sealed instrument, and, secondly, that the right of action did not accrue till Mrs. Delaplaine's death. The defence urged that the action was not within the meaning of the section of the Code to which reference was made, and that it was not upon a sealed instrument, but for failure to perform a contract and within section intended to cover all actions in which time of limitation is ten years, and that cause of action accrued immediately on failure to perform contract. After listening to the argument and appeal yesterday the Court at once announced its decision—an affirmation of the decision of the Court below.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

The Old Olympic Theatre Lease Controversy.

Bolles vs. Duff.—Few cases are more threadbare than this, and yet very few turn up oftener in the courts. The matter came up yesterday on a motion by the defendant, as receiver, to lease the Olympic Theatre property for a term of years. It was urged for the motion that Mr. Duff has a large interest, amounting to some $60,000, still in the property, and that leasing it on terms offered would be greatly to the advantage of all parties in interest. On behalf of the heirs and representatives of Mr. Trimble, deceased, it was insisted that Mr. Duff had now had control of the property and its profits for the past eight years, and that instead of his being entitled to $60,000, the balance was the other way, and, further, that the lease is intended to be given to a Mr. Hayes, his son-in-law, while he, in reality, will run the theatre himself, and, finally, that other parties had offered $25,000 a year for the theatre alone and $30,000 a year for the theatre and hotel and restaurant attached—much higher figures than the proposed lessee will give. The Judge took the papers, reserving his decision.

The Riverside Park Property.

In the Matter of the Riverside Park Property.—This matter came up on a motion to confirm the report of the Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment. Mr. O'Gorman, Corporation Counsel, urged the motion, and was met in opposition by Mr. Gratz Nathan. The Judge postponed hearing of the motion till this morning.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS—SPECIAL TERM.

Throw Physic to the Dogs—Liabilities of Agents.

Before Judge Larremore.

Thomas Holloway vs. Daniel Pringle.—Mr. Holloway, the plaintiff in this case, brought suit to recover the sum of $25,600, which, it is asserted, was appropriated by the defendant, Daniel Pringle, while he was acting in the capacity of agent for the former. Henry H. Martin, for the plaintiff, alleged that from November, 1855, to the 24th of May, 1871, the defendant acted as agent for the plaintiff in America for the sale of his patent medicines; that during his period of agency he had sold to various people in the trade quantities of the plaintiff's patent medicines without giving any return to the principal, although directed to do so. It was further alleged that charges were made for the salaries of clerks and various other expenses, among them a litigation and its costs against plaintiff, which the former asserts were never actually paid. Plaintiff argues that in this way the defendant misappropriated large sums of money, the exact amount of which has not been ascertained. The plaintiff is a resident of a foreign country, and on this account the affidavit on which the arrest had been made was necessarily sworn to by his present agent, Mr. Henry H. Martin. An order of arrest having been granted defendant gave bail in $10,000, his sureties being Alfred Dorton and Thomas H. Farrar. Counsel who represented the motion to vacate the order of arrest, proposed to move on the very same affidavits upon which the order was granted for arrest, on the ground that the affidavit of Martin, being based only on information and belief, was, therefore, insufficient to found an order of arrest. He also urged that there was a conspiracy all around, which originated in the fact that in a former proceeding the defendant was made the receiver of plaintiff's property. Motion for postponement of the hearing of the motion was opposed by the plaintiff's counsel, they urging as the ground of their opposition the absence of ex-Judge Edwards, one of the counsel in the case. An adjournment was eventually granted by Judge Larremore, Monday next having been set down for the argument.

Decisions.

Before Judges C. P. Daly, Larremore and Joseph F. Daly.

Abraham Von Dohlson et al. vs. John Jay.—Judgment affirmed. Opinion by Chief Justice Daly.

Bernard Muldoon vs. Henry Vierklant et al.—Judgment against appellants, Charles and William Pitt, reversed with costs. Opinion by Chief Justice Daly.

Pardon Briggs vs. James R. Smith, Jr.—Judgment reversed, with costs. Opinion by Chief Justice Daley.

John F. Foley et al. vs. William A. Virtue.—Order appealed from reversed; attachment vacated. Opinions by Judge Joseph F. Daly and Judge Robinson; dissenting opinion by Chief Justice Daly.

William R. Butler vs. Charles W. Kellogg.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Chief Justice Daly.

George Koch vs. Francis Bonitz.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Chief Justice Daly.

Charles Heinrich et al. vs. People's Fire Insurance Company.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Joseph F. Daly.

Same vs. New Amsterdam Insurance Company.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Judge J. F. Daly.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Officer Gillespie Sent to the State Prison for Feloniously Assaulting Officer Leroy—Interesting Remarks of the Recorder—The Conservators of the Peace To Be Held to a Strict Account.

Before Recorder Hackett.

It will be remembered that during the June term of this Court that John Gillespie, an officer of the municipal police, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with attempting to kill William W. Leroy, a brother officer of the same precinct. He was remanded for sentence till the last day of the term.

Mr. Howe made a very powerful appeal to the Court yesterday in mitigation of punishment, stating that there were thirty witnesses in attendance, police captains and estimable citizens, all of whom were ready to testify to his exemplary character and sober habits; that on the day of the occurrence Gillespie was on duty for twenty-four hours and took a glass of liquor upon an empty stomach, which rendered him perfectly unconscious of what he was doing, and that in view of the fact that officer Leroy and the prisoner were always friendly he (Mr. Howe) hoped that the Recorder would be lenient.

Mr. Fellows said that there was overwhelming proof of the good character of Gillespie; but he simply reminded the Court that he pleaded guilty to the indictment charging him with a felonious assault. The other indictments against him grew out of the same transaction.

Recorder Hackett, in passing sentence, said—Before pronouncing sentence upon the conviction founded upon your confession of shooting officer Le Roy with the intent to kill him, I will very briefly advert to the prominent facts in the case. Both you and he were at the time of the commission of the offence sworn officers of the Police Department of the Metropolitan district. Your duties, among others, were to protect life, limb and property. You, without cause, on the day in question ruthlessly assaulted a citizen. Not content with the commission of that wrong you beat, clubbed and robbed another citizen, and when officer Le Roy attempted to interfere to prevent further outrages on your part, you drew your revolver and shot him in the head, and when prostrate upon the ground you again shot him in the thigh, inflicting a grievous wound, and then, with the barrel of your pistol or club, endeavored to put out one of his eyes. Your sole plea is that at the time you were intoxicated and unconscious of your acts. Voluntary intoxication, according to our law, does not excuse crime, nor does it prevent the question of intent being considered. In my judgment it aggravates the character of your crime. You broke a law of the department you had sworn to respect in drinking at all while on duty. You infringed its proper discipline in assaulting a fellow officer. You broke the law of the State in feloniously wounding him and with intent to take his life. You were a sworn officer of the peace, and you broke your oath. You now stand indicted with the commission of three several crimes:—

First—Of unprovoked assault and battery on the person of Isaac Watson.

Second—Of assault and battery and highway robbery upon the person of Albert J. Connell.

Third—Of a felonious assault upon officer Le Roy with a pistol with intent to kill.

The uttermost punishment that this Court could impose upon a conviction of all these offences would be for the term of thirty-one years.

As you have wisely pleaded to the commission of the graver offence no further prosecution of the other indictments will be made; but in this case to which you have pleaded guilty the sentence of the Court is that you be confined in the State Prison, at hard labor, for the period of ten years.

KEEPER OF A LOAN OFFICE CHARGED WITH RECEIVING STOLEN DIAMONDS.

O. G. Judd, keeper of a loan office, appeared in response to a bench warrant to answer certain questions respecting his possession of a pair of diamond earrings feloniously obtained from Tiffany & Co. Colonel Fellows examined him and brought out the fact that he had received a loan upon it, and could redeem it at any time. The prosecuting officer stated that he would send the matter before the Grand Jury.

A PICKPOCKET SENT TO SING SING.

Charles Collins, who pleaded guilty to stealing a gold watch from M. M. Van Buren, was sent to the State Prison for five years, the Recorder observing that the prisoner was an old thief. The community are rid of a notorious member of the light-fingered gentry by this sentence.

A number of prisoners indicted by the Grand Jury were arraigned and pleaded not guilty to charges of felonious assaults and grand larceny. They will be tried next week.

Thomas Wilson, who stole a gold watch from John Toomey, pleaded guilty and was remanded for sentence.

THE ERIE RAILWAY WAR.

Proposed New Issue of Thirty Thousand Erie Shares.

MORE TROUBLE AHEAD.

The Erie controversy has been at last taken from the books to the other struggle inevitable in the case as to who can, perhaps, talk longest and best.

ARGUMENT RESUMED YESTERDAY.

Mr. Evarts, at ten o'clock, resumed his argument in the United States Circuit Court, before Judge Blatchford, on behalf of Heath and Raphael. He contended that property in the possession of a receiver of a Court of Equity was in legal effect in the possession of the Court itself. It was a contempt of the Court for any person, without the express permission of the Court, to interfere with such property either by taking it out of the possession of the receiver or by doing any act impairing its value, whether such interference be in virtue of legal process of some other Court or officer, or under paramount right or title of any kind, or be intrinsically merely wrongful. Any person thus interfering with property in the hands of a Court, in contempt of its authority, is answerable therefor upon summary proceedings, and will be thereupon summarily required by the Court to restore the thing abstracted or make good the injury he has caused; and if he fail in compliance with such requirement will be punished by attachment for his disobedience. There are no technical restrictions upon the power of the Court thus to compel the making good of abstractions of or injuries to property under its guardianship. The fact that the wrongdoer, who is made responsible in the summary proceedings is not a party in the original suit wherein the res has been brought into Court, is wholly immaterial. It being established that the Court has jurisdiction over this respondent upon summary proceedings in respect of the subject matters involved, and he being regularly brought before it upon such proceedings, the Court will make such orders as will give complete redress. Whatever relief is to be, ever or anywhere, given to the parties aggrieved by this wrongful act by him committed will be given now and here. The case presented is a clear one of substantial abstraction by the respondent of the thirty thousand shares of stock in question, or at least of such dealing with it by him as has completely abstracted from it its marketable or salable quality, and by means of the false pretence made by him to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, and the misuse of the original certificates belonging to the receivership, transferred that marketable and salable quality from the genuine stock of Heath and Raphael to his own spurious and, till then, valueless and wholly unmarketable and unsalable stock; and he has, by means of thus investing his own spurious certificates with the indicia of genuineness, withdrawn from

HEATH AND RAPHAEL'S STOCK,

to the utter destruction of its salableness, sold his own certificates as genuine to bona fide holders and appropriated to his own use the proceeds. Thus, though by a very peculiar and somewhat circuitous process, he has in all substance and effect converted the stock of Heath and Raphael to his own use. The legal effect of his act and the measure of his accountability for it are to be determined by reference to the results he has thereby produced to himself and to Heath and Raphael, and he cannot escape such accountability by any peculiar meshes of form in which he has enveloped his abstraction. The fact that stock not registered, or registerable with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, is unmarketable, does not make a good delivery under a contract, and will not practically sell in the New York market, is shown by the petition and the evidence of R. G. Rolston and of A. D. Williams. Gould's sale and receipt of the proceeds of the spurious 30,000 shares which he procured to be registered with and certified by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, by appropriating to that purpose by cancellation, Heath & Raphael's original certificates for their genuine 30,000 shares, and falsely representing to the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, that his really spurious stock had been issued in place of the Heath & Raphael certificates thus cancelled is shown by Gould's evidence. The fact that in consequence of the misuse of the original Heath & Raphael certificates for 30,000 shares, as the basis for registering Gould's spurious 30,000 shares, the 30,000 shares for which there is now held only a bare certificate in the name of James H. Coleman, Receiver, cannot be registered with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company; but, if presented for registration and certification, there would appear upon the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company's register as a mere over issue, is shown by the petition and the evidence of Ralston. When Gould, the presumed wrong doer, has prevented the certificates from ever being made salable, as is charged, in the home market, and completely frustrated Heath & Raphael's purpose, with reference to which they sent the certificates to the Erie office, it lies not in his mouth to say that they may send their certificates to a foreign market for sale, and therefore are not damnified by his cutting them off from the home market. But it is wholly untrue that the circumstance of the certificates having been made unregisterable with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, and therefore unsalable in the New York market, does not bar their sale in the European market. Counsel dealt at considerable length on the question of registering stock in the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, contending that the value afforded to Erie Railway stock by its registration with, and certification by, the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company was not a benefit granted to the shareholder, extra the intrinsic value of his stock, as a boon of free grace, which the Erie Company could give or withhold, discriminating between shareholders at its pleasure. This registration system was established by the Erie Company, for affording to dealers in stock the voucher and test of the genuineness and regularity of the stock certificates, and it was inevitable that it should become, as the evidence shows it in fact has become, the sole voucher and test recognized by the dealers, so that stock thus registered and certified can be freely sold, and stock not so registered and certified cannot be sold.

After submitting various other points for the consideration of the Court the learned gentleman, who made a very powerful and logical address, brought his argument to a close.

DECISION RESERVED—A NEW BOMBSHELL.

Just as Mr. Evarts had concluded counsel for the English company stated that the Erie Railway Company had given notice to the Stock Exchange that in thirty days from the present time they would increase their capital shares of stock by issuing 30,000 shares of new stock.

This statement having been brought to the attention of the Court,

Judge Blatchford said he would require an affidavit made to that effect.

It is understood that any such issue of new shares would be a direct violation of an order or injunction of this Court already in existence, and render the party making such issue liable to attachment for contempt.

The United States Courts and Erie are still left at loggerheads, under the late order. It will depend upon Judge Blatchford which comes out first or second best.

ESSEX MARKET COURT.

Spanish-Arabic Feud Revived—A Desperate Attempt to Arrive at an Understanding—Judge Koch's Linguistic Resources Exhausted.

At Essex Market yesterday afternoon, towards the close of the session, the court was thrown into confusion by the entrance of a Spaniard, followed by an officer, having in custody a youthful Arab, charged with the theft of the Spaniard's watch. The complainant was an old man, with venerable gray beard. He was blind of an eye, and his habiliments hung on him like half-dried garments on a clothesline. His appearance suggested a man to whom and the necessity or utility of his having a watch was a question for social philosophers. He was just familiar enough with English to say that he lost a watch and suspected the prisoner as one of three who might have taken it.

Judge Koch's linguistic attainments were then called into requisition. He essayed German as a preliminary experiment, but the "Sprechen sie Deutsch?" elicited a wink of the blind eye and a shrug of the shoulder. Nothing daunted, addressed him again. "Parlez vous Francais?" he whispered softly, but with a like result. Another shake and shrug, but this time more decisive.

There was nothing for it now but Spanish, and, diffident of his own familiarity with the pure Castilian, the Judge looked appealingly at the bystanders for some one to assume the rôle of interpreter. It was whispered confidently to His Honor that ex-Judge Barney Osborne had been in Mexico with the New York Volunteers, and he was acquainted with the unknown tongue. "Barney," by special request, came forward. He approached his task modestly, and placed himself en rapport with the unintelligible. He mumbled something—the Lord knows what. Then was poured forth such a torrent from the lips of the aged complainant that "Barney" retired incontinently from the field. Baron Schleiger, the philological Clerk of the Court, then came upon the scene, with an equally inglorious result. Baffled and in despair, Judge Koch rubbed his manly brow, and by a desperate effort of memory recalled his "Ollendorf."

"Qui en prendedo onabre?" fiercely demanded he.

"Yoos re trio non sabe quien," answered the aged man.

Cross-firing all along the line, Arab, French, English, German and Italian indiscriminately, a Milesian policeman, contributing his Celtic lore, tapped the Arab familiarly on the shoulder and said to him, with purest accent and ore rotundo, "Consthnather Moryah Haschenmsoh a shule agrah; Thanna face gaelich."

Confusion worse confounded now reigned. The Judge gave it up in disgust. The old Spaniard, who by this time had been resolved into a Portuguese, was David Erhaua by name, looked on in dumb amazement, while the Arabs, Isaac Santo and his father Jacob Bamberosh, "folded their tent and silently stole away," as was the custom with their forefathers.

TOMBS POLICE COURT.

Confidence Betrayed—An Old Servant Turned Thief—Extensive Capture of Property—A Forger Caught—A Literary Beat—Defrauding the Press, the Public and the Prayer Book Merchants—Trapped in Time.

Before Judge Hogan.

The numerous cases of misplaced confidence that come to the surface every day make it difficult indeed for merchants to know whom to trust. The latest instance of this kind of deception came to light yesterday under most peculiar circumstances. A man named James Robinson has been employed by Messrs. Gardner & Co., of 54 Lispenard street, for eleven years. During that time he had shown himself to be a most efficient man of business, a faithful clerk and to all appearance an honest and upright man. In business hours no person in the employ of the firm was more assiduous in the discharge of his duties. He was generally the first to arrive at the store and almost always the last to leave it. His general demeanor and capability for commercial matters won him the good opinion of his employers, and step by step he went on until within the last five years he was intrusted with a key to the safe, and it is astonishing, with so much opportunity to steal a large amount at his hand, he should have contented himself with pilferings from time to time. It has been now ascertained beyond all doubt that he has pursued the course that brought him to a prisoner's cell for some time. Not being well posted in the manner of working little intrigues of that kind he laid himself open to suspicion sooner than a regular practitioner would, and happening to fall in with Detective Field, of the Fifth precinct. His hesitating, nervous manner betrayed him, and the lynx eye of Field looked into the hollowness of the masked figure that passed him. The detective had several times noticed something unusual about the man, but his suspicions were not really aroused until he saw him go into a pawnoffice with a bundle and afterwards come out without. This at first he simply looked at as

GROWING IN THEIR ESTEEM,

A SINGULAR MISFORTUNE,

that a man in his apparent position in life should be compelled to resort to such accommodations to procure resources. But, seeing the same thing done over and over again, the detective became convinced that all was not right. Knowing the man well by this time, Mr. Field was on the lookout for him, and on Tuesday morning last he saw Robinson leave the house of his employers with a parcel, and, determined to find out exactly the extent to which the game was being played, he followed and saw him go into a pawnbroker's shop at 192 Canal street, kept by Hyman Copperman. When Robinson left the pawnbroker's he had no parcel, so that it was certain he had left the merchandise behind him. The detective still kept in his wake, and the unsuspecting thief went back to his work at the store. Field waited until the establishment was closed, and then spotting his man followed him to his home in Eighth avenue. He there ascertained that Robinson was a highly respectable man, with a wife and family, and that for a moment

DISARMED THE DOUBTS OF THE DETECTIVE.

Yesterday morning, however, Robinson came out of the store with a parcel done up as the previous one had been, and started to the same pawnbroker, and after remaining there some time came out empty handed. This decided Mr. Field, and he at once arrested him. He asked Robinson what he had been doing in the pawnshop, and the man answered that he had been delivering goods which the firm had sold to Copperman. The detective then questioned him about the selling or stealing of the goods, and asked him point blank if he had not stolen them, but Robinson, boldly insisted that he had sold the goods and was just leaving them at the house of the purchaser. Field took him to the Fifth precinct station house and then went to the establishment of Gardner & Co., who said they knew nothing of the affair. He requested an interview with the principal of the firm, and asked him if he had sold any goods that morning. Mr. Gardner had the books of the establishment produced and it was found that no sale had been made that day. The detective then, certain that in the affair went over to the Tombs Police Court to ask the advice and assistance of Judge Hogan. The Judge and he held a long consultation, the result of which was that officer Barrett, of the court squad, was sent with the detective, and Copperman was arrested behind his counter. The place was then searched, and an immense quantity of goods was found that had not been entered on the books. The goods pledged there yesterday by Robinson were found in the desk, and when they were shown to Gardner & Co. they were at once identified as their property.

On searching the pawnbroker's establishment, the officers seized some eighty packages of a suspicious appearance, the property consisting of hundreds of dozens of kid gloves, an immense quantity of pearl buttons, silks, broche shawls, dress goods of all kinds, white shirts, table cloths, ten boxes of cigars, broadcloth, furs and a quantity of green cloth used for covering billiard tables, &c., to the amount probably in the aggregate of at least $15,000.

Messrs. Gardner & Co. have identified only about $700 worth of silk and machine twist as their property, and owners are wanted for the rest, which is at the Fifth precinct station house, Leonard street, near West Broadway. The prisoner Copperman says that he has received these goods from time to time since 1869, and that the most of them were brought there by a man who said he was a pedler, but he does not know him. A fact which raises a strong suspicion of guilty knowledge is that no entry is made in his books of any of the property seized by the officers.

The prisoners will be committed until a formal complaint against them can be made.

A VIENNESE SWINDLER.

Otto Stropp, of 75 and 77 Chatham street, charged Joseph Schmaler alias Julius Muneri with having forged his name on several occasions and obtaining money by such fraudulent signature. From the story of the complainant it appears that Schmaler came from Vienna and brought with him letters from some of the principal houses of that city, in which he had done business. Upon these representations Mr. Stropp employed him, but he was not long in the office when he committed a forgery. For this offence he was arraigned at Essex Market Police Court, but through some legal quibble he got off. Upon his liberation Shmaler endeavored to get a suit instituted against Stropp, but

NO ONE WOULD TAKE IT UP.

Since that time he has occupied himself with swindling various other firms. His most recent exploit, however, has been to represent himself as still in the employ of Stropp to the managers of the German New York Demokrat, and he ordered these gentlemen to insert an advertisement for Stropp which would cost $48. In payment for the advertisement he handed a check drawn upon the Nassau Bank and made payable to J. T. Zickler or order for $5[illegible], and received the balance in money. After that he went to the store of William Ruddle, at 510 Pearl street, and got eight copies of the

SIXTH AND SEVENTH BOOKS OF MOSES,

upon the account of Zickel for Stropp. He went to Appleton's, Harper's, Carlton's and almost all the principal publishers in town and procured books from them in the same way. When he had laid in a good stock of stolen books he made a trip to Jersey to dispose of them, but Zickel heard of his exploits and sent word after him. The consequence was that he was arrested yesterday and brought back to the city. Zickel and Ruddle made complaints against him, and it is expected a number of other charges will be made to-day, as he has been pursuing this course for some time. He was held to answer by Judge Hogan.

BROOKLYN'S BUDGET.

Report of the Board of Estimate—The Question of Eggs and Potatoes in the Charitable Institutions.

The Brooklyn Board of Estimate have completed their report, and will now submit it to the joint Board of Aldermen and Supervisors for approval. It shows the amount of money required for the support of the city and county governments for 1872. It is claimed that a reduction of $2,000,000 has been made, and that the rate of taxation will not be over $2 88. This will undoubtedly be most agreeable news for the taxpayers of Brooklyn, yet it is extremely doubtful if property owners will have sufficient confidence in the reduction to warrant them in lowering their rents proportionately. There has been so much chicanery that a large portion of the citizens of Brooklyn are scarcely willing as yet to look upon the reduction as being bona fide. Some of the reductions are of a questionable character, yet those only who are particularly affected will grumble. There were to have been four new fire companies organized this year, and they were really needed to keep pace with the growth of the city; but in the general cutting down of the expenses it was resolved that only two new companies should be added. The twisting and turning in the Board of Charities is perfectly agonizing. The Board of Estimate has taken off $67,000 from their first requisition, and the Commissioners are economizing by cutting off the supply of potatoes in the Almshouse and Nursery and the supply of eggs in the hospital. This is scarcely necessary, considering the fact that they are allowed even now $450,000. The Board of Education wanted $100,000 for the building of new schoolhouses, but the Commissioners of Estimate concluded to cut it down $20,000.

The entire appropriation for the Board this year is $571,000, against $750,000 last year. The public parks are to be maintained at the annual expenditure of $75,000.

The totals are as follows:—

	1871.	1872.
Total county purposes	[illegible]	$2,370,195
Total city purposes	[illegible]	3,687,540
Total	$7,974,044	$6,057,735
Total 1871		$7,974,044
Total 1872		6,057,735
Total saving		$1,916,309

SAVED FROM THE GALLOWS.

Assassination and Robbery in Virginia.

A Citizen of Prince George County Slaughtered at His Own Door.

The Murderers Arrested, Tried, Convicted and Sentenced to be Hanged.

Respite of the Culprits While Preparing for the Scaffold.

PRINCE GEORGE C. H., Va., June 30, 1871.

On the evening of the 24th of March last Mr. Charles Friend, an old citizen of Prince George county, Virginia, was walking on the track of the City Point Railway, quietly pursuing his way home. It was dark and raining, but the venerable gentleman had often gone that way before without fear, as his life had been such that he was not conscious of having a single enemy in the world. He had grown up from childhood in that neighborhood, was a man of wealth, of distinction in the county, and a humane and kind-hearted Christian. Before dying, for he lived long enough to describe the manner of his murder, he told his friends and the magistrate who took the dying declaration that, having been to Petersburg to attend Lenten service at the Episcopal church, of which he was an officer, he left about dark for home, declining several invitations to remain over night with brethren of the church. He lived three miles out. When about half way on his journey he discovered that he was followed by a man to him unknown, but he had no apprehensions of danger. This man subsequently overtook him and struck him a blow on the head, which felled him to the ground and rendered him insensible.

The assaulting party seems to have been frightened off at this juncture by the approach of a train, for he left his victim for the time without further molestation. The train passed in a few moments, and before Mr. Friend recovered from the stunning effects of the blow, though it recovered him somewhat, as he was lying very near the edge of the track. After the cars had passed, Mr. Friend said, a negro came to him and raised him to his feet, and then assisted him across a trestle bridge on the road. The negro led him off on the path to his house, and here turned upon the poor, stupefied old man and inflicted several blows with a club, cutting and bruising his head and face in a frightful manner. He was left for dead in this condition, but subsequently revived sufficiently to crawl to the foot of the hill on which his residence was situated, and attract attention by his cries. His servants came to his assistance and carried him up to his house, where he died about eleven o'clock on the same night, after making his statement to the above effect.

At the inquest on the following day nothing was elicited that was calculated to implicate any person in the murder. One or more witnesses testified to seeing two men on the railroad near the place of the murder, one supporting the other and concealing both by an umbrella hoisted over their heads, and to having also heard cries for mercy.

The fiendish character of the murder and the high position of the victim, together with the mystery in which it was involved, created a deep feeling in the neighborhood, which extended throughout the State. The indignation of the people took a practical form, and they added $1,500 to the $10[illegible] reward offered by the Governor. This was an incentive to the police and the detectives even of Richmond, and several went over to Prince George to work up the case. A conflict soon arose between them and the Petersburg officers, which has not yet been settled, and which has resulted in casting doubts upon the guilt of the two men who paid the penalty of the law with their lives to-day, although nearly everybody, except the detectives of Richmond, is satisfied that they have suffered justly.

THE ARREST OF THE MURDERERS.

Richard Green and William Henry Johnson, both negroes of bad repute—one of whom had been in the Penitentiary but was pardoned out by the Military Governor, Wells, and the other had been engaged in a robbery, and it is said even in another murder—were arrested several days after the murder by Captains Geary and Sydnor, of the Petersburg police, on suspicion, and the circumstances pointing to their guilt were very strong. Green was a tall black man, very muscular, and answered to the description given by Mr. Friend of the fellow who assaulted him. Johnson was a smaller man in stature and of much better intelligence than Green, and the greater villain of the two, as his name appears not only on the records of the jail but of the Penitentiary.

THE TRIAL.

The evidence elicited on their trial showed that two men answering their description were seen following Mr. Friend, and two were engaged in the murder, as was abundantly indicated by the tracks around the scene of the cruel deed. He was first assaulted by the taller of the two, who was prevented from robbing him by the approach of the train or of some person. As shown by his tracks he left the railroad, going away some five or six hundred yards. Friend was then, after the train passed, approached by another person, who, the testimony shows, was a small man, by whom he was assisted across the trestle bridge into the path, where the assault was renewed and the death-blows administered. Mr. Friend's cries of "Come here! come here!" while being beaten attracted attention at the house, and, being quickly responded to, the murderer was frightened away before time was allowed to complete the robbery which was undoubtedly the object. His hat, a basket containing clothing, and a few other articles were, however, carried off. The murderer left the spot and ran across a field, and joined the party making the large tracks, a few hundred yards away. The two then separated, and both went by different routes in the direction of Petersburg, the larger one going by the City Point Railroad.

THE ALARM GIVEN.

Shortly after the messenger, who rode rapidly to Petersburg for medical aid, had reached that city, Richard Green was seen by an officer of police hurriedly entering the town from the direction of the City Point road, and soon afterward Green was seen in company with Johnson in earnest conversation. They went to a house of infamous repute. Johnson remained outside, while Green went in and washed some blood from his clothes. He stated to the inmates that he had had a fight. The evidence showed, however, that no fight had taken place that evening anywhere in the vicinity. Both parties gave conflicting statements as to their whereabouts on the evening of the murder, each denying that he was out of his house after six o'clock P. M., whereas several witnesses saw them out at a late hour. Their efforts to establish an alibi were wholly unsuccessful, and after a fair trial, with a strong native radical for prosecuting attorney and ten negroes on the jury, they were

and both sentenced to death.

The belief in their guilt is general in the county where they were tried, and, although the evidence was purely circumstantial, there is no doubt on the mind of any reasonable or disinterested person of their absolute guilt. They were interviewed in jail by a reporter of the press, but persisted in asserting their innocence during the past week. A Catholic clergyman—the Rev. Mr. Kelley—was in attendance on them during the interval between conviction and execution, and gave them spiritual comfort. He had some doubts as to their guilt, and a good deal was said in the local press about it, growing out of the jealousies of the officers who did not get a share of the reward. The discussion of the matter led the Governor to inquire into the case, and he sent his private secretary to Petersburg to investigate it; and this led to the rumor during the earlier part of the week that there would be a respite; but the report of the secretary was satisfactory to the Governor as to their guilt, and he declined to interfere with the execution of the law. They were told that there was no hope, and accordingly they prepared for their awful doom.

THE GALLOWS WAS PREPARED

for the murderers of Mr. Charles Friend, and the crowd had gathered around it ready for the terrible and in this neighborhood unusual spectacle of the execution. William Henry Johnson and Richard Green, the two condemned felons, were prepared and resigned to meet their fate, though still calmly protesting their innocence, when Colonel T. F. Owens, the private secretary of Governor Walker, reached here with a

RESPITE OF THIRTY DAYS,

granted at the last moment this morning. It was as unexpected as welcome to the two negroes, while the spectators were greatly disappointed and some of them a little indignant at the interference of the Executive, so well convinced are all parties of the guilt of the men. But the Governor, although he gave no intimation of his intention to respite them up to the last moment, no doubt felt that in view of the very strong protest made by a respectable portion of the press against the execution of the sentence, because of the fixed belief in the minds of several of the Richmond officers of the

ENTIRE INNOCENCE OF THE PARTIES CONVICTED,

he might incur the censure of the community by acting hastily in the matter and sending the poor wretches to their long account without a full investigation into the allegation of their innocence, and therefore postponed the execution, making sure to err, if he has erred at all, on the side of humanity. The action of His Excellency receives the approval of all right-thinking men here, though the heedless mass grumble a little at it, which is not to be wondered at in consideration of the high and humane character of the deceased, his peaceful walk of life and the affection in which he was held by the people.

The whole course of this case has reflected the highest credit upon the authorities and people of the State, and exemplifies the love of order and spirit for law and justice that prevail throughout Virginia. The men are poor and friendless negroes. Both are very bad characters, one having been in the Penitentiary, with the strongest conviction of guilt against them, and yet no man in this county or in the State has intimated a desire or even thought of interfering with the regular process of the law in their case. The allegations of their innocence will now be fully inquired into, and should there be any foundation for them a new trial will no doubt be granted the prisoners; if not they will be executed on the 30th of July, at which date the respite now granted expires.

MYSTIC PARK RACES.

Closing Day of the June Meeting—Good Attendance and Well Contested Trotting Events—Othello Winner of the 2:35 Purse and Thomas Jefferson, Jr., the Three-Year-Old Colt Race.

BOSTON, June 30, 1871.

Mystic Park closed its June trotting meeting this afternoon very successfully. There was a good attendance and two races, the black gelding Othello winning the 2:35 purse easily, but the three-year-old colt race was gallantly fought from first to last, the young Hartford stallion, Thomas Jefferson, Jr., being a winner.

The first race was for horses that never beat 2:35, for $1,000, and the entries were as follows:—Smalley's blk. g. Othello, Blaley's b. m. Fanny, Stowell's b. m. Lady Ellis, Woodruff's ch. m. Gypsy, Merthan's blk. g. Prince, Morris' b. m. Nettie Morris, Read's b. g. Captain Lawrence. The last three did not appear, and of the others Othello was a favorite against the field. Othello had the pole, with Lady Ellis outside, and after scoring half a dozen times they were given the word for the first heat. Othello kept the lead to the turn, where Fanny passed him, Ellis third, and Gypsy, who got a very bad send-off, in the rear. Fanny led an open length to the half-mile pole, in 1:15, but at the upper turn Othello forced her to a break and took the pole, winning, after an exciting contest, by half a length, in 2:32, Fanny second, Ellis third and Gypsy distanced.

In the second heat Fanny went off with a lead, Othello second, Ellis third. In this way they went all the way to the head of the stretch, both Fanny and Othello doing some breathing; but the black gelding trotted the homestretch very fast and beat Fanny a nose in 2:32¼. Ellis was third.

In the third heat Othello took a trifling lead as they went down toward the turn, followed by Fanny and Lady Ellis. Before the turn was made, however, Fanny took the pole and opened three lengths to the quarter; but ere the half was reached Othello had gone in advance one length, and did even better than that at the upper turn, taking the pole and winning the heat and race. Fanny was second and Ellis third. Time, 2:32¾.

The second and last race of the meeting was for three-year-old colts, for $500, the entries to which were the following:—Monstain's s. s. Gold Finder, Gilman's b. s. Torment, Bay's b. g. Pioneer, Woodruff's b. s. Daniel Morrill, Dodge's b. s. Abdallah Chief, Norcross' c. s. Dreadnaught, Wright & Wallace's b. s. Wallace and Carpenter's blk. s. Thomas Jefferson, Jr.

On being called only Torment, Wallace, Jefferson and Morrill appeared, and the contest for the first heat was between the last three named, Torment acting badly and being distanced. The other three each took a turn on coming to the front, but Jefferson won the heat in 2:50¾, Morrill second, Wallace third.

The second heat was an excellent one between Jefferson and Wallace, Morrill acting unsteady at times and keeping in the rear. The black stallion kept the lead all the way to the head of the stretch, although but little over a length separated him from Wallace. A short distance down the homestretch Jefferson made a bad break and Wallace passed him, winning by half a dozen lengths, in 2:40¾.

The third heat proved a rattler, and the time broke all the states ever before made in New England. Wallace led to the quarter in 40¾ seconds, but at the half-mile pole Jefferson had got head and head with him in 1:19¾. Jefferson took the pole directly after, and continued to force the pace, Wallace breaking at the distance and Jefferson running handily in the extraordinary time of 2:39¾, Wallace second, Morrill distanced.

The fourth heat was well contested between Jefferson and Wallace, hardly a length separating them until the distance stand was reached, when Wallace broke and fell off a trifle, when Jefferson gave him the go-by, winning in 2:44, thereby getting the first money, Wallace second.

SARATOGA.

Improvements in the Village—The Coming Race Meeting.

SARATOGA, June 30, 1871.

The rapid improvement of the village of Saratoga Springs is the first thing which strikes the visitor this season. Large numbers of buildings have been erected since last season, and among them several edifices of very handsome architecture. All the new business houses are in the best style and in keeping with the magnificent hotels, the erection of which within the last few years inaugurated a new era in the history of this famous old watering place.

Keeping pace with the general advancement, a number of new mineral springs have been discovered, and the supply of health-giving waters promises to be adequate to the wants of the vast and increasing numbers of visitors who annually avail themselves of the summer comforts here to be found. The company here is not yet very numerous, but decidedly select, and taking much quiet comfort. The citizens of the place have at last waked up to the importance of improving the drives—a matter too long neglected. The avenue leading to Saratoga Lake has been widened to 107 feet, gravelled, and ornamented with three rows of trees—one on each side and one in the middle—and it is constantly sprinkled its entire length. The drives in other directions have also been improved.

Indeed, improvement is the order of the day; and Saratoga can now boast of good drives, the best mineral springs in the country, palatial hotels, delightful shades, the best race course on the globe, and all the other elegant attractions appropriate to a great summer retreat.

A lively interest is exhibited in regard to the approaching races. There are already many distinguished race horses at the course, in active training, and among them some remarkable animals that have not yet run in public this season. The stables of Mr. Grinstead, Mr. Rice, Mr. Thompson and Mr. Stringfield, all of Kentucky; Mr. Belmont, Mr. Moran and Mr. Morrissey, of New York; Mr. Boswell, of Virginia; Mr. Hall, of Maryland; Mr. Pennock, of Philadelphia, and others, embracing a large number of horses, are here; and when to these are added several stables yet at Jerome Park and the detachment now at Long Branch, there will be an assembly of race horses never equalled in the country in numbers or quality. The rumor which was recently afloat to the effect that Mr. Belmont's magnificent horse Kingfisher had an injured leg was happily without foundation. He was never finer than at present, and is understood to be lying in wait for the great Western favorite, Longfellow. They will first meet here in the race for the Saratoga Cup, and will be wickedly backed by their respective admirers. They are very great race horses—believed to be the best in America—yet they may both be beaten, as Helmbold, Hamburg, Preakness, Judge Durell, Mary Clark and other good ones will have something to say about the Cup. Colonel McDaniel's Harry Bassett, another great favorite, will also have to pass through a fiery ordeal in the race for the Travers Stakes. The distinguished opponents whom he vanquished at Jerome Park will here be reinforced by some fresh recruits of boasted speed, and the question as to which is the best three-year-old of the year must not yet be considered as settled. It is understood that the steeple chase feature of racing, which has become so popular, will be rendered very attractive by the attendance of several horses of reputation from Canada. It is no new thing to have splendid racing at Saratoga, but the approaching meeting (to commence 12th of July) promises to be intensely interesting. A second meeting is to be held in August (commencing on the 16th), which will be a grand finale to the summer campaign.

THE SULTAN OF MOROCCO AND THE AMERICAN MISSION.

We have been favored with the following extract from a letter from Fez, which will give an idea of the reception accorded at that capital by the Sultan of Morocco to the American Mission:—

FEZ, May 28, 1871.

The party arrived here yesterday at noon and had a most brilliant reception. There were fully 5,000 persons out, including a line of troops about a mile long. All the ministers and dignitaries of the State and Church were out; in fact, from what I hear, it was an unusually grand affair. We are now lodged in a fine house within the walls, but not quite in the town. The house is quite in the Moorish style, with fountains throughout it. The journey altogether has been very pleasant, not too warm; there were two nights' heavy rain, but only a few drops came through the tent. We were scarcely in the place yesterday before some one sent for our use twelve jars, about fifty-six pounds each, of cakes and sweetmeats, three basins, about two gallons each, of milk, which was almost cream, twelve loaves of sugar, three tins of tea, besides sheep, meat, &c., and this, I am told, is to be repeated daily, although we are only ten in number. With the exception of the first night, which was in a poor district, this has been the style of treatment all through. Each dish of cuscus was enough for thirty or forty persons, and one which came into camp the night before last was carried by three men; imagine the size! To-morrow will probably be the day of reception by the Sultan.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, June 30—6 P. M.

On 'Change to-day wheat was heavy and lower. The cotton market was more active, and, upon favorable Liverpool advices, prices advanced ⅛c. a ¼c. per pound.

MONEY TWO TO THREE PER CENT.

Money was extremely easy, and was offered quite plentifully at three per cent on stocks, with 2 a 3 per cent as the rates on government collaterals.

Foreign exchange was nominally steady, but the market was easier. Good to prime bankers' sterling was quoted 110⅝ a 110⅞ for sixty day and 110⅞ a 111⅛ for sight bills.

THE DRY GOODS IMPORTS.

The imports of dry goods during the week ending June 29, 1871, were $1,568,594. The entries for consumption amounted to $1,073,680 and withdrawals to $258,917; warehoused, $423,214.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

A Washington telegram states that the forthcoming public debt statement will show a reduction of about $5,000,000 for the month of June. The amount of Treasury notes (greenbacks) now outstanding is $397,700,000.

GOLD STRONG—112⅞ A 113¼.

The gold market was steady in the forenoon, but toward noon gave signs of increasing firmness in connection with reports of intended large shipments of specie to-morrow. Later in the day these reports were confirmed by the discovery that about $1,500,000 had been put up for export by Saturday's steamers, and gold rose from 112⅞ to 113¼—a lot of $200,000 selling at the latter figure. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $500,000 on account of the July interest, making a total since Monday of $7,787,000. The course of the market is shown in the table:—

10 A. M.	112⅞	1:30 P. M.	113⅛
11 A. M.	113	2 P. M.	113
12 M.	113	3 P. M.	113
12:30 P. M.	113⅛	4 P. M.	113¼
1 P. M.	113	5:30 P. M.	113⅛ a 113¼

In the gold loan market the rates ranged from flat to 1-32 for borrowing. The operations of the Gold Exchange Bank were as follows:—

Gold cleared	$50,164,000
Gold balances	1,862,162
Currency balances	2,112,518

GOVERNMENTS STEADY.

The government list was steady, but less firm, and to some extent irregular. The closing street quotations this evening are as follows:—United States currency sixes, 115 a 115¼; do. do., 1881, registered, 114⅞ a 114⅞; do. do., coupon, 118 a 118¼; do. five-twenties, registered, May and November, 113⅜ a 113⅝; do. do., 1862, coupon, do., 113⅞ a 112¾; do. do., 1864, do. do., 113½ a 113⅝; do. do., 1865, do. do., 113½ a 113⅝; do. do., registered, January and July, 112 a 112¾; do. do., 1865, coupon, do., 115⅞ a 115⅞; do. do., 1867, do. do., 115⅞ a 115⅝; do. do., 1868, do. do., 115⅞ a 115⅞; do. ten-forties, registered, 110⅞ a 111; do. do., coupon, 110⅞ a 111.

SOUTHERN SECURITIES DULL.

The Southern State bonds were dull and generally strong. The new South Carolina July bonds—which will be quoted ex coupon of three per cent, gold, on and after to-morrow—were a trifle lower. Missouri sixes were firm at 97. The following were the latest prices:—Tennessee, ex coupon, 72 a 72½; do. new, 72 a 72¾; Virginia, ex coupon, 64 a 68; do. new, 72½ a 74; do. registered stock, old, 54½ a 55; Georgia sixes, 85 a 89; do. sevens, 93 a 94; North Carolina, ex coupon, 46¼ a 47; do. funding, 1866, 35 a 37; do. do., 1868, 30 a 32; do. new, 27 a 27½; do. special tax, 20½ a 21; Missouri sixes, 97 a 97¼; do. Hannibal and St. Joseph, 96 a 96¼; Louisiana sixes, 69 a 72; do. new, 64 a 67; do. levee sixes, 71 a 73; do. eights, 85 a 89; do. Penitentiary sevens, 70 a 72; do. railroad eights, 75 a 79; Alabama fives, 69 a 72; do. eights, 102 a 103; do. railroad eights, 95 a 100; South Carolina sixes, 74 a 77; do. new, January and July, 61½ a 62; do. do., April and October, 60 a 62; Arkansas sixes, 57 a 60; do. sevens, 59 a 64.

THE NEW ISSUE OF ERIE.

OFFICE OF THE FARMERS' LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY, 26 EXCHANGE PLACE, NEW YORK, June 28, 1871.

W. B. CLERKE, Esq., President New York Stock Exchange:—

DEAR SIR—I have received a communication from the Erie Railway Company, of which the enclosed is a copy. The thirty days' notice required by the rules of your Board will commence from to-day. Yours, very truly, R. G. ROLSTON, President.

The following is the communication referred to:—

R. G. ROLSTON, Esq., President Farmers' Loan and Trust Company:—

DEAR SIR—The common capital stock of this company has been increased by 30,000 shares of $100 each, by the conversion into stock of convertible bonds to the amount of $3,000,000, which bonds were issued for the purpose of borrowing money for the finishing, completing and operating of the Erie Railways. Yours, &c.,

MORTIMER SMITH, Assistant Secretary.

STOCKS STRONG AND DULL.

The stock market was intensely dull. Transactions were entirely confined to the clique brokers, who marked prices up in two or three of the leading shares, the general market sympathizing with the advance. As we said a few days since, there are only two classes of persons interested—the "bull" cliques on the one side and the straggling "short" interest, or professional "bears," on the other. The outside community have seldom been so little represented in the market. A dull, strong tone prevailed throughout, and prices at the close were, as a rule, the best of the day. The following table shows the extreme range of quotations for the leading stocks:—

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

FRIDAY, June 30—6 P. M.

ASHES.—The market was steady, but the demand continued slow, and sales were confined to small lots at $6 75 a $7 25 for pots and $9 a $9 75 for pearls.

CANDLES.—The market was moderately active and steady at 13c. a 15c. for adamantine, 29c. for plain sperm, 29c. for patent do. and 28c. a 29c. for stearic.

COPPER.—The demand for American ingot continued active and prices were firm. The sales reached 500,000 lbs. at from 21⅛c. a 21⅜c. Manufactured was steady, with a fair demand, at 19c. a 21c. for old sheathing, 30c. for new do., 36c. a 39c. for nails, 32c. for bolts, 22c. for yellow metal new sheathing, 24c. for do. bolts and 22c. for do. nails.

COFFEE.—The market for Rio was active, and prices advanced ⅛c. per lb., with light offerings at the improvement. The sales were 2,024 bags, per John Shay, and in Baltimore 4,800 bags per Peggy, 835 per Paladin, 647 bags per Robert C. Wright, 3,100 bags per Echo, 897 bags per Elverton, and 274 bags per Wavelet. Other kinds were decidedly firmer, but not higher. 200 bags Maracaibo sold on private terms. We quote:—Rio, ordinary cargoes, 10⅛c. a 10⅝c.; fair do., 11c. a 11⅛c.; good do., 11⅜c. a 11⅝c.; prime do., 12⅛c. a 12⅜c.; extreme range for lots, 10⅛c. a 12⅜c., all gold, per lb., in bond, thirty to sixty days' credit. Java (government bags), 18c. a 20c.; do. (grass mats), 18⅛c. a 22c.; Singapore, 17c. a 18c.; Ceylon, 15⅛c. a 17c.; Maracaibo, 13c. a 17c.; Laguayra, 14c. a 16c.; Jamaica, 13c. a 15⅛c.; St. Domingo (gold, in bond), 9⅞c. a 10c.; Costa Rica, 13⅛c. a 17c.; Manila, 14c. a 15c.; Mexican, 13c. a 17c.; Savanilla, 12c. a 15⅛c.; Curacoa, 13c. a 15c., all gold, thirty to sixty days' credit, duty paid.

COTTON.—The market, stimulated by favorable news from Liverpool, was more active and decidedly higher—all grades experiencing a sharp advance of ⅛c. per lb. The demand for cotton on the spot was, however, only moderate at the improvement, and the market closed quiet but very firm, with small offerings. The sales were as follows:—

	To-Day.	Last Evening.	Total.
Export	191	162	353
Consumption	1,479	94	1,573
Speculation	426	—	426
In transit	1,550	—	1,550
Total	3,646	256	3,902

Included in the above are 34 bales to arrive. We quote:—

	Uplands.	Alabama.	New Orleans.	Texas.
Ordinary	15⅛	15⅜	15⅜	16
Good ordinary	18	18⅛	18⅛	18⅜
Low middling	19⅛	20	20⅛	20⅛
Middling	20⅜	20⅞	21⅛	21⅛
Good middling	21⅜	21⅛	22⅛	22⅜

—The quotations are based on cotton running in quality not more than half a grade above or below the grade quoted. Forward deliveries were in active speculative request and prices were higher, closing, however, with the improvement partially lost and less active. The sales to-day amounted to 13,650 bales, on the basis of low middling, as follows:—July, 400 at 19⅞c., 800 at 20c., 700 at 20 1-16c., 1,200 at 20⅛c., 200 at 20⅛c., 300 at 20⅛c., 200 at 20 1-16c.; August, 750 at 20⅛c., 400 at 20 5-16c., 1,900 at 20⅜c., 1,000 at 20⅛c., 200 at 20 7-16c., 600 at 20⅛c., 300 at 20 5-16c., 600 at 20⅛c., 100 at 20c., 100 at 20 3-16c., 300 at 20⅛c., 300 at 20 1-16c.; September, 400 at 19⅞c., 100 at 19⅞c., 600 at 19⅞c., 200 at 19⅞c.; October, 400 at 18⅞c., 100 at 18 13-16c., 100 at 18⅞c., 200 at 18 11-16c.; November, 1,200 at 18⅛c., 100 at 18⅞c. Yesterday, after 'Change, 3,500 bales were disposed of as follows:—July, 100 at 19⅞c., 200 at 19 15-16c., 600 at 19⅞c.; August, 300 at 20c., 700 at 20 1-16c., 600 at 20⅛c.; September, 200 at 19⅞c.; 800, September, at 19⅞c. and 300, November, at 18⅛c., together; October, 100 at 18⅞c.; November, 100 at 18⅛c.; total since last report, 17,150 bales. The average quotations of yesterday's forward deliveries were as follows:—June, 19⅞c.; July, 19.91c.; August, 20.06c.; September, 19.50c.; October, 18⅞c.; November, 18.17c.; December, 18⅛c. The receipts at the ports to-day sum up as follows:—Galveston, 546; New Orleans, 1,797; Mobile, 161; Savannah, estimated 250; Charleston, 332; Wilmington, 40; Norfolk, 386; Baltimore, 293; New York, 133, and Boston, 96 bales. Total, 4,024 bales. Same day last week 4,425 bales. Same day last year 1,645 bales. Rates for cotton freight to foreign ports closed thus:—To Liverpool, by steam, ¼d.; by sail, 5-32d.; to Havre, by steam, 1c., gold; sail, ⅜c.; to Hamburg, by steam, ⅞d.; sail, 5-16d., compressed; to Bremen, by steam, ⅞c., gold, compressed; sail, ⅞c.; to Baltic ports, by sail, ⅞c., gold. The stock of cotton at this port on June 30 is shown by actual count to be only 53,560 bales, as follows:—In warehouses, 51,499 bales; on shipboard, not cleared, 850 bales; on wharf, 1,216 bales, and in Jersey City, 95 bales.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.—Receipts—Flour, 11,667 bbls.; wheat, 67,015 bushels; corn, 172,201 do.; corn meal, 339 bags; oats, 51,623 bushels. The flour market continued dull. There was considerable offering, but very little demand. We have only to note sales of about 8,000 bbls. at our quotations. Rye flour was quiet, but steady; small lots of superfine sold at $5 40 a $5 55. Corn meal continued in moderate demand and steady; sales of 300 bbls. Jersey and yellow Western at from $3 75 to $3 75. We quote:—

—Wheat was dull, nominal and lower. The sales were only about 89,000 bushels at $1 45 a $1 46 for prime No. 2 spring. Small lots sold at $1 47, No. 1 do. nominally $1 48, new amber winter $1 67 a $1 70, and choice white Michigan $1 80. Corn continued active and steady. The sales were about 218,000 bushels at 71⅛c. a a 72c. for Western mixed, and 75c. for Western yellow. The sales were mostly at 72c. a 72⅛c. Oats were steady and in moderate demand at 65c. a 65⅞c. for Western, and 68c. a 70c. for white Ohio car loads and afloat. The sales were about 65,000 bushels. Barley—Entirely nominal. No demand, and no stock here. Rye dull. Nominally 91c. for Canada in bond, and State $1 05 a $1 10.

FREIGHTS.—The market continued quiet. There was very little inquiry for room, either by steam or sail, and rates for grain were easier. A moderate chartering business was effected at steady rates. The engagements were:—To Liverpool, by steam, 20,000 bushels corn at 7⅛d. a 7⅜d., and 15,000 bushels do., for next week's steamer, at 8d., and by sail 15,000 bushels grain at 6⅛d. The charters comprise a bark hence to Cadiz, staves and general cargo, on private terms; a bark from Philadelphia to Marseilles, 3,600 bbls. crude petroleum, 5s.; a British brig hence to Gibraltar, for orders, 2,400 bbls. refined petroleum on private terms; a ship hence to Cronstadt direct, 6,000 bbls. refined petroleum, 4s. 6d.; a British bark, hence to Antwerp, 3,200 bbls. naphtha, 4s. 9d.; a bark to Montevideo, lumber, $18 50 and five per cent primage; a British bark and a brig from Baltimore to Aspinwall, coal, $7; a brig to north side Cuba, coal, $3; a schooner and a British brig to the Windward, 50c. per bbl; a bark, 700 hhds. of tobacco, hence to Cork for orders, on private terms.

GUNNIES.—Considerable business was transacted in cloth, but at a slightly reduced price. The sales since our last have been about 700 bales at 16⅛c. a 16⅜c. Bags continue quiet at 13⅛c. a 14c. Messrs. G. Tuckerman & Co. report the stock as follows:—New York, 11,120 bales of cloth and 6,600 bales of bags, and in Boston, 9,076 bales of cloth and 8,279 do. of bags.

HEMP AND JUTE.—The market for both foreign and domestic hemp continued quiet but unchanged. Jute was in better demand, and 500 bales of rejections sold to arrive at Boston for 5c. and 500 bales of jute butts at 4c. cash. We quote:—Dressed American, $2 60 a $2 85 per ton; undressed do., $1 85 a $1 90 per ton; Manila, 11c. a 11⅛c., gold; Sisal, 9c. a 9⅛c., do.; Tampico, 7⅛c., gold in bond and Sunn, 6⅛c. a 7c., currency; jute, 5⅛c. a 6⅛c., gold and jute butts, 4c. a 4⅛c., currency.

HAY AND STRAW.—Shipping hay was only moderately active, while retail quantities met with ready sales, quoted at $1 05 for shipping and $1 20 a $1 45 for retail quantities. Straw steady at $1 70 a $1 60 for long rye, $1 20 a $1 30 for short rye and $1 for oat.

IRON.—The market for Scotch pig was decidedly firmer. The cheap lots which have of late depressed the market were either withdrawn by holders or sold, and at present no considerable lots can be purchased under $33 for Glengarnock from yard, $32 for Glengarnock from dock, $32 for Eglinton from yard and $31 50 for Eglinton from dock. The sales comprise 400 tons Glenock, in lots, at $31 50 a $32; 300 tons Eglinton, on private terms; 100 tons No. 1 Coltness, at $30 50, 75 tons Glengarnock, at $31 25, cash, and 200 tons No. 1 crane, for August delivery, at $35 75. American pig was scarce and firmly held at $35 for No. 1, at which price 200 tons were sold in lots, and $33 for No. 2. Offers have been made of $35 per ton for 5,000 tons No. 1 American, this season's delivery, and refused. Bar iron was firm at previous full prices. Domestic and English, $74 a $75 per ton, and Swedes, assorted, $80 a $100, gold, per ton.

LEAD.—The market for pig was firm at $6 12½ a $6 15 for Spanish and German and $6 15 a $6 50 for English, without important sales. Refined was firm at $8 75 a $9 per ton for bars and $10 2 for sheet.

MOLASSES continued dull of sale, and for cargo invoices prices were quite nominal in the absence of sales. A small jobbing demand was supplied at full prices. We quote:—

	Old Crop.	New Crop.
Cuba—Centrifugal and mixed	20c. a 22c.	25c. a 30c.
Clayed	21c. a 23c.	35c. a 41c.

Porto Rico	— a —	38c. a 60c.
English Islands	— a —	35c. a 48c.
New Orleans	— a —	40c. a 70c.

NAVAL STORES.—The demand for spirits turpentine was small, but prices were steady, with sales of 25 bbls. from dock at 4⅛c. and 66 bbls. from yard at 47c. Rosin was firmer and large lots were exceedingly difficult of purchase. We note sales 1,500 bbls. strained at $2 75, 800 bbls. do. at $2 80, 100 bbls. No. 2 at $3 12½ a $3 25 and 500 bbls. extra pale at $7. Tar was firm, but not in demand. Small lots were sold at $3 25 for Washington and $3 75 for Wilmington.

PETROLEUM.—The market for both crude and refined was remarkably quiet. The offerings were small, and no demand was noticeable for either. Prime, however, was steady. Crude held at 14⅛c. a 14⅜c., and refined, for prompt delivery, at 25⅛c.; July, last half, at 26c., and August do., 26⅛c. There were no sales reported. It being the last of the month parties were busily engaged delivering contracts. The Philadelphia market was quiet but firm. Crude held at 13⅛c. a 13⅜c., for shipping, and refined, for prompt delivery, at 25⅛c. a 25⅜c. There were no sales reported. [Note.—The Exchange will adjourn from Saturday until Wednesday, the 5th of July.]

PROVISIONS.—Receipts—Pork, 60 bbls.; cut meats, 144 packages, and lard, 410 bbls. and tierces. The pork market continued active. It opened with sales of 250 bbls. mess at $15 50, cash, and afterwards 1,000 bbls. do. sold for $15 62½ a $15 75, cash. For future delivery 1,250 bbls. sold for August at $15 75 a $15 87½, the market closing firm at the advance. Bacon was quiet but steady. Sales 200 boxes heavy long clear at 7⅛c. We quote:—Short clear, 8⅛c. a 8⅛c.; long do., 7⅞c. a 8c.; short rib, 8c.; Cumberland cut, 7c. a 7⅛c.; Stratford and Birmingham, 8⅛c. a 8⅛c. Beef quiet at $8 a $13 for mess, $14 a $16 for extra mess, $18 a $23 for prime mess, tierces, and $24 a $26 for Indian mess, tierces. Beef hams were dull and nominal. Cut meats—There continues a fair demand for local wants, but otherwise the market was quiet. We quote:—Dry salted shoulders, 6c. a 6⅛c.; clear bellies, 8c.; bellies, 7⅛c.; backs, 7⅛c. a 8c. Hams—Long cut and short cut were nominal; sugar cured and smoked hams, 14c. a 16c. Lard was very quiet. There was very little offering and no demand. The market closed firm at 10⅞c. a 11c. for prime Western steam and kettle. Butter was quiet and unchanged; offered at 27c. a 31c. for State half tubs and firkins, 25c. a 26c. for Welsh tubs and 22c. a 28c. for choice Western. Cheese was quiet and nominally 12c. for choice factory.

RICE was without decided change. The sales reached 550 bags, in jobbing lots, at 7c. a 7⅛c. for Rangoon and 7⅛c. a 7⅞c. for Patna. Carolina was neglected, occasional small lots at 8⅛c. a 9⅛c.

SPELTER was neglected, but holders were firm in their views and prices were unchanged, closing at $5 87½ a $6 25, gold, per 100 lbs. for foreign, and 7c. a 11c. per lb. for domestic.

SUGAR.—The market was 1-16c. per lb. in sellers' favor, closing strong at the improvement, with a firm demand. The sales comprised 1,600 hhds. and 500 boxes, including 600 hhds. prime refining at 9.55c., and 301 boxes centrifugal at 10⅛c. per lb. RUM AND ROWDYISM.

Death of the Boy McCann, Shot by Joseph Ozab.

Yesterday afternoon information was received from Captain Cameron, of the Eighteenth precinct, that Peter McCann, the youth of sixteen years of age, who was shot by Joseph Ozab, as heretofore published in the HERALD, had died in Bellevue Hospital, at half-past eleven o'clock in the morning. At a late hour on Monday night last deceased and his brother Patrick and Timothy McCarthy entered Ozab's saloon, 308 avenue A, and ordered refreshments, for which they refused to pay. Ozab, being unable to get the money due him, ordered the men to leave his place, but that they refused to do, and commenced an indiscriminate assault on him with weapons. Finding himself hard pressed, and believing his life to be in danger, Ozab drew his revolver and fired three shots, one of which took effect in the right temple of the boy McCann and passed into his brain, immediately reducing him to unconsciousness, in which condition he remained up to the time of his death.

Ozab and one or two others are in custody. Coroner Schirmer has the case in charge and will hold an inquest in a day or two. In the meantime Joseph Cushman, M. D., will make a post-mortem examination on the body of deceased. Ozab still insists that he did not use the pistol until he thought his own life was in peril.

THE HONEST HACKMEN.

Meeting of the Association to Organize a Cheap Hackney System.

An association has been formed among the hackmen for the purpose of conveying passengers and their baggage for fifty cents each to any point between the Battery and Twenty-seventh street. The agents of the association are to be known by a badge worn upon the hat marked "Association Carriages." The association met last evening at 129 Spring street to perfect their arrangements. Some 213 members have already signified their intention of joining.

A committee, consisting of Messrs. Reid, Nesbitt, Harris, Marrion and Yuill, were appointed to wait on the Mayor for the purpose of ascertaining whether hotel coaches come under the same law that hackney coaches do, and whether it is legal for non-residents of the State to obtain licenses. The association will commence operations on Thursday next, July 6. The officers are as follows:—President, John W. Marrion; Secretary, J. Phillips; Treasurer, James Naughton.

VETERANS OF THE GULF.

Reunion of the Army and Navy Association at Newport.

The brilliancy of the season at Newport will be largely increased on the 7th of July by the presence of hundreds of the gallant heroes of the war, who distinguished themselves as officers of the Army and Navy of the Gulf, the occasion being the annual reunion of the society. The gallant cavalry commander, Phil Sheridan, will preside at the business meeting to be held at the Academy of Music at noon of the 7th. The literary exercises will take place at the Academy at seven o'clock P. M., when an oration will be delivered by Colonel Granville P. Hawes, of New York, a poem will be recited by Mr. H. H. Brownell, of Rhode Island, and a memorial address on the life of the late Admiral Farragut will be made by the Rev. Dr. H. E. Montgomery, of New York. The grand banquet will occur at the Ocean House at nine o'clock the same evening. As the railway companies will issue tickets at reduced fares it is expected that the attendance of the veterans will be larger than at any previous reunion of this renowned association.

DEATH FROM HYDROPHOBIA.

Coroner Schirmer was yesterday called to No. 21 Essex street to hold an inquest on the body of Frederick Otto, a German, thirty-one years of age, who died from hydrophobia. Deceased, a carman by occupation, some time ago was bitten by his own dog, which was killed immediately, and but little more thought of the circumstance till the horrible malady recently developed itself. Dr. Steiger, of Allen street, was called to attend Mr. Otto, and after his death gave a certificate, which, however, was not accepted by the Board of Health.

EDUCATIONAL.

Exhibition in Modern Languages and Telegraphing—Distribution of Medals and Prizes.

Our best suburban seminaries have managed as a rule to nestle themselves along the steep banks of the Hudson River. The location is healthy, and it is certainly something for a youth to learn the teachings of letters and science in the presence of the majestic scenery of the sweeping stream. A very pleasant location indeed has Mr V. Prevost's Institute for youths, and a lovely day he had yesterday for airing the merits of his system of tuition. A not very large but of ladies and gentlemen, most of them relatives of the students, assembled yesterday to witness the exhibition and distribution of prizes. Among the ladies present it was easy to mark the daughters of Spain and France, as distinguished from their fairer German and American sisters, and yet brunette and blonde were well represented in their types of beauty.

As the name of the institute would indicate, particular stress is laid on

FRENCH AND OTHER MODERN LANGUAGES.

While mathematics and natural sciences are not forgotten, it is a pity a more thorough classic groundwork is not given, which would be of such immense use in the study of all Romanic languages. Thus, while highly creditable exhibitions were made in Spanish French and German, the only Latin translated was from the first page or two of the first book of "Cæsar's Commentaries." A very creditable feature to notice was the proficiency of the young gentlemen in music, their piano playing calling forth much commendation. The boys were mostly young, and much could not be expected from them in elocution, but in their linguistic recitations and clear enunciation of the foreign idioms were noticeable. A young Spaniard can certainly learn French with comparative ease, but it requires hard work to teach him German, and in this M. Prevost has well succeeded. A capital paper was read by Mr. C. Mar in of the first class descriptive of the Morse telegraph and its use was demonstrated by

A TRUE PRONUNCIATION

in a series of messages written by the visitors and transmitted from one end of the class room to the other. This is a really useful branch of modern education. Chemistry also has its students, who show considerable technical and practical knowledge in the science. The exercises closed with the distribution of medals and prizes after an address by the Rev. Dr. C. Stoddard. Mr C Lemon won the prize for languages. Messrs. A. Gilbert and E Lacott received respectively the gold and silver medals of the institute for gentlemanly behavior. The prizes, in the form of beautifully bound volumes, were then given out lavishly. There seems, indeed, a disposition in all seminaries to

of some sort or other, the only approximate judge of merit being in the heaps of gilt-edged octavos which the students carry off. A better and more real witness of the advancement was in the certificates of excellency in the various departments of the school. The institution is doing well, as it deserves.

COLLEGE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

Meeting of the Alumni—Election of Officers.

The graduates of this renowned college, which has sent out into the world some of the brightest lights of the legal and medical professions, and editors, authors and professors in profusion, never let the anniversary of the Alumni pass without commemorating the event in a becoming manner.

Yesterday about two hundred members met at the College, corner of Lexington avenue and Twenty-third street, when President Tremaine took the chair. It was noticed as a remarkable circumstance that of the great number present fully nine tenths of the "boys" were brunettes and fully nine tenths of them wore glasses. Prominent among them were Judge Koch, Professor Werner and ex Alderman Hardy, Clerk to Common Council. The usual reports were read and adopted and the graduates of this year welcomed in a neat address by President Tremaine. The report of Judge Koch of the Examining Committee, was especially interesting, as it gave a detailed statement of the system of tuition in the College, but no more so than that of Mr Werner, the historian, which gave interesting details of the members of the Alumni who had reported in answer to circulars. The members later proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing term. Mr H E Tremaine was renominated. He at first positively declined to serve but when unanimously nominated he consented to act. Mr. William Stratford, the present Secretary, was re-elected by acclamation, as was Vice President Mr. L. Cox and Treasurer, Mr. John Knox; Mr. John Hardy on the Committee of Students' Aid Fund, Adolph Werner, S J Jelliffe and Fred J Depeyster, Auditors. Mr. DePeyster was unanimously chosen historian—a position he is said to be remarkably fitted for owing to his familiarity with the affairs of the college. The members of the Executive Committee at Large chosen were Peter B Wright, William B Banks and Judge Koch. The various classes went into ballots and selected their respective members of the Executive Committee. A collation in the college building followed, which was noted for the flow of wit and wisdom and a good time generally.

Although the College of the city of New York cannot for some years to come celebrate its centennial it has already been most creditably represented by its alumni in almost every field of science and art, and can justly claim a prominent position among the educational institutions of the nation.

ST. GABRIEL'S FEMALE SCHOOL.

The annual examination and exhibition of St. Gabriel's Female Parochial School, East Thirty-sixth street, was last night concluded by the exercises of the first department. In honor of the occasion the schoolroom was tastefully decorated with flags and presented quite a pleasant and lively appearance. For the nonce the ferule has disappeared, or was quietly laid away till after the holidays, and the youthful faces of the pupils were lighted up by a joyous satisfaction which no thought of task or birch clouded. From their places on the platform they smiled down on the audience in a diffident manner that told of pleasure, not unmixed by embarrassment. No doubt was uppermost in their minds as they stood before their friends and acquaintances in all the glory of white muslin dresses and broad blue or pink sashes. They felt they were pretty and interesting, and that knowledge appeared from time to time on some crimson check as a nod of recognition came from among the audience. The good Sisters of Charity who have charge of that school were present and seemed to take immense delight in the proficiency of their pupils although in

A QUIET SUBDUED MANNER.

The exercises commenced with a grand chorus from Handel by the pupils, which was excellently given. An examination in Christian doctrine followed, which afforded an opportunity to the young ladies to display how well the Sisters had grounded them in the principles of their faith. Examinations in arithmetic, algebra, quadratic equations, English grammar, &c, followed and exhibited a very creditable state of proficiency on the part of the pupils. After the examinations were ended a grand chorus was given. The most pleasing part of the proceedings, as far as the young ladies were concerned, however came on in the theatrical representations.

"WHO SHALL BE OUR ROSIERE?"

a drama, was the first piece produced, in which the different characters were well sustained by the Misses McWilliams, Boylan, Sayler, Crowley, Dolan, Grady, Darcy, Brady, Casey and Carrol. This piece was followed by a chorus, and then another drama, entitled "The Disputed Will," was put on the boards, in which Misses Daw or Tyrell, Lawler, Darcy, Boylan, Cumisky, O'Connor and Darlington appeared. The dramatic part of the entertainment was brought to a close by a third drama, entitled "Virtue Rewarded," the comedy and lighter pieces being carefully excluded.

The exhibition was brought to a close by an address from Mr Kiddle, Superintendent of the Public Schools, who spoke in high terms of commendation of the proficiency of the pupils, and paid a well merited compliment to the zeal and ability of who instruct them so successfully in spiritual as well as temporal knowledge. Mr Lawrence D. Kiernan, Clerk of the Department of Public Instruction also addressed the pupils and while complimenting them on their satisfactory progress administered to them some excellent advice. Then the pupils and their friends scattered to their homes, well content with the result of the year's labors.

RUTGERS COLLEGE ALUMNI.

At a recent annual meeting of the Alumni Association of Rutgers College, New Brunswick, N. J., Mr. Richard L. Larremore, Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, was elected President of the association for the ensuing year.

BRAINED WITH A DUMBBELL.

George H Ward, who resides in Ninth avenue, between Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth streets, went last night with a friend to the house of Mrs. Hollans, 667 Third avenue, and while there a man named Alexander Ives, who boards in the house, without any provocation whatever, struck him a heavy blow on the head with a dumbbell, fracturing his skull. Ward was removed to Bellevue Hospital and Ives to the lock up.

POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE.

National Issues—Another Letter from John Quincy Adams—The Reformation of the Northern Democracy—Advice to the Democracy of the South—How They "Accept the Situation."

[From the Augusta (Ark.) Bulletin.]

Some short time since we wrote a letter to this gentleman upon political [illegible], [illegible] express[ing], among other things, the [illegible] with Grant's vast patronage most unscrupulous [illegible] would not yield the President's chair, even [illegible] before the [illegible] in 1872, and that our republic [illegible] its predecessors of old is so rapidly drifting [illegible] the channels of corruption that the people in despair [illegible] look to one military chief as the only means of [illegible] them from the utter ruin threatened by another. This [illegible] the general scope of our letter, to which the following is a reply. It will be seen that Mr Adams who represents the [illegible] political party of New England, endorses the Vallandigham policy, and [illegible] who [illegible] the South is, can she have her [illegible] throws off her [illegible] in New England, Pennsylvania, Ohio and the other States? They "accept the situation," not because it is right and just but because it is imposed upon them by a force they cannot resist. Read Mr Adams' letter:—

QUINCY, Mass, June 5, 1871.

DEAR SIR—I cannot pass over silently a letter which gratifies me as much as yours, which I received to-day and yet I feel shy of speaking to you or any citizen of the "subject States." I dislike to earn the retort, "Oh, it is very easy to preach, but suffer as we have and then tell us how you feel, and we will listen." I do try to take it home to myself; and I do not doubt that, in similar circumstances, I should be to-day an "unrepentant rebel"—sore, angry, beaten and defiant. And with me it would doubtless have been as it has been with you that "the tender mercies of reconstruction had been harder to bear than all the horrors of invasive war." I should have been galled by misgovernment, robbed by imported knavery of the pittance which the war had spared, exasperated by wilful and persistent misrepresentation and cruelly condemned to hopeless impotence for the imputed guilt of cowardly crimes I abhorred. I should have been condemned, too, to hold my personal liberty at the nod of a mercenary carpet-bagger or the whim of a military satrap. I say that I fear I should have been an "irreconcilable." In such a case I think I should be sulky, but I know I should be silly if I yielded to the feeling. For whence must my relief come if my last estate is not to become worse than the first? Is there a man outside an asylum who thinks that by such a course the "lost cause" can be regained? By whom, then? If by the North believe me that the experiment of secession has satisfied us that no cause is worth a civil war. That war has confirmed beyond a shadow of a turning, the destiny which decreed that there shall be but one confederated people of the North American Union. No Rebellious I might be, but weak enough to await the resurrection of secession I do not think I could be. You and I and your friends and neighbors and mine are of one blood, we were once "fellow citizens," and the old time kindness must linger yet, in spots. Our fathers were "brethren," and that must count for something. The whole political problem of the future turns upon the answer to the question, "Shall we live together as friends or enemies?" Now the whole internal policy of the present administration says war. Reconstruction meant war; and the Ku Klux bill declared war. This Union is now held together by force. Certainly, if this is to be permanent, it would have been better to have parted at first. If the struggle to cast out slavery overthrew the constitution what chance is there for a "free" government if the North is to rule the South? South Carolina is to-day the most shameless parody on republican institutions since republican Rome bestrode all the nations of the ancient world, put the sword to their throats, stripped them bare, and then lacked words to laud the loveliness of liberty. You cannot be subject and we be long free. The untrammelled exercise of local self-government by the people of the States is the salt which preserves our whole system. Take that away and our frame of polity will rapidly rot into despotism. Therefore it is that, not as a partisan but wholly as a fellow citizen, I trust that all the good citizens of the seceded States will frankly and honestly accept the revolutionary changes which have been forced upon the constitution and with them cheerfully adopt the new relations of amity and political and civil equality towards the emancipated class which these changes involve. And therefore I am glad when I see the noble spirit of your letter pervading the Southern people as it does, despite the malignity of a partisan press, while the sterling sense of Mr. Vallandigham has reformed the Northern democracy. And it matters not what man may be chosen to lead us so long as his heart is large enough to hold his whole country; his soul brave enough to embrace a Confederate as a brother and his platform wide enough for every American citizen to stand upon. To compass this end something of sacrifice is required of us all, much of self control is demanded of the South. You and all I hear assure me that the attempt will be made, and if made honestly and in earnest, it cannot fail. Again thanking you for your letter, I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

J Q. ADAMS

To J T TREZEVANT, Augusta, Ark.

[From the Boston Advertiser, June 30.]

In the event of the Governor Claflin refusing to accept, and in that event alone as it seems to us, there would be a sharp contest for the succession. Dr Loring's conversation at Salem places him in the field, with an alert and well organized support. The name of General Butler is occasionally mentioned—oftener, however, with apprehension than with any reasonable expectation that he could be nominated. If the present delegation in Congress were to furnish a candidate either Mr Dawes or Mr. Washburn would be universally acceptable on personal grounds, would strengthen republicanism in Massachusetts, and bring to the chief magistracy the integrity and high character traditionally associated with that office. To neither of these gentlemen however, would the office be worth contending for, and we presume they would not consent to any contest in their behalf. In the eastern part of the State several gentlemen have been named, probably without reference to their wishes, whose nomination would be eminently satisfactory and creditable to the State; but they, too, would be slow to be put in the position of candidates waiting for a nomination, or to take any part in the quarrels of factions into which a strong party in power is unavoidably divided. Among these the name of Judge Hoar would be a tower of strength to any party. The nomination of Alexander H Rice would not only give profound satisfaction to the great majority of republicans, but would secure a chief magistrate whose past services to the city and the Commonwealth pre-eminently merit such a recognition. Mr. Jewell, from his experience and influence in the Legislature for several years, has made many friends throughout the State, who hope at some early day to see him advanced to the Governorship. And there may be others of whose leadership no one would speak but with respect and praise.

CANING A COMMODORE.

The Cooper Union Students Acknowledging Artistic Ability.

Commodore B. F. Brady, of the Hudson Amateur Navy, was invited by the "Testimonial Committee" of the Cooper Union students to betake himself, on Thursday night last, to "Where the woodbine twineth," at the corner of Thirteenth street and Sixth avenue. The Commodore had engrossed the very elaborately ornate testimonial lately presented by the students of the Union to their patron, Mr Peter Cooper, and as he had every reason to feel proud of his work he thought there must be something pleasant to occur under the shades of the Woodbine. He gave his hair an extra brushing, polished his forehead, dressed his extensive mustache and got himself up in such a manner as might engross the attention of anybody. The committee appeared at the Woodbine shortly after nine o'clock and taking the Commodore to a private room presented him a handsome gold headed cane. Mr Ives, on behalf of the committee made the presentation speech and said that the committee had unanimously decided to give Mr Brady the work of preparing the testimonial to be presented to Mr Cooper, and considering the quality and amount of matter to be disposed of and the limited time in which it was to be done it had been so beautifully executed that the committee on behalf of the graduates and the entire school deemed something more than mere pecuniary compensation was owing, and they therefore selected the cane which they hoped Mr Brady might be long able to swing and have no occasion to lean upon it.

Mr Brady thanked the committee and accepted the gift in a very neat speech after which the committee with Mr F. Fitzgerald of the Cooper Union, and other friends passed a pleasant evening, with the aid of soft shell crabs and other delicacies of Nolan's cuisine.

A MODERN LUCRETIA BORGIA.

Extraordinary Allegations Against a Connecticut Woman—She is Charged with Despatching Three Husbands and Four Children—Her Arrest in Jersey.

From the ancient town of New Brunswick, in New Jersey comes a sensation fraught with the horrible, excelling in the latter quality the famous "King Lear" case. There was arrested yesterday in the town, at the railroad depot, a woman named Lydia Sherman, of middle age, and not altogether unprepossessing in appearance, on the extraordinary charge of having caused the taking off of no less than three husbands and four children.

Mrs Sherman, it seems has been stopping in New Brunswick for the last three weeks with some friends. Her home is in Derby a place somewhere near New Haven, Conn. but it is several months since she left there. Five or six years ago, in the month of August, she married a native of Connecticut, but before a great while suddenly became a widow. Again she married, and again her husband died in [a] manner

NO LESS SUDDEN THAN MYSTERIOUS.

Once again the "disconsolate" widow took comfort in uniting herself to a gentleman named Wilson H Sherman, a widower, with no children of his own. Some four or five months since he, too, followed the other two husbands, and under circumstances that created

STILL GREATER SURPRISE.

Subsequently his two children and two of her own dropped quietly into their graves one by one. The excitement occasioned in Derby was so great that after she had left several of the bodies were exhumed, and, as alleged, unmistakable evidences of poison discovered. The authorities of New Brunswick were communicated with, and requested to keep a sharp eye on the woman's movements. Yesterday Deputy Sheriff Henry A Blakeman, of New Haven, armed with a requisition from Governor Jewell, of Connecticut, and countersigned by Governor Randolph, of New Jersey, arrived in New Brunswick, and, with the aid of the local authorities, effected the

CAPTURE OF THE WOMAN.

She had just dropped off the five minutes past one train in company with a female friend. When informed of her arrest she took the matter exceedingly cool. She was dressed in a light summer suit and a neat jockey hat. She was taken to New Haven. These are the particulars gathered from Deputy Sheriff Blakeman. Whether the examination of the woman will bear out the terrible suspicion now entertained remains to be seen.

PLYMOUTH LECTURE ROOM.

Mr. Beecher's Review of His Ministry.

Mr. Beecher gave his last "talk" last night previous to the summer vacation. He reviewed his ministry and brought out some interesting opinions from the brethren concerning his methods of preaching. He said:—If I live till a year from next October I shall have been the pastor of this church a quarter of a century. No man can look back over such a work without a great deal of serious thought. It was not given me to go in the beaten path. I have been obliged to work as I was directed. I do not undertake to say that I always have done for the best, or that I have always been consistent. But there are some thoughts that have grown with me. One is that the Word of God is yet to inspire in us the noblest conception of God and help us best to reach God. I rely upon it more implicitly than ever I did. I attempt to keep abreast of the scientific thoughts of the day and of all the schools, both at home and abroad. Everything else seems to me like chaff when compared to the Bible when it comes to the relations of the soul to God. All the knowledge that I see substituted for it is in the words of the apostle. I also have a growing sense of the universal need of every human heart—of the sinfulness of man and his need of God at every step. That is a growing feeling, and out of this comes pity. I abhor wickedness, but less and less do I abhor wicked people. I also stand strong in the conviction of the power of the grace of God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, to regenerate the heart. I believe that men do find Christ personally; that there is a vital union of the soul to Christ. With these great truths what ought to be the genius of man's ministry—intellectual? ought it to arouse men by the power of conscience and fear? I admit that fear has its place. But it was not given to me to work by either of these methods, but it was given to me to preach

THE BEST BOOK

A KNOWLEDGE THAT PUFFETH UP,

HOPE AND LOVE.

Now it becomes to me a painful question to know if my method has been the best. I have felt, and I feel more and more confident that the power of love and sympathy, trust and hope, is the strongest. I think that these elements make the most beautiful character. I have noticed in my own ministry that this way of giving the truth has had great power over outcasts. A great many who had thrown off all restraint, here found the beginning of a new life. In the next place this mode of administration has tended to develop a type of Christian character that is joyful and courageous. It has had a tendency to banish asceticism. You will seldom hear in our meetings the incessant declaration of one's own sinfulness and the sins of one's neighbors. A man should not forever ruminate his sins.

THE SENSE OF SIN

should give a man an uplift. The apostle says—"Forgetting the things that are behind." I think this preaching produces as much activity as any other. I don't think that men converted under the pressure of fear average as well as those under sympathy and love. Love is God's blood, and

THOSE WHO HAVE LOVE CAN WORK

and never tire, for love never fails and everything else does. I am satisfied that in the main I have been on the right track, though I have failed to come up to my idea, and I believe that the Church of the future will preach more and more God's victorious love.

A "BROTHER" expressed the opinion that Mr Beecher might preach more about conscience and justice to advantage to which

Mr BEECHER replied—"You agree pretty much with me. My preaching isn't perfect. I have had that opinion a long time." I should like to hear, he continued whether the Gospel as preached here sweetens men in their business where they live on the love principle. That is the aim of my preaching. Preaching means business or it means nothing. It is the emptiest work if it doesn't show in character. To say I preach splendid sermons is well enough but if my preaching doesn't result in character it isn't worth anything. What I glory in is the growing up of men beginning to be like Christ. I don't believe any of you undervalue my preaching as much as I do myself. I feel all the time as if I was underdoing my work. I never have begun to attain to that which hovers before me, always just before and always eluding me.

UNCERTAINTIES OF THEOLOGY.

Vagaries of a Variable Vicar.

Things worldly and profane are liable to change and receive impressions from the stronger and more attractive bodies that surround them, and so, it would appear, do things and men who have to deal only with salvation and care of souls. It is not an infrequent thing to see a man of profound learning and cultivated mind secede from the faith of his childhood and adopt a church's rubric that was hitherto opposed to his belief, but it is a most unusual thing to see a minister of the Gospel turn from one faith to another and then after a trial, go back again to his former fold. This has been the case with Dr. Forbes, who, it is believed, has caused so much trouble to the trustees of the General Protestant Episcopal Seminary. This body held a meeting Monday night, the object of which was to consider a pamphlet written by one of the faculty making serious charges against the Dean of the Seminary, Dr. J. Murray Forbes.

Among the other charges made are that Dr. Forbes keeps aloof from and does not know or care to know the students and that he does not attend prayers as often as twice a week. Besides attacking his efficiency his learning and general conduct are assailed. Bishop Atkinson, of North Carolina, at the meeting called the attention of the Board to the pamphlet and asked that a committee of investigation be appointed. A trustee moved and the meeting voted to lay the matter on the table.

Dean Forbes it appears, interpreted this action to be equal to a tacit admission of their belief of the assertions made against him in the pamphlet, and immediately, and, it is said, in a great state of excitement, tendered his resignation and at once left the room.

A scene of confusion and great excitement followed. A part of the meeting, it is reported, sustained Dr Forbes while some of the delegates took decided exception to his course.

The Trustees remained in session all day yesterday. The Doctor insists upon the acceptance of his resignation.

The utmost reticence is shown by all those present at the meeting as to the facts of the case. The death of ex Judge Ellet occurred as already noticed, while he was attending the meeting last night.

It will be remembered that Dr Forbes was formerly pastor of the Episcopal church on Eighth street, opposite Lafayette place, afterwards St. Ann's Roman Catholic church. Dr Forbes joined the Catholics and was appointed parish priest of St. Ann's. During his term as a priest he preached in St Peter's church Barclay street an eloquent and exhaustive argument in favor of the dogma of the Immaculate Conception of the Virgin Mary shortly after its promulgation by Pope Pius IX. Some few years since he renounced Catholicity, rejoined the Episcopal Church, and in course of time was elected Dean of the Seminary. If what has leaked out as part of the proceedings may be taken as evidence the deanship has not been an easy or comfortable position.

WEATHER REPORT.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER
WASHINGTON, July 1—1 A. M.

Synopsis for the Past Twenty-four Hours.

The barometer has fallen since Thursday evening at the Rocky Mountain stations and still more in the northwest, where an area of low pressure at present exists. The barometer has risen on the Atlantic coast and the highest pressure is central in Delaware. The temperature is very generally stationary or lower than on Thursday night. Easterly winds have been generally experienced from New Jersey southward and on the lower lakes. Fresh southerly winds on the upper lakes, and light winds on the Gulf. No reports have been received from Florida, but rain has fallen in portions of Georgia and Alabama, followed at present by clearing up weather. Clear weather has prevailed in the Middle and Eastern States, followed this evening by cloudy and threatening weather, with light rains, which has spread from Minnesota over Lake Superior and Northern Michigan.

Probabilities.

It is probable that the barometer will fall on Saturday from Virginia to Illinois and northward, with cloudy weather. Fresh and brisk winds will probably be experienced on the Upper Lakes and easterly winds continue on the Atlantic coast. Light winds are probable for the Gulf States.

AN OUTLAW ASSASSINATED.

CHICAGO, June 30, 1871.

A noted prize fighter and desperado, who had long been a terror to the people of Central City, Erie and other mining districts in Colorado, was shot dead at Erie on Saturday last by some person unknown. He went by the name of "Looney." On the day previous Looney and a comrade named Jim Gray brutally assaulted and maltreated the Rev. Mr. Van Valkenburgh and another citizen. On Saturday Looney entered a saloon with a huge knife and a revolver, and commenced violent demonstrations against two other persons. While they were thus engaged a rifle ball came whizzing through the open door and struck Looney in the side. He dropped to the floor dead. It is not known who fired the shot; but it is supposed that it was done by a member of the Vigilance Committee raised at Boulder to rid the country of the ruffians there. The death of Looney gives universal satisfaction.

Died.

BERGEN.—Drowned, on Friday, June 30, FREDERICK ISAAC, second son of Alderman Jacob I Bergen, aged 6 years.

The relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral services on Sunday, at half past three o'clock P. M., at the residence of his parents, 405 Sackett street, Brooklyn, without further notice.
